HEREDITARY SCHOLARSHIPS

By Noel C. Stevenson, F.A.S.G.
Member of the State Bar of California

Hereditary rights in human affairs are extremely important. In countries where heraldry and peerage are legally recognized, these hereditary rights are of more than academic interest. The right to bear a surname and to inherit at least personal effects are almost universally recognized. Eligibility to membership in many societies is based primarily on ancestry and, once membership is granted, it is considered by many people as a valuable right. Another hereditary benefit, which is not a "right" in a legal sense, is nevertheless, for practical purposes, just as valuable. This is the hereditary scholarship, eligibility to which is based on ancestry or relationship.

The scope of this article will be to examine the origin and development of some of the several hundred scholarships, consider some of the qualifications for applicants, and discuss the proof of descent or relationship which the administering authority requires of an applicant.

When William Pennoyer of London made his last will and testament in 1670, he provided that income from certain lands he owned in Norfolk should be used for scholarships at "Cambridge College in New England." The beneficiaries, "so often as occasion shall present," were to be of the "line or posterity" of his brother Robert Pennoyer, probably the youth who came from England in 1635 on the Hopewell, and certainly an early settler in Stamford, Conn. This bequest appears to be the earliest of hereditary scholarships in the United States. Harvard College has administered the Pennoyer fund for almost 300 years, the provisions of the will are still applicable, and it is understood that several descendants of Robert Pennoyer have benefited.

A scholarship instituted in 1687 by William Browne of Salem, Mass., and subsequently added to by his sons, is administered by Harvard. Today, descendants of William Browne the 2nd are entitled to a preference.

In 1696, the Hon. Samuel Sewall and his wife Hannah gave to Harvard College a farm of 500 acres at Petaquamscot (Kingston, R.I.), the income to be applied "for and towards the support and education at the said College of such youths whose parents may not be of sufficient ability to maintain them there, especially such as shall be sent from Petaquamscot aforesaid, English or Indians, if any such there be."

Ephraim Flynt created a hereditary scholarship in 1723 of one hundred pounds, "first to my children and posterity if they desire it."

In 1730, Mary Saltonstall made a bequest to Harvard of one thousand pounds, "for the assistance of two persons who shall by the overseers, be esteemed of bright parts, and in good diligence (always a dissenter) to fit them for the service of the Church of Christ.... always provided that if any one related to me by consanguinity be such a one as is above described, he be proposed."

Benjamin Wadsworth, president of Harvard 1725-1737, created a scholarship for the support of some poor scholar, "tho' to no dunce or rake," but provided that an applicant related to him was to be preferred.

In 1852, former students of Phillips Exeter Academy established a scholarship at Harvard, in memory of Dr. Benjamin Abbot, first scholar of the class of 1788, in favor of any immediate descendant of "r. Abbot or his brothers."

Nathaniel Appleton was the donor in 1772 of thirty pounds for a scholarship, any of his posterity to be preferred as beneficiaries.

The bequest of Samuel A. Borden of Warren, Mass., in 1896, is broader than many. To qualify, the applicant must be related by consanguinity or need only bear the name of Borden or Anderson.

In the case of the Bright Legacy instituted in 1880 by Jonathan Brown Bright of Waltham, Mass., eligibility is limited to students of the name of Bright, lineally and legitimately descended from "my Anglo-Saxon ancestor," Henry Bright, Jr., and his wife Anne Goldstone of Watertown, Mass., from 1630 to 1686.

Charles Downer of Sharon, Vermont, provided a scholarship for students who are descendants of the members of the Harvard class of 1889 in need of assistance, and for descendants of graduates of Harvard "of that old Anglo-Saxon stock which has gone forth from New England into all parts of the United States and....been the means of giving strength and stability and character to our government."

A random sampling discloses these additional scholarships, all at Harvard:

Edwards Whitaker, students of Anglo-Saxon birth.
Charles William Eliot, descendants in his direct line.

Henry Flynt, established in 1760, "My relations by blood."

Henry Gibbs, 1722, to his posterity.

Edward Holyoke, president of Harvard 1737-1769, eligibility is based on consanguinity.

Mary Lindall, 1812, "related to me by blood."

William Whiting of Boston, any of his descendants, or descendants of Rev. Samuel Whiting, his first ancestor in America, who shall apply for such aid, "proving such descent."

Benjamin Welles, Harvard class of 1800, "any deserving undergraduate descendant needing financial assistance."

Edward Frederick Slater, descendants preferred, whether as lawful issue or by adoption, and also young white men who are residents of Orangeburg, South Carolina.

William Reed, b. in Newburyport, Mass., March 27, 1818, died at Fall River, Mass., Nov. 7, 1894, limited to descendants.

Rev. George Morey of Walpole, Mass., descendants.

John Coolidge of Watertown, Mass., descendants.

David Ellis and Beulah Newell, formerly of Dedham, Mass., and John Ellis and Hannah Ellis of Walpole, Mass., descendants.

The Baxendale scholarship, created in 1928, prefers (1) descendants of Alan Bedford Hudson, (2) students of the name of Baxendale or Hudson. A third preference is based on residence.

The Frank Knox Memorial provides for scholarships to American and English students. This is one of the largest funds, as in 1957 Harvard held in excess of one and one-half million dollars. Judging from the wording of the conditions, eligibility is based on nationality rather than on ancestry.

A sampling of other scholarships of more recent origin includes the following:

The Slep Foundation, Big Stone Gap, Virginia: eligibility limited to residents of, or descendants of residents of, either Lee or Wise counties, Virginia.

Fifth Marine Division Association: children of veterans who were disabled in service.

Swedish National Federation: applicants must be of Scandinavian descent.

The Oakland Scottish Rite Scaife Scholarship Foundation: both parents of the applicant must be American born.

The Kosciusko Foundation Scholarships: there are six scholarships, either available to "all young Americans" or to "young Americans of Polish extraction."

Insofar as proof of ancestry is concerned, the requirements vary greatly. Generally the applicants are not required to furnish much proof of their ancestry. Only one organization (Harvard) indicated that the services of a genealogist were ever required. In cases where the scholarship is for the benefit of persons of "American" or "Anglo-Saxon" stock, or other national origin, it appears that if the surname and probably the surnames of the applicant's parents are within the range of what is considered "American" or "Anglo-Saxon" that is about all the proof that is needed. Revelatory of what is sometimes required is the degree of proof required of one of the foundations which stipulates that the applicant must be an American of "American born Parents": "We do require an applicant to offer proof of his parents' birthplace; but we just ask questions and accept whatever is stated."

It thus appears that in some cases, because of laxity in the degree of proof required, a dishonest person might be able to fabricate a pedigree or make false statements regarding parentage or family origin, and succeed in obtaining scholarship benefits by fraud. Whether this has ever happened we do not know, but the possibility of such an occurrence would be greatly lessened if genealogists of recognized standing were employed to examine the evidence submitted by applicants for scholarships involving ancestry or national origin.

Editor's Note.—The subject of Mr. Stevenson's article is one about which little has appeared in print. As he is a lawyer of standing, we could wish he had commented on the legal aspects of scholarships depending on specific ancestry or on general ancestral background. We have in mind a recent Supreme Court decision which ruled discriminatory a will of many years ago which established a private school limited to white boys. Possibly a bequest for the benefit of one's future relatives might be held valid, even though for the benefit of persons not in being when the will was written—and who might never come into being. However, in view of the recent decision, what would be the status, if challenged, of restrictions as to white men of Orangeburg, S.C., or those of Scandinavian descent or of Polish extraction? And would not Mary Saltonstall's limitation of her bequest to "a dissenter," meaning a non-member of the English established church, hence a Congregationalist or Presbyterian, be considered religious discrimination?

The oddest restrictions are those which limit the benefits to those of "old Anglo-Saxon stock" and to descendants of "my Anglo-Saxon ancestor," for there was never a race called Anglo-Saxon. The early English belonged to a mixture of Teutonic and Scandinavian tribes which conquered and eventually absorbed the still earlier Celtic-Iberian-Roman inhabitants, and later were diluted by the settlement in England of Norman-French, Irish, Scotch, Welsh, Huguenot French, Dutch, and other strains. Presumably "English" is meant by the term "Anglo-Saxon."

RESEARCH REPORT

28 January 2008

Robert White

The primary goal of this project was to prove that Abigail, daughter of Thomas² Pennoyer, was the wife of Ebenezer³ Reynolds. I think this has been satisfactorily proved. The following narrative outlines the process. We will look first at Thomas Pennoyer's family and then Ebenezer Reynold's family. Finally we will evaluate other theories of Abigail Reynold's identity. You are correct in stating that Warner's article in Nutmegger was the "key." I think we would have arrived at similar conclusions, but the article made the researcher considerably faster. The Nutmegger article will be found in reference document 1.¹

Family of Thomas² Pennoyer

First we needed to establish that Thomas actually had a daughter Abigail, that she married a Reynolds, and that she was the right age to have been the wife of Ebenezer Reynolds. The vital records of Stamford confirm that Thomas Pennoyer and "Lidde Knap" were married on 22 May 1685. Among their children was a daughter Abigail, who was born on 13 October 1686. There is no indication in Stamford vital records that she married or died young. Thomas Pennoyer died in Stamford on 21 November 1724. His wife, Lydia, died there on 9 February 1709/10.²

The will of Thomas Pennoyer is a pivotal document, but locating the will was more difficult than anticipated. Stamford was included in the Fairfield Probate District until the establishment of the Stamford District in 1728. One would think that Thomas's will would be in the old Fairfield District, but searches both in the index to Connecticut probate files and the Fairfield District probate registers found nothing for Thomas. The will was eventually found in the Stamford Probate District, but not where one think to look. For reasons that are not stated, the will was not proved until 16 February 1774, almost 50 years after his death. Thomas Pennoyer executed his will on 13 November 1724, eight days before his death. The following heirs are named:³

son Samuel Penoyer son John Penoyer son Reuben Penoyer daughter Abigail Reynolds daughter Mary Weed

 daughter Mercy Holly
 wife Mary Penoyer

It is now clear that Thomas's daughter Abigail did survive and marry a Reynolds. It was hoped that Stamford deeds would include evidence of a connection between Thomas Penoyer and his Reynolds son-in-law, but no likely documents were found in the Stamford deeds index.⁴ There was, however, one useful document regarding the lands of Abigail Reynolds. On 5 October 1751, a committee of four men, empowered by the proprietors of the Southern Commons of the Town of Stamford "to apprise and Lay out s^d Commons," reported that they had "Laid out to the heirs of Abigail Reynolds Late of Grinwich deceased," one acre and 38 rods of the said common lands adjoining the home lot of Ezra Mead in Stamford. It was further declared that the land was "Laid out on the acc^t and Right of old M^r Moses Knap & of old M^r Thomas penoyers Rights in s^d Stamford by their Lists of estates in s^d Stamford in and for the year 1687."⁵ It is very clear from this document that the land belonged to Thomas Penoyer's daughter, Abigail Reynold. We can further deduce that Abigail lived in Greenwich, she had heirs, and she probably died in or near 1751. She was also very likely a widow, or her husband would have been mentioned in the document.

Family of Ebenezer³ Reynolds

Greenwich vital records were searched for Ebenezer Reynolds or any Reynolds who had a wife named Abigail. The search was also extended to include the death record of Abigail Reynolds, who died before 5 October 1751. Abigail's death record was not found, nor was the marriage of Ebenezer Reynolds found. However, the following children were recorded for Ebenezer in Greenwich:⁶

Deborah	b. 3 Feb 1705
Ebenezer	b. 6 Mar 1706/7
Lidiah	b. 1 Mar 1709/10
Roxanna	b. 3 Feb [—]

The above entries do not prove that Ebenezer Reynolds had a wife Abigail. No wife is mentioned on any of the four birth entries. However, it appears that Ebenezer married about the year 1704, when Abigail Penoyer was about 18 years old. Vital entries show that only David Reynolds had a proven wife Abigail. However, David Reynolds married Abigail Reynolds, probably a cousin, on 4 November 1720.⁷

The will of Ebenezer Reynolds was found in the Stamford Probate District. Ebenezer executed his will on 20 February 1748/9, and it was proved on 2 May 1749. The following heirs are son Enos

daughter Abigail, wife William Johnson daughter Sarah, wife of Peter Peck

The above will not only prove that Ebenezer Reynolds had a wife Abigail, but that she survived him. Hence, she could be the Abigail Reynolds of Greenwich, whose Pennoyer/Knapp land was set out to her heirs in 1751, as described above. The above records strongly suggest that Ebenezer³ Reynolds married Abigail, daughter of Thomas² Pennoyer of Stamford.

Competing Theories

According to Marion H. Reynolds, History and Descendants of John and Sarah Reynolds, Ebenezer³ Reynolds married Abigail, daughter of Ebenezer Smith, in 1704.⁹ But what is the source for this statement? The will of Ebenezer Smith, dated 1 December 1735, proved 6 January 1735/6, says nothing about a daughter Abigail. The only mention of the family is the following phrase: "I do give and bequeath unto my well Respected freind [sic] Sarah Reynolds Daughter of Ebenezer Reynolds of Greenwich that is to say my horse my bridle my chest and six pounds in money. . . ."¹⁰ This will virtually proves that Abigail, wife of Ebenezer³ Reynolds, is not the daughter of Ebenezer Smith. First, Smith does not mention a daughter Abigail, even though she was living in 1735. In fact he mentions no wife or children. With the exception of the bequest to Sarah Reynolds, his estate was divided among his brothers and sisters. Secondly, Sarah was a "well respected friend," hardly an appropriate address for a granddaughter. Finally, Smith fails to mention any of Sarah's siblings. There is nothing in this will that hints of a relationship between Ebenezer Smith and the Reynolds family other than friendship.

It is widely circulated on the Internet that Abigail Pennoyer was the wife of Joshua Reynolds. Here is what Marion H. Reynolds had to say about Joshua's wife in 1924: "The name of Joshua's wife we do not know. The name of his only known daughter [Mary] might suggest the mother's first name."¹¹ So why the rampant claims that Joshua married Abigail Pennoyer? The root of this tale apparently lies in this statement from Marion H. Reynolds: "[The] will of Thos. Pennoyer, Stamford, dated 13 November 1724, mentions wife Lydia (Knapp) and daughter Abigail Reynolds, b. Stamford, Oct. 13, 1686, might suggest [a] wife to fit in here.”¹² Naturally, this “fact” has gone around the world at the speed of light, but it is clear that the Reynolds Family Association had no idea who married Joshua Reynolds. Since it was stated (incorrectly) that Ebenezer³ Reynolds married Abigail Smith, there seemed to be no reason why Joshua could not be the husband of Abigail Pennoyer. But, as we have seen, Ebenezer³ Reynolds did not marry the fictitious Abigail Smith. Moreover, Abigail Reynolds, daughter of Thomas² Pennoyer, was dead and apparently a widow by 1751. Joshua, however, died in 1765, according to Marion H. Reynolds.

We are fortunate that Spencer P. Mead abstracted all Stamford District probate records in 1919 with a full index. From these abstracts one can easily discover whether another Abigail Reynolds was of record in Stamford/Greenwich area probate records. The following Reynolds probate records were noted:¹³

David Reynolds, late of Greenwich, Horseneck, letters of administration granted to Abigail Reynolds, 3 Dec 1745.

John Reynolds, cooper, late of Greenwich, will dated 11 Nov 1732, mentions wife but does not give her name.

John Reynolds, deacon, late of Greenwich, will dated 22 Sept 1732, mentions wife Ruth.

Justus Reynolds, late of Greenwich, letters of administration to Jehiel Hubbell and Nathaniel Sackett dated 6 Feb 1748.

Nathaniel Reynolds, late of Greenwich, letters of administration granted to Ruth Reynolds, 7 June 1748.

Peter Reynolds, late of Greenwich, letters of administration granted to Sarah Reynolds, 6 Sept 1743.

Ebenezer Reynolds Jr., late of Greenwich, letters of administration granted to David Whelpley, 15 Jan 1761.

Hezekiah Reynolds, late of Greenwich, letters of administration granted to Joseph Webb, 10 Dec 1756.

Caleb Reynolds, late of Greenwich, will dated 19 Aug 1765, mentions children but no wife.

Gideon Reynolds, late of Greenwich, will dated 3 Oct 1765, mentions wife Bethia.

Gideon Reynolds, late of Greenwich, will dated 18 Feb 1772, mentions wife Hannah Jeremiah Reynolds, late of Greenwich, son David made choice of Peter Brown for guardian, 2 Oct 1770.

Reuben Reynolds, late of Greenwich, will dated 1 Aug 1765, mentions wife Elizabeth.

Josiah Reynolds, late of Greenwich, letters of administration granted to Jabez Ferris, 2 Aug 1774.

David Reynolds, late of Greenwich, will dated 4 May 1750, mentions wife but she is not named.

Peter Reynolds, late of Greenwich, inventory taken 20 June 1754, filed by Nathaniel Webb, executor.

Timothy Reynolds, Captain, late of Greenwich, letters of administration granted to Ame Reynolds.

Eli Reynolds, late of Greenwich, a son Clark chose his mother Elizabeth Reynolds to be his guardian, 5 Dec 1787.

The only Abigail Reynolds in the above probate abstracts was the wife of David Reynolds. As shown above, David married an Abigail Reynolds in 1720.

Summary and Conclusions

There seems to be no impediment to making Abigail, daughter of Thomas² Pennoyer, the wife of Ebenezer³ Reynolds, and there are good reasons to conclude this marriage is correct. The following points should be considered:

- Abigail, daughter of Thomas² Pennoyer, was born in Stamford on 13 October 1686, making her about 18 years old when Thomas and Abigail Reynolds married about 1704.
- The will of Thomas² Pennoyer shows that his daughter Abigail was living and married to a Reynolds in 1724.
- Stamford deeds show that Abigail (Pennoyer) Reynolds was deceased by 5 October 1751. She had heirs, and she was probably a widow when she died, as no husband is mentioned on the estate division. She lived in Greenwich, which was also the home of Ebenezer and Abigail Reynolds.
- The will of Ebenezer³ Reynolds shows that he died in 1749 leaving a wife Abigail, who was the mother of his children.
- The wife of Ebenezer³ Reynolds was certainly not Abigail Smith, daughter of Ebenezer Smith. While Ebenezer Smith made a bequest to Abigail's daughter Sarah in 1735, she was identified as a friend, not a granddaughter. Smith mentioned no daughter Abigail in his will even though she was living at the time. Smith appears to have no wife or children.
- There is no evidence that Joshua³ Reynolds married Abigail Pennoyer, as frequently claimed on the Internet. This idea was first suggested as a mere possibility by the Reynolds Family Association in 1924 and has since been taken as fact. The real facts are that no record of the wife of Joshua Reynolds has been found.
- Joshua Reynolds supposedly died in 1765. If his wife was Abigail Pennoyer, he should have been mentioned on the 1751 estate division of Abigail Reynolds.
- A review of extant probate records in the Stamford Probate District found only two Reynolds men with wives named Abigail during the 18th century — Ebenezer and David. The marriage record of David Reynolds shows that he married Abigail Reynolds on 4 November 1720.

It is concluded that Abigail, daughter of Thomas² Pennoyer, was the wife of Ebenezer³ Reynolds.

PECK - REYNOLDS - SMITH - PENNOYER ANCESTRY PROBLEM

The following information was submitted by Russell L. Warner, GRS, (CSG#1447) in an effort to promote a solution to the genealogical problems brought out in his article. He will share his data with anyone interested in this line of descent and especially anyone who can do further research in the Stamford, Conn. area.

The search for the ancestry of Enos Peck who died 23 May 1835 in Camillus township, Onondaga County, New York, was easily ended for the Peck name when the book, Genealogical Account of the Descendants in the Male Line of William Peck, 1877, by Darius Peck, came to my attention. For those without access to the above reference, Cutter's, Central New York Genealogies, Vol. 1, pp 136-138 and 475/6 will suffice for the Enos Peck ancestry. However, the mother of Enos (Peter⁴, Samuel³, Jeremiah², William¹) was known only as "Sarah Peck" in both accounts.

In a more recent book with a long title, The History and Descendants of John and Sarah Reynolds, (?1630-1923) of Watertown, Mass. and Wethersfield, Stamford and Greenwich, Conn., 1924, by Marion H. Reynolds A.B., was found Sarah Peck's maiden name. On page 47 who is called Sarah Reynolds, daughter of Ebenezer Reynolds (Jonathan², John¹), and his wife, Abigail "Smith" (daughter of Ebenezer Smith.) The only basis for the name "Smith" seems to be contained in a sentence following the name of Sarah Reynolds: viz, "In 1735 she (Sarah) was unmarried, and was left money by will of maternal grandfather, Ebenezer Smith, of Greenwich, Conn."

An intensive search for an Ebenezer Smith with a daughter named Abigail who could have married 1704 (as estimated in the genealogy), Ebenezer Reynolds ended in failure but it was noted that others had searched earlier for the same family. One search was a query in the Boston Transcript, issue of 28 June 1934 and numbered (8749)-5. No answer was seen.

Next, it was decided to have the will of Ebenezer Smith of Greenwich, Conn. re-examined. This research was entrusted to Dr. Claude W. Barlow, Worcester, Mass. who made this following report:

"Will of Ebenezer Smith of Greenwich, Conn. Dated 1 Dec 1735; 'living under ye dayly expectation of death.' Confirmed at the end of the will on 3 Dec 1735; sworn by the witnesses 6 Jan 1735/6; proved 7 Jan 1735/6; witnessed by Ephraim Bostick, Lieut. David Reynolds and Gershom Lockwood Junr. 'Unto my well respected friend Sarah Reynolds daughter to Ebenezer Reynolds of Greenwich, my horse, bridle, chest and six pounds in money; to my brethren and sister now living at Norwalk, viz: Robert Smith, John Smith, Sam'l Smith and Mary Gregory all the remainder of my estate.'"

We concluded that Ebenezer Smith was the fiance of Sarah Reynolds and not her grandfather, and that further search of the Smith name was not warranted. Sarah was about 24 years of age when Ebenezer died and she did not marry Peter Peck until nearly ten years later if the birth of their first child, Peter Peck Jr, in Jan 1746, is used to date the unrecorded marriage.

Since Lieut. David Reynolds served as one of the witnesses to the Ebenezer Smith will, the Reynolds genealogy was again consulted. David's family is listed on page 53--and nothing was seen to otherwise connect him with Ebenezer Smith. But on the same page 53, in data included in the paragraph re Joshua Reynolds, David's brother, was this interesting sentence: "Will of Thos Pennoyer, Stamford, dated 13 Nov 1724, mentions wife Lydia (Knapp) and daughter ABIGAIL REYNOLDS, born Stamford, Oct. 13, 1686, might suggest wife to fit in here." Even the first name of Joshua's wife was unknown to the compiler of the Reynold's book, so there was no basis in fact for this mention of an Abigail Reynolds in this particular family.

This Abigail Pennoyer was born 8mo-13-1686 in Stamford (1-162) daughter of Thomas and Lydia (Knapp) Pennoyer and she did marry a Reynolds if her father's will was copied correctly. That she was the wife of Ebenezer Reynolds might be proved with a re-reading of the Pennoyer will, and a reading of Stamford deeds to see if land was divided between the widow and her Reynolds daughter. This could give the name of her Reynolds husband.

Stamford CT Vital records bk 1, p. 162, listed birth of Abigail Pennoyer, d/o Thomas and Lydia (Knapp) Pennoyer. Abigail's father Thomas Pennoyer named her as Abigail Reynolds in his will.
FHC Barbour Collection for Stamford Fairfield Co CT lists Abigail as born 8th mo, 13 day, 1686.
(not sure if 8th mo is August in that year, could be Oct. if old calendar).

Ebenezer Reynolds made his will 20 Feb. 1748/9 and it was proved 2 May 1749. His WIFE ABIGAIL and his DAUGHTER SARAH REYNOLDS, WIFE OF PETER PECK were named in his will. Peter Peck, husband of Sarah Reynolds was born ca 1704, which estimates an approximate time frame for birth for Sarah Reynolds.

Abigail Reynolds of Greenwich CT, survived her husband Ebenezer Reynolds by no more than a year. The above deed shows that Abigail Reynolds died before October 5, 1751, when her land was laid out for her heirs, (heirs not named in the deed). Abigail's land bounded that of Ezra Mead, and was land that had been laid out in 1687 to OLD Moses Knapp and OLD Thomas Pennoyer, which was the ?9th part of a third part of Knapp's land and and a ?9th part of Penoyer's land. Clearly, it can be deduced that this Abigail Reynolds was the d/o Thomas Pennoyer and grand daughter of Moses Knapp. Abigail of this deed was probably the same Abigail, widow of Ebenezer Reynolds. Researched and summarized by Cerified Genealogist Clifford Stott 3/08 for my 2nd cousin Bob White, s/o Mildred (Baker) White, gr/son of Rev. James Millard Baker.

Note that Thomas Pennoyer had 9 known children., 8 of them listed in his 1724 will, including dau. Abigail Reynolds. Thomas' dau. Millicant married Jonathan Hait., who was probably one of the signers of the deed laying out Abigail's land to her heirs. Abigail's mother was Lydia Knapp, d/o Moses Knapp.

Ebenezer Reynolds is generally accepted to have been a posthumous s/o Jonathan2 Reynolds and born soon after 23 Jan 1673/4 when Jonathan died. Jonathan named several children in his will, but not Ebenezer. Jonathan Jr. Jonathan Jr. who was named in his father's will, made a deed of gift of land to his brother Ebenezer in 1695, about the time that Ebenezer became 21 yrs.

Note that Thomas Pennoyer had 9 known ch., 8 of them listed in his 1724 will, including dau. Abigail Reynolds. Thomas' dau. Millicant m. Jonathan

Note that Thomas Pennoyer had 9 known ch., 8 of them listed in his 1724 will, including dau. Abigail Reynolds. Thomas' dau. Millicent m. Jonathan Hait., who was probably one of the signers of the deed laying out Abigail's land to her heirs.

Discussion of the will of Ebenezer Smith.

The Reynolds and the Pennoyer Genealogies listed the wife of Ebenezer³ (Jonathan², John) Reynolds as Abigail Smith, and their daughter Sarah Reynolds who married Peter Peck. It is contested that Abigail was a Smith.

7HL 74m 005, 562 Stanford Dist Probate Register (c4) BK1:71 Bridge
This erroneous information was based on the 3 December 1735 will of Ebenezer Smith of Greenwich Ct, who did NOT LIST ANY WIFE in his WILL.

THE ONLY RELATIVES HE LISTED WERE HIS SIBLINGS. His first bequest was a horse, a ~~bale~~, a chest and six pounds money, to his well respected FREIND (sic) SARAH REYNOLDS, daughter of Ebenezer Reynolds of Greenwich CT. Ebenezer Smith named his siblings, residing at Norwich, Robt, John and Samuel Smith, and Mary, wife of John Gregory, to receive the rest of his estate, to be divided in equal portions. Robert Smith and John Gregory were executors.

witnessed by Ephraim Bostwick, David Reynolds, Gersham Lockwood Jr. Proved 6 Jan. 1735/6.

(Perhaps Smith felt indebted to Sarah Reynolds for caring for him in his last illness, or he had made an agreement to reimburse her for caring for him. His will indicated that he knew he was was dying).

Search for identity of witnesses to Smith's will.

One David Reynolds married 4 Nov 1720 Abigail Reynolds, (d/o Joseph Reynolds). This David would have been nephew-in-law of the deceased Ebenezer Reynolds. This David was s/o John Reynolds, the Cooper. However, this David Reynolds supposedly died bef 1745.

Another man, LT David Reynolds died 1750, (husb. of Penelope Wright), was first cousin to the deceased Ebenezer Reynolds. Lt. David had a son David who was alive 1750.

These were the only known David Reynolds in the area 1735.

One Ephraim Bostwick b. ca 1706 of Stamford Ct, was s/o Zachariah ; Ephraim married Abigail Allyn or Allen.

One Gershom Lockwood, b. 1708 Greenwich CT was s/o Gershom b. Watertown MA, who d. Greenwich Ct. Gershom Jr's sister Ann married Samuel Ferris.

(Oddly, Ebenezer Reynolds's will and inventory was recorded in Stamford CT 16 April 1774, although Ebenezer died in 1749. Note that his father-in-law Thomas Penoyer made his will in 1724 and it was proved 8 days later. Penoyer's will was also recorded again 16 Feb. 1774, in Stamford CT before the same David Waterbury.

Could this have had something to do with a conflict regarding the Penoyer and Reynolds heirs, or was this recording done so many years later because of a State of CT requirement of some kind)?

Notes (Continued)

Ebenezer's sons were named before the daus. I have listed the sons in order of their names in the will and the daughters ion order of their names in the will. One cannot tell from the will the order of birth males vs females.

Connecticut Nutmegger, V. 7, part 2, p 308-9, Certified Genealogist () believed that Ebenezer Reynolds married Abigail Pennoyer. Reynolds Family Ass'n Centennial Celebration in 1992 claims that Ebenezer was posthumous and was born shortly after his father died. Reynolds Gen'y by Marion Reynolds and Rippier also says that Ebenezer was posthumous.

To the eldest son, Joseph, Jr., a double portion with what he hath already. To the rest of the children, equal and single portions with what they have had already. This order signed by Andrew Barr, Clerk. Attached to the order is the schedule of partition: To the

The realty divided by the settlement went to Joseph, 38 acres west side of Peeks Ridge; 1 acre town lot; 5 acres adjoining John Marshall's lot, and other to other children. It would seem that Benjamin was also dead before Nov. 7, 1727, as he is not mentioned in the settlement. Note that Samuel's daughter and not his wife is mentioned; perhaps the wife was also dead in that probable epidemic.

Joseph's home was always at Horseneck in the West Society, or what is now modern Greenwich. It was probably located on Clapboard Ridge or North Street, Greenwich. His children Abigail and John m. two of the children of his cousin John³, the cooper. Joseph and Abigail (Finch) Reynolds had, all born in Greenwich:

ohn') b. Green-was born after his hen his will was made, and May 2, 1749, when it was probated, ten weeks later. His will further mentioned Dec. 5, 1749. It is probable he died in April, 1749. His old homestead was east of the Mianus River. His will is printed in "American Families of Historic Lineage," I:170, L. I. Division. Will mentions his wife Abigail; son Enos executor.

He m. Abigail Smith, 1704, dau. Ebenezer Smith. Greenwich gave him a town lot on Clap-Board Ridge, 4 acres, Feby. 8, 1694-95, probably upon coming of age, or at marriage. This he exchanged, Dec. 26, 1695, for property at Horseneck. Jany. 20, 1695-96, his brother Jonathan gave him land which is recorded Vol. III; 65, Greenwich Deeds. This land is mentioned March 6, 1725-26, and land which his brother Jonathan gave him "which had been granted by the town." In Greenwich tax list of 1697 he was held at £30; 1701, at £44. May 10, 1697, he is granted ten acres at Horseneck by the Town. Aug. 12, 1698, a division of land mentions: Mr. John² Reynolds, Jonathan³, Sr., Joseph³, John³, Ebenezer³, John³, Jr. Feby. 4, 1701-02, shared in a distribution west of Mianus River. March 6, 1706, he received land in ye first dividend of an acre to four pounds--66." April 1714, John, Jr., his cousin, sold to him.

In the tax list of Greenwich, 1739, two Ebenezers are given, the second perhaps was his son: Ebenezer of the West Society (Horse-neck) rated at £34; Ebenezer of the East Society (Sound Beach) rated at £88. We do not know which was which. One would think that the lesser amount indicated the son; and this would mean that Ebenezer, Senior, lived in Greenwich Old Town (Sound Beach) then? Ebenezer, Sr., willed land in Stanwich to Ebenezer, Jr., and Nathaniel.

Ebenezer's will, mentioned first above, was probated at Stamford in 1749. His wife survived him, as she and nine of the following children, b. Greenwich, are mentioned. Eliphalet does not appear in it. Timothy's birth seems to be so late, almost thirty years after the marriage. There was probably an intervening Timothy, Sr., son of Ebenezer³, of whom we know nothing. The Editors do not know why Eliphalet is placed by previous searchers as a son of Ebenezer.

*75. Deborah, b. Feby. 3, 1705-06; d. Bedford, N. Y., Nov. 4, 1787, at 84; m. Robert Peck, 1731.

*76. Ebenezer, Jr., b. March 6, 1706-07; m. ----, 1729.

77. Lydia, b. March 1, 1709-10; mentioned 1749 in her father's will, as "my daughter that now lives with me."

78. Sarah, b. 1711; m. Peter Peck. In 1735 she was unmarried, and was left money by will of maternal grandfather, Ebenezer Smith, of Greenwich, Conn.

79. Abigail, b. 1713; m. William Johnson.

*80. Nathaniel, b. Jany. 27, 1715-16; d. April, 1792; m. Sarah Lockwood, 1743.

81. Enos, b. about 1717; m. Sarah Newman, dau. Nathl. and Rebecca Newman of Stamford, who in his will 1772 mentions Enos.

82. Timothy: See comment under his brother Ebenezer, who in will 1772 mentions Enos, No. 76 on later pages.

83. Rebecca, b. ; m. Samuel Burchum.
 84. Eliphalet, b. about 1722; "settled at Nine Partners, Dutchess Co., N. Y., near Amenia." Not mentioned in Ebenezer's will. Was also Corporal, 1762, French and Indian War. We doubt that he was a son of Ebenezer.

II. Descendants of John².

31. JOHN REYNOLDS, "Junior," "the cooper," (John²; John¹) b. Sound Beach or Greenwich, Conn., about 1670; d. there December, 1732; his father, usually referred to as "Mr. John² Reynolds," because Justice of Peace, d. 1701; his cousin John³, usually referred to as "John, Sr.," d. about 1735-36. This John the cooper was often referred to in deeds, wills, etc., as "Jr." During all their lives these three Johns were much confused because of identity of name.

We do not know the name of John's wife; as she had died before him and was not mentioned in his will of 1732. His first daughter was obviously named for his own mother who had been Judith Palmer; but his second, Lydia, may have been named for John's wife, the mother. In Stamford Probate records we find mention of "Lydia Ferris, alias Reynolds, late of Greenwich, sister of Joshua Ferris and Ruth Peck." But the supposition is weak and needs further research to support it. Probate on Joshua Ferris, March 4, 1746, mentions heirs of sister Lydia Reynolds.

On June 20, 1695, he received from his father, "Mr. John" the house and homelot at Horseneck, Greenwich—perhaps on coming of age or at marriage. In 1697 ranked with £51 on town property list. May 10, 1697, he and others received ten acres each at Horseneck, as "ye towne having taken into consideration ye necessitie of some of ye young men belonging to ye towne having land for their settlement wherefore ye towne de hereby grant * * * homelots and field lands to such as have not homelots already: John, Jr. and Sr." The "Sr." being his cousin's son of Jonathan². May 21, 1698, our John among those entitled to portions of land in Greenwich, "son to Mr. Renalds." April 4, 1699, he and Jonathan appointed on committee to discharge preacher Morgan for dullness, Greenwich—but more likely it was his father or cousin. 1701, town tax list at £72. Feby. 4, 1701, shared in distribution of land west of Myanos River. Dec. 2, 1704, he and brother James, "sons of Mr. John Renals, decd." buy of Gershom Lockwood (Greenwich Deeds, p. 383). Dec. 1704, he and brother James appear. March 6, 1706, buys of brother Joshua; "received land in ye first dividend, 4 lbs. to an acre -- 15."; buys of brother Jonathan. April 29, 1706, sells to brother James; also bought third of father's right from brother James, and then sold James two pieces of land: half portion of father's rights in the Indian Field and third part of father's rights at Birum Neck. He is mentioned 1710 in estate of Stephen Holmes, Fairfield probate. Dec. 2, 1712, sells land to James, Clapboardtree Ridge (III: 34 Greenwich Deeds). April 20, 1725, "John Reynolds, Jr., cooper" gives land to sons Peter and David. Sells to son David 1728; sells to brother David Feb. 8, 1728-29.

Reynolds, son unto John Reynolds, deceased," gives half his property to "son Hezekiah." And again, Jany. 3, 1711, "Jonathan Reynolds buys of brother David half of my father's rights in Indian Fields, it being half right of Mr. John Reynolds in these fields." These two records should be examined on the spot in Greenwich. Our copyist may have erred. We believe Jonathan and Mary (Mead) Reynolds had only one child:

- *110. Hezekiah, b. about 1707; d. 1756-57; m. 1: Ruth --- of Stamford. 2: Sarah Webb, 1734.

36. JOSHUA REYNOLDS: (John², John¹) b. Greenwich, Conn., 1685; d. 1765, the same year his son Caleb died.

The name of Joshua's wife we do not know. The name of his only known daughter might suggest the mother's first name. Will of Thos. Pennoyer, Stamford, dated Nov. 13, 1724, mentions wife Lydia (Knapp) and daughter Abigail Reynolds, b. Stamford, Oct. 13, 1686, might suggest wife to fit in here. She is about Joshua's age, and children's births fit in chronologically. Her brother Reuben m. Joshua's niece Penelope Reynolds, daughter David.

March 6, 1706, he bought land from brother John, mentioning "late father John." Same date sold to his brother John. Feby. 18, 1719, relinquishes land to brother Lieut. David Reynolds. January 17, 1721-22, received land of brother Lieut. David, mentioning brother John. In 1733, he with James, Jr., and Nathaniel, petitioned Connecticut General Assembly to be taken from Parish of Stanwich and added to Greenwich. They lived in southwest part of Stanwich. In 1739 on the tax list at £126 he was the wealthiest of twenty-three taxpayers of his name in Greenwich. In 1748 deeded land to sons Daniel and John. Daniel eventually removed to Cortland Manor, Peekskill, but the other two sons apparently remained always in Greenwich. Joshua was the Greenwich representative in the Colonial Legislature, 1717-19. His children:

- *118. John, b. about 1712; m. Joanna Winans, Feby. 16, 1740.
 *119. Daniel, b. 1714; d. 1803; left will; m. about 1737?
 *120. Caleb, b. about 1713; d. Aug.-Sept. 1765, left will. m. about 1738?
 *121. Mary, b. April 28, 1723.

37. LIEUT. DAVID REYNOLDS: (John², John¹) of the "East or First Society" of Greenwich, Conn., b. Greenwich about 1686-87; d. there between June 2 and November 6, 1750. The year of birth is indicated by his signing a deed with his wife Penelope in Oyster Bay, L. I., in 1708, at which time he must have been of age, and by land transactions between his guardian and himself in Greenwich in 1709-10. He was the youngest child of his parents.

David m. probably at Oyster Bay, L. I., in or before 1708, Penelope Wright, daughter of Caleb and Elizabeth Wright of Oyster Bay, as shown in Huntington's Oyster Bay Records. "David Renels of Greenwich, Conn., and Penelope, his wife, sell certain meadows given

To Whom it May Concern,

The following pedigree documents the line of descent of Lauren Michelle White (Harvard Class of 2011) from Robert Pennoyer (1614–1678). All of the cited documents are available for inspection upon request. A few events are documented only in the records of the family. These, however, are peripheral items that have no effect on the validity of the pedigree. A pedigree chart showing the 13-generation line of descent is also included. Please contact me for clarification or further information.

Sincerely,

Mead, "Abstracts of Probate Records of Stamford, County of Fairfield, and State of Connecticut, 1729-1802" [typescript, 1919], 333).
37. The will of Ebenezer Reynold, dated 20 Feb. 1748/9, proved 2 May 1749, mentions his daughter Sarah, wife of Peter Peck (Stamford, Conn. Probate District Registers, 5:88-89).
38. Christina Bailey and Lorraine Cook White, ed., The Barbour Collection of Connecticut Town Vital Records, vol. 14, Town of Stamford (Baltimore: Genealogical Publishing Co., 1999), 190.
39. No death record has been found, but she was deceased by 5 Oct. 1751, when her lands in Stamford were laid out to her heirs. In this document she is called "late of Greenwich deceased" (Stamford, Conn. Deeds, E:465).
40. Proof that Abigail Pennoyer married Ebenezer Reynolds is deduced as follows: The will of Thomas Pennoyer of Stamford, dated 13 Nov. 1724, proved 16 Feb. 1774, mentions his daughter Abigail Reynolds (Stamford, Conn. Probate District Registers, 4:91-92). The will of Ebenezer Reynolds of Greenwich, dated 20 Feb. 1748/9, proved 2 May 1749, calls his wife Abigail (Stamford, Conn. District Probate Registers, 5:88-89). A thorough search of the Stamford/Greenwich area found no other Reynold with an unidentified wife Abigail.
41. Ebenezer was the posthumous son of Jonathan Reynolds of Greenwich, Conn. Jonathan died intestate shortly before 23 Jan. 1673/4, when his estate was inventoried. Children listed in the inventory include Jonathan, John, Joseph, Rebecca, Sarah, and Elizabeth (Fairfield, Conn. District Probate File, no. 5194). In a deed, dated 20 Jan. 1695/6, Jonathan Reynolds made a deed of gift for two acres of land on Horseneck in Greenwich to his "brother" Ebenezer Reynolds (Greenwich, Conn. Deeds, 3:65).

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Delphi, Onondaga Co., NY

The only dates given are those of 1848. The date of June 1st 1805 possibly is that of the writing of the Articles (7) of the Constitution.

As this book is dated "Property of the Pleasant Valley Society, Pompey, Mch 3 1812, the names of members prior to that date may have been copied from an earlier record, and the others signed the constitution as they became church members. There is no list of women members, no baptisms or marriages in this book. If there is another book of records, there is no knowledge of it.

This book appears to be records of the business meetings of the Church, such as committees, etc.

First Church Building erected in 1808.

Second Church Building erected in 1851.

This building is still used and is located at Oran on the Cherry Valley Turnpike (as of 1934).

Notes

Ira Hinsdale's birth and death date was listed in the Hinsdale Gen'y by ____, which also lists his marriage to Ann Peck, at Camillus, on 28 December, 1835.

The Hinsdale bible lists Ira's birth and death as well as his marriage on 28 Dec. 1835. The bible lists his wife Ann Peck's birth and death dates, as well as the date of Mrs. Ann P. Hinsdale's 2nd marriage date to Justus Townsend and Townsend's birth and death dates. The Hinsdale bible also names the ch. of Ira and Ann.

The bible was in possession of descendent Betty (Snyder) Komaneky until her death in 2003 or 2004. Betty gave me a copy of the Hinsdale bible pages in Lakeland Florida, in 1991. Betty said that the bible was deteriorated, cover and title page missing. Betty descended from ira's son Alfred and granddau. Grace (Hinsdale) Snyder.

(Ira seems to be named after his Uncle Ira Hinsdale who moved to OxBow in northern N.Y.).

Tree Talks Periodical, Volume 12:55,57, no.3, Sept. 1972, copy at Syracuse Library, Onondaga County, N.Y.

Marriage notices which appeared in the Onondaga Standard, a weekly Newspaper, for 835-August 1836, copied and arranged by Mrs. Lester Myers. Married in Van Buren on the 30th inst. by the Rev. Mr. Harrington, Mr. Ira Hinsdale of Camillus to Miss Ann Peck of the former place. Published 13 Jan. 1836. Mrs. Myers questioned the word instant, (this month), versus the word ultimate, (last month). The newspaper may have been published on 30 Dec. 1835, rather than 13 Jan. 1836, which would make the word instant correct. See earlier marriages listed on page 57, publ. 30 Dec. 1835. They may have married on 28 Dec. 1835, as listed in the Hinsdale bible and in Holman's Hinsdale Genealogy.

Ira died in his 39th yr, which means age 38, not having had his birthday as yet that yr.

Add here, Ira's long obit from the Religious Recorder Syracuse, N.Y. 1849.

Will of Ira Hinsdale, Book I, (note the will is in Book G,H, I, not book one,) pp 228-230.
p. 228.

Surrogate Court Onondaga Co. N.Y., City of Syracuse, 9th day of August 1849. Present Isaac T. Minard, Surrogate.

In the matter of proving the last will and testament of ira Hinsdale, deceased.

Munro, one of the executors named in the last will and testament of ira Hinsdale, late of the town of Camillus in said county, deceased, for that purpose, to the Surrogate of said county, a citation was duly issued, in this matter, which citation with the proofs of service thereof were therefore duly returned to said Surrogate and which said petition and citation with the proofs of service thereof, are now on file in this office of said Surrogate.

I, Ira Hinsdale, Farmer, of the town of Camillus in the county of Onondaga, being of sound mind and memory, do make and publish this my last will and testament.

First, I hereby constitute and appoint my beloved wife Ann Hinsdale, my Executrix, and my friend James Munro of Camillus, my Executor of this will, and if either of them shall die or refuse to serve, then the services of the one that shall accept, shall possess all the power given to them both by me in this will or in any section so claimed thereof.

Second, I direct my Executrix and Executor to take charge of my estate, real and personal, and manage and dispose of my personal property as they, or they or the survivor, may judge proper and for the benefit of my family, - so such of my real estate as forms part of lot number fifty five in the town of Camillus, and my other real estate I may own (except my home farm) or such part thereof, as my Executrix and Executor, or the survivor of them, to sell

Camillus, and my other real estate I may own (except my home farm) or such part thereof, as my Executrix and Executor, or the survivor of them, to sell and by proper deed or deeds, convey the same for such consideration as they, or the survivor of them, may think proper. So much of my real estate as constitutes my home farm upon which I now reside, I do not wish to be sold until my youngest child is of age, until circumstances arise that render it highly advantageous to my family to sell it, or some part of it, and in case my Executrix or Executor, or the survivor of them think such circumstances have arisen, they may sell the same or any part thereof subject to the approval of my father David Hinsdale and my friend George Geddes and John In_, all of the town of Camillus, or any two of them, or if at that time there is but one of them alive, then subject to the approval of that one, which approval is to be recorded with the deed or deeds of conveyances.

Third, it is my desire that so much of my real estate as may be assigned to my wife in her Right of Dower shall be from my home farm and include my mansion house in which I now live, and the buildings connected and convenient for the side of said house.

Fourth, after provisions shall be made for my wife's Right of Dower in my estate real and personal. I hereby give and bequeath my estate real and personal to my children in equal shares - and I hereby constitute and appoint my aforesaid Executor James Munro their Guardian, until they severally arrive at the age of twenty one years. I hereby direct that as they become of age that their property in the possession of their Guardian, shall be paid over to them, but I do not intend that any one of them shall be able to compile a sale of any part of my home farm or a division thereof until they are all of age, and until the youngest of them who may be living, shall be twenty one years old, the rents and profits of so much thereof as does not form the Dower of my wife, shall be paid to such of my children as are of age, annually in the proportion that they may be equally entitled, to receive the same.

Dated March third, in the year 1849.

On the first page, the words "I may own" ?intailmed before signing.

Signed, sealed, published and declared by the Testator in and for his last will and testament in the presence of the undersigned, who at his request and in his presence and in the presence of each other have signed their names as witnesses thereto.

Ira Hinsdale, Letters filed Nov. 20 1849. Bk ? BB p 228, DD p. 42, FHC Reel 873186, Onondaga Co. NY Probate.

Inventory filed Nov. 20 1849, Bk BB p 420, c. 2., Misc. Orders & Decrees, Settlement.

Allen Munroe's brother was the Guardian of Ira's dau. Mary Hinsdale, as narrated in Rev. James M. Baker's book "Contending the Grade In India" on p. 26. There must be Guardian documents in Onondaga Co. as to James M. Munro's reports of his handling of his Guardianship of the ch. of Ira Hinsdale.

Uncle Jim wrote in his book that Mary didn't like her Guardian - some type of strife., that Ira was a Farmer, who owned a 600 acre homestead, 6 miles from Syracuse, N.Y.

(note that Ira prob. rec'd much of his land from his father David Hinsdale Jr., judging from David's will which mentioned that Ira had rec'd his portion of his father's estate, during Ira's lifetime).

1840 census, Ira Hinsdale appeared with 11 people in family. His father David does not appear.

What ref. ?? - p. 328. 3 March 1849 Ira and Ann Hinsdale donated Lot 68 land to the Amboy Presbyterian Church Sociey for $1. Anson Hopkins and Jonathan White paid that $1, in behalf of the Amboy Meeting House Yard.

Howard Snyder (1890-1984), married Grace Hinsdale, grand daughter of Ira Hinsdale. Snyder's family History mss, corroborates that Ira donated the land for the church, and wrote that all the lumber used to build the church came from Hinsdale's woods. Ira's home and the church were both built in 1845. Ira owned 160 acres of woodland.

1. Hinsdale bible in possession of Elizabeth aka Betty (Snyder) Komanecky in 1991. Betty died 2004 in Auburndale FL. Betty told me that the bible was deteriorated, it's cover was missing and the title page was missing.

Komanecky's address was #128, 225C Edgewood Drive Lakeland FL 33803 in July 1991.

Betty was d/o Grace (Hinsdale) Snyder; Grace was d/o Alfred L. Hinsdale who was s/o Ira Hinsdale who died 1849.

The Hinsdale bible gives birhs, deaths and marriage 28 Dec 1835 of Ira Hinsdale and his wife Ann Peck and the birth dates of their children. Also lists birth date of Charles A. Baker and marriage date to his wife Mary Hinsdale.

Also lists birth date and death date of Justus Townsend, 2nd husb. of Ann (Peck) Hinsdale and their marriage date.

Notes (Continued)

Also lists birth date and death date of Justus Townsend, 2nd husb. of Ann (Peck) Hinsdale and their marriage date.

Also lists death date and age in yrs, mo and days of Mary Hinsdale, mother of Ira. (note: Ira's mother was nee Mary McCracken). The bible then follows the children and grandchildren etc. of Ira Hinsdale and Ann Peck's son Alfred L. Hinsdale to the 1980's.

2. Ira was listed as deceased, in the 1853 will of his father David Hinsdale. David died from Tuberculosis. Since Ira died only 4 yrs earlier, I wonder if Ira had the same deadly disease.

3. In the Hinsdale Gen'y Ira was listed as #841.

4. Onondaga Standard newspaper, January 13, 1836 lists Ira's marriage on 30th Dec. 1835 See Tree Talks v12 #3, Sept 1972. (Hinsdale bible says married Dec. 28, 1835, and another ref. concurs).

5. DAR Patriot Index, p. 332, Vol. 64, p. 147; V. 81.

Queensbury; a small piece of land; two rights of land at Shaftsbury.

Note that witness Kent Wright was Elihu Jr's brother in law.

Elihu Jr. predeceased his father, see his father Elder Elihu Marsh's CT will of March 1784, when Elihu Jr's two daughters Anna Peck and Rachel Wright received only small bequests from their grandpa because their father, the deceased Elihu Marsh Jr. had his portion of his father's estate while he was alive.

24 Oct 1766, the heirs of Elihu Marsh, dec'd, were mentioned in a petition made by Ebenezer Cole for land title in Township of Bennington, Shaftsbury and Rupert, on behalf of himself, the heirs and others. Petition incl. a map showing the requested lots.

State Papers of VT, V. 7, NY Land Patents 1688-1786 compiled by Rawson Myrick, by Mary G. Greene, pp 195-200, edited by Mary G. Nye, lists Lot 16, 105 acres owned by children of Elihu Marsh (Jr) deceased.

Land was settled before 1766 in Ebenezer Cole Tract (within present Shaftsbury VT), which was then in Albany Co. Province of N.Y., Kingdom of Great Britain and settled by authority of New Hampshire Grant.

Petition read in N.Y. Provincial Council on 3 Nov 1766 and consented same day under quitrent provisions. Lots were in Albany Co., formerly pretended to be granted by New Hampshire by the name of Shaftsbury.

Petitioners included children and devisees of Elihu Marsh, dec'd. That the Petitioners PREVIOUSLY lived on and improved the land reserved by authority of New Hampshire Grant.

Land of the Marsh heirs was included under 2000 acres of the David Hepburn Tract. Certain lots were granted 24 Feb. 1771 by N.Y., to Ebenezer Cole, who represented others including the Marsh heirs, 3 acres of every 50 acres to be cultivated within 3 years. Recorded _____ date.

Grantees submitted a Petition because they thought N.Y.S. would not recognise their New Hampshire Grant.

Elihu Marsh Jr. was deceased by Nov 1766 when his heirs made petition with others in Ebenezer Cole Tract, N.H. Grant, in what is now Shaftsbury VT, but was then disputed and was said to be in Albany, N.Y. Province, which reads that petitioners settled on and improved the land in 1766. The Petition was necessary to legally continue to secure the and when N.Y. became the true owner of the land, instead of New Hampshire, which had granted the original permission to settle in what is now Shaftsbury Bennington Co. VT.

Elihu Marsh's heirs were granted Lot 16. Elihu Marsh's children were minors in 1766 and 1771, the time of this petition.

Genealogy of The Marsh Family, Outline for Five Generations of the Families of:

John of Salem, John of Hartford, Samuel of New Haven, Alexander of Braintree, John of Boston, William of Plainfield 1675.

My line is William Marsh of Plainfield CT, found only on pp 32-37. This covers my line from William 1 and wife Elizabeth Yeomans, both of Stonington CT, William having served in Narragansett Swamp Fight of 1675, to Thomas 2, born ca 1687 to Elihu 3, to Elihu Jr. 4 born 1737, who married Martha Waters and had children Anna who married Enos Peck and Rachel Marsh who married Ebenezer Wright.

Elihu Jr. was alive 11 June 1763, History of Town Queensbury, Warren Co. N.Y., p 374, reck. Elihu Jr. alive April 1762.

Need to find out what happened to Elihu's rights of land which he held when he died. Tracking the sale of those rights might prove further Elihu's widow's remarriage to Abraham Northrup after his death. She had issue by Abr. Northrop.

New Fairfield in Fairfield Co. CT was formed 1740; present day Sherman is in Fairfield Township and County. New Milford in Litchfield Co. was formed 1712. Mansfield in Tolland Co. was formed 1713. Windham in Windham Co. was formed 1689.

24 Oct 1766, the heirs of Elihu Marsh, dec'd, were mentioned in a petition made by Ebenezer Cole for land title in Township of Bennington, Shaftsbury and Rupert, on behalf of himself, the heirs and others. Petition incl. a map showing the requested lots.

Who were their Guardians? Could have been their mother Martha or their step father Abr. Northrop or their grandpa Samuel Waters Sr., since he was also a petitioner for his own land. See my narrative of this grant on Elihu Sr. group sheet; also separate narrative in C:\adata\baker\watmarsh.

Marsh Mss, no dates, pasted in Marsh Bible, typed copy at NEHGS; owned by Daniel Benjamin Marsh of Poughkeepsie in 1790, which states Elihu Marsh married Martha Waters, lived and died in Sherman (CT); left 2 ch. Rachel who married Ebenezer Wright and Anna who married Enos Peck. reads that New Fairfield became Sherman.

(Sherman was formed later from Fairfield).

Abbe Geny, p 37, lists Elihu Jr and his wf and his 2 ch. States he died Sherman CT.

Enos Peck, husb. of Elihu's dau. Anna was also at Shaftsbury as well as Waters and Waldo fam. Enos and Anna Marsh Peck sold several pieces of land to sister Rachel and her husb. Ebenezer Wright from 1782-1787 in Shaftsbury.

Enos Peck sold Lot 16 Shaftsbury 1782 - prob. his wf's inheritance.

Shaftsbury was in the disputed land between Provinces of N.Y. and VT.

IGI says family on LDS film 1903699.

History of Warren Co NY by Smith p 123-124 lists Elihu Marsh, Elihu Marsh Jr and others applied 31 March 1762 for 23,000 acres Queensbury Patent which was granted 20 May 1762 and was then in Albany Co. NY Province. Most of the Shaftsbury Ebenezer Cole Tract petitioners were from New Milford and Litchfield Co. CT.

Elihu's brother Joseph was 17 yrs younger and married both Deborah and Abigail Waldo, ch. of Samuel Waldo and Elihu's sister in law Hannah Waters. Note that Joseph named a son Holman which comes from the Samuel Waters/Rachel Holman line.

Notes (Continued)

Note that Joseph named a son Holman which comes from the Samuel Waters/Rachel Holman line.

Elihu was listed in land in Queensbury NY.

Must add here.

Queensbury Patent was dated May 1762 Some settlers came from Dutchess Co NY.

Refs:

Abbe Genealogy lists birth date windham CT 8 May 1737, his parents and lists wf as Martha Walters, (prob. error for Watters in some ref.) says he moved to Sherman CT where he died. Lists both his daus. and their husbands.

Jonathan Reynolds settled at Greenwich Ct. Jonathan's place of birth at Wethersfield CT is from 1992 version of Reynolds Family Ass'n .
Jonathan's previous place of birth was listed as Watertown, MA, and died between 13 and 23 Jan 1673/4.

birth listed as say 1631, Inv of Estate taken 23 Jan 1673/?4 incl. list of his ch. w/ ages on that date. Eldest was 17 yrs. [Fairfield PD case #5194; Fairfield PR 2:75-76 as listed in Gr Migration , p. 43.

Jonathan's Wife as having maiden name of Husted was questioned by well knonw Genealogist Gordon Remington, as published in TAG July 1998, titled Rebecca Revisited. TAG 73:201-206.
We probably thus lose the Husted and Sherwood lines.

Savage gives names and ages of children, but doesn't mention Ebenezer, the posthumous child.
Torrey says Jonathan Reynolds was born ca 1635/37, died 1674, married Rebecca Husted (?born 1645, died ???), married ca 1656?/58/1660?.

GABRIEL RELD

ORIGIN: Unknown.

MIGRATION: 1635 on the Hopewell (on 11 September 1635, "Gabriell Reld," aged 18, was enrolled at London as a passenger for New England on the Hopewell [Hotten 131]).

FIRST RESIDENCE: Unknown.

COMMENTS: No records for this passenger have been found in New England.

JOHN REYNOLDS

ORIGIN: Unknown.

MIGRATION: 1634 (based on admission to freemanship on 6 May 1635 [MBCR 1:370]).

FIRST RESIDENCE: Watertown.

REMOVES: Wethersfield 1636, Stamford 1641.

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP: Admission to Watertown church prior to 6 May 1635 implied by freemanship.

FREEMAN: 6 May 1635 (as "John Reynolls," third in a sequence of eight Watertown men) [MBCR 1:370].

On 29 Ma[rch] 1636, "the church of Waterton in the Massachusetts" dismissed six men, including "Rob[er]te [sic] Reynold," to "form anew in a church covenant in the River of Conectecott" [CCCR 1:2]. (ROBERT REYNOLDS {1634, Boston} was a member of the church at Boston, while the subject of the present sketch was a member of Watertown church at least a year before the Connecticut record given just above, so we conclude that the Connecticut record pertains to John Reynolds, and there is no connection of Robert Reynolds with Watertown and Wethersfield.)

OFFICEHOLDING: Watertown lotlayer, 14 November 1635 [WaTR 1:2].

ESTATE: In the 1644 Watertown Inventory of Grants, "John Reinolds" held one parcel: "homestall of five acres & half" [WaBOP 97]. (This homelot would have been granted to Reynolds upon his arrival in 1634, and had been sold to Miles Nutt by 1636 [WaBOP 44, 97, 129].)

In the Wethersfield land inventory on 11 February 1640[1?], "John Raynolds" held seven parcels: "one piece whereon his house now standeth containing by estimation three acres two roods lying in meadow row"; "one piece lying in the Great Meadow containing by estimation ten acres"; "one piece lying in the furthest west field containing by estimation 19 acres"; "also one other piece lying in the furthest west field containing by estimation 13 acres"; "one piece lying on the east side of Conecticut containing in breadth 25 rods & in length 3 miles"; "one piece lying in pennywise containing by estimation four acres one rood"; and "one piece lying in the great swamp containing by estimation ten acres" [WetLR 1:256; CTLR 1:Wethersfield:1]. By 20 May 1644, John Reynolds had sold these seven parcels to John Hollister [WetLR 1:82].

At the time of the settlement of Stamford, "Jo[hn] Renoulds" contributed three bushels and two pecks of corn to the purchase price of the land [Stamford TR 1:5; TAG 10:40] and in 1641 he made further contributions [Stamford TR 1:7]. In 1641 "Jo[hn] Renoulds" was granted eleven acres of marsh and upland at Stamford [Stamford TR 1:6; TAG 10:41]. "Jo[hn] Renoulds" appears in a Stamford rate list for 7 January 1642[3?] [Stamford TR 1:15; TAG 10:43].

BIRTH: By about 1606 (based on estimated date of marriage).

DEATH: After 7 January 1642[3?] [Stamford TR 1:15] and probably before 1650 (when the Stamford land inventory was compiled, without an entry for John Reynolds).

MARRIAGE: By about 1631 _____ (perhaps Sarah _____ [see COMMENTS below]).

CHILDREN:

- i JONATHAN REYNOLDS, b. say 1631; m. by about 1656 Rebecca _____ (the inventory of the estate of Jonathan Reynolds, taken on 23 January 1673[4?], included a list of his children with their ages on that date, the oldest of whom was 17 [Fairfield PD Case #5194; Fairfield PR 2:75-76]). (In 1998 Gordon L. Remington presented evidence that Rebecca was not the daughter of Angel Huestis, as has been claimed, but rather became the second wife of Angel Huestis after the death of Jonathan Reynolds. The parentage of Rebecca remains unknown [TAG 73:201-6].)
- ii ELIZABETH REYNOLDS, b. say 1634; m. Stamford 15 July 1654 Peter Ferris [Stamford TR 1:55], son of JEFFREY FERRIS {1634, Watertown} [GM 2:2:517-21].
- iii JOHN REYNOLDS, b. say 1636; m. by about 1668 Judah Palmer, daughter of WILLIAM PALMER {1636, Watertown} [Miner Anc 142-43; NYGBR 86:211-12; GM whose wife was born 2 TRENT of Putnamson som

2:2:520]. (Marion H. Reynolds claimed that Judah Palmer was a daughter of Henry Palmer, by accepting an earlier creation for him of a non-existent second wife and accompanying set of children, made by Spencer Mead [Greenwich Hist 618-30; John Reynolds Descendants 31]. This error was corrected by Josephine C. Frost and the correction was further amplified by Jacobus and by McCracken [Miner Anc 142-43; NYGBR 71:362, 86:211-12]. Reynolds provided partial extracts from two critical documents [the probate papers for John Bowers and John Palmer], without giving proper citations [Fairfield PD Case #923 and Case #4805].)

COMMENTS: Some sources suggest or claim that the wife of John Reynolds was named Sarah [Savage 3:525; John Reynolds Descendants 13-14, 21-22]. This claim is based on only two records. First, on 30 April 1634, "Sarah Reynolds," aged 20, took the oath of allegiance at Ipswich for passage to New England on the Elizabeth [Hotten 280]. Many of the passengers on this vessel settled at Watertown, so the association with the subject of the present sketch is understandable. However, given the ages we have estimated for the children of John Reynolds (making them a few years older than argued by Marion H. Reynolds [John Reynolds Descendants 22]), he would have been married by about 1631, when the passenger Sarah Reynolds would have been just seventeen. Such an age at first marriage is not, of course, impossible, but sufficiently unlikely to prevent the identification of this passenger with the wife of John Reynolds.

Second, two versions of a death record for a Sarah Reynolds were entered into Stamford town records. The first reads "Sarrah Reanolds died 31:6:1657 [31 August 1657]" and the second reads "Sarrah Reanolds died the 31 August 1657" [Stamford TR 1:19, 20; TAG 10:44, 45]. Marion H. Reynolds made the curious claim that the first of these reads "Sarrah Reanolds (wife of John) died 31-16-1657" [John Reynolds Descendants 21]. Even more curiously, he claims in a footnote on the same page that the death record does not distinguish her as wife or widow. We shall argue below that John Reynolds died many years before 1657.

In sum, neither of these records can be definitely identified as pertaining to the wife of John Reynolds, whoever she may have been, and so we are left with no record that states the given name of that wife. The 1657 death record could be for the widow of John, but we simply do not know. Since there was no other Reynolds family in early Stamford, this Sarah dying in 1657 may well have been a member of the family in some way.

* The last certain record for John Reynolds was his appearance on the tax list of 7 January 1642[3?] [Stamford TR 1:15; TAG 10:43]. A land inventory was carried out at Stamford in 1650 and 1651, which does not include an entry for John Reynolds. If this inventory is complete, then Reynolds had probably died by that date. (In March 1651, in a description of the land of John Holly, the homelot was described in part as "bounded by the lot which was John Renoles [on the] south" [Stamford TR 1:51]. Such a reference does not imply that Reynolds was necessarily alive in March 1651.)

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTE: In 1924 Marion H. Reynolds compiled The History and Descendants of John and Sarah Reynolds [1630?-1923] of Watertown, Mass., and Wethersfield, Stamford and Greenwich, Conn. (Brooklyn, 1924), cited above as John Reynolds Descendants.

In 1976 Paul Prindle prepared an account of this immigrant [Gillespie Anc 387-90].

WALSLANT IS NOT PAYS DE VAUD

In the Holland Society Year Book for 1902 are printed a number of valuable passenger lists of Dutch vessels which reached the port of New Amsterdam in the seventeenth century. In the case of the family of Pierre Bielliou, which came on the Ship St. Jan Baptist, Captain Jan Bergen, 9 May 1661 (p. 18), and of three others, Pierre Martyn, Gerardus Ives, and Joost Grand, on D'Vos, Captain Jacob Jansz Huys (p. 21), 31 August 1682, the editor of these transcripts gives the point of origin as "Walslant or Pays de Vaud," but he does not so identify Walslant for other passengers.

Pays de Vaud is today part of Switzerland and in the German language is now called Walsland, but it is an error to think that these immigrants came from Pays de Vaud. Suspecting that Walsland means nothing more than "land of the Walloons," I inquired of Mr. C. M. R. Davidson, secretary of the Koninklijk Nederlandsch Genootschap voor Geslacht- en Wapenkunde at the Hague, whether this was not so and am assured that "Wals[ch]-lant was the area from which the Walloons came." The Walloons were Protestant refugees who came to Holland and founded Walloon churches there in the seventeenth century. They came principally from Flanders, Brabant, Hainault, and the Chastelenie of Lille. Mr. Davidson cites A. de Smet, "Les Belges ont-ils pris part à la fondation de New York?" [Bulletin de la Classe des Lettres et des Sciences Morales et Politiques de l'Académie Royale de Belgique, 5th Series, vol. 39 (1953), Brussels, Palais des Académies, Rue Ducale 1]. De Smet says that the Walloons who were founders of New York were from the southern parts of the former counties of Hainaut and Flanders ceded to France in 1658, 1659, and 1678, but at the date of the founding of New York, these regions belonged to the southern Low Countries.

I offer this note in order to save others from the trouble of searching for families of this group in Switzerland.

WALTER BUTLER, PENOYER, AND REYNOLDS

Since the appearance of my article on Walter Butler of Greenwich, Conn., and his children, two valued correspondents have favored me with supplementary information. [Supra, 32:145-6.]

I am indebted to Dr. Robert R. Buell of Prairie du Sac, Wisconsin, for calling my attention to an item in sent me the items bearing on this from M. H. Reynolds, Descendants of John and Sarah Reynolds (1924), a book not readily accessible to me when I wrote the article. The inventory (pp. 28-30) of Jonathan Reynolds lists the names and ages of his children as Jonathan (13), John (11), Joseph (4), Rebecca (16), Sarah (8), and Elizabeth (6). As the date of the statement was 23 Jan. 1673/4, the year 1673 should be used as the basis for figuring back the approximate dates of birth, and that would place Rebecca's birth as 1657. That date agrees within a year with the age at death of Walter Butler's widow, supposing that it was she who married second, Peter Clapham, and third, a Brown, as seems most probable. She would thus be sister-in-law of Joshua Knapp (husband of Elizabeth Reynolds) who was her co-administrator on the estate of Walter Butler, and sister of Jonathan Reynolds who with Knapp was guardian of the Clapham children.

The Reynolds book gives no certain history of Rebecca Reynolds, merely suggesting that she was wife of Thomas Hobby on the basis of a mere query in the Boston Transcript which adduced no evidence.

ON NAMES OF DUTCH GRANDCHILDREN

Referring to Dr. McCracken's article under the above title [supra, 32:96-7], I think from my own studies that there was some tendency, especially in the early period, to follow the so-called pattern of naming the children. My tentative conclusions are:

1. Very frequently, much more so than in the New England settlements, the oldest son is named for the paternal grandfather, the second one for the maternal. If, however, the first child dies in infancy, the second son repeats the name, and the third one takes the other grandfather's name.
2. When not named in this order, the names are often reversed, so that the oldest two sons at least bear their grandfathers' names.
3. The first two daughters as frequently bear their grandmothers' names, more often first the maternal one, but there does not seem to be any decided preference for this. In the case of the sons, there does seem to be a preference for the paternal grandfather's name first.
4. This tendency seems strongest in the earlier generations. Even in the third generation, the colonial families are often breaking away from the "pattern," sometimes from family names altogether.

Westchester County, N.Y., Deeds, Liber 4, p. 26. This item was cited in Lillian L. M. Selleck, One Branch of the Miner Family (1928), p. 146; a book which I edited, but I had forgotten this deed. It is to the following effect: "William Penoyer did bequeath to Walter Butler of Greenwich, Conn., son of Evan Butler of Cursopp in the County of Hereford, the sum of four score pounds. Jan. 1, 1677."

This gives us the point of origin and the name of the father of Walter Butler; his mother was probably a Penoyer. The will of William Penoyer, Esq., citizen and cloth-worker of London, dated 25 May 1670, proved 13 Feb. 1670/1, is found in Henry F. Waters, Genealogical Gleanings in England (1901), 1:504-5. Among the relatives remembered was Robert Penoyer, "of Stamford in New England," founder of the American branch of that family. Quite a number of Butlers were named, and the testator informs us that "All and every of the said persons of the surname of Butler being of my kindred." He gave to "Evan Butler of Cusopp, Hereford, seventy pounds and to his son Walter, now at New England, and to each other of his children threescore pounds apiece."

Of incidental interest is the fact that William Penoyer gave £5 to "Katherine Butler alias Roberts, sister of the aforesaid Evan Butler." In Middletown, Conn., is recorded the second marriage of Thomas Wetmore, Sr., on 8 Oct. 1673, to one "Katterne" [Katherine] Leeke—this surname has also been read Leete and Leere, but to the present writer the original entry looks most like Leeke. Wetmore seems to have been her third husband, because her will proves that she had children named Roberts, who founded the Middletown Roberts family. A great deal of research has failed to locate this Katherine in New England before her marriage to Wetmore, and it has been thought that she may have come from England with her Roberts children. She had no children by her second husband, Leeke if that was his name. It is therefore suggestive to find this Katherine Butler, in 1670 a widow Roberts [in the case of other female relatives, the will specifies the husband's names], who had near relatives in Connecticut. Although the time element is short, it would have been entirely possible for Katherine to have married a second husband later in 1670, to have lost him within a year or so, and to have been available in New England to marry Wetmore in 1673. This is pure hypothesis, but the possibility is presented as a basis for research to those interested in the origin of the second Mrs. Wetmore.

In my original article I suggested that Walter Butler's wife Rebecca may have been the eldest daughter of Jonathan, Sr., and Rebecca (Husted) Reynolds. Dr. George E. McCracken of Des Moines, Iowa, has kindly BIRTH: By about 1612 based on date of freemanship.

DEATH: Possibly died at Sandwich in late 1640 or shortly thereafter, but may have returned to England about that time. (Savage says, under Carman, "d. 1638," but this is clearly wrong.)

MARRIAGE: None recorded.

CHILDREN: None recorded.

ASSOCIATIONS: There is no evidence that he had any family, and he simply disappears from the records after 1640. Since he was the only passenger on the Plough (which carried the earliest contingent of the Company of Husbandmen) to remain in New England more than a few months, his origins and later fate may be sought with others of that group who remained in or returned to England.

COMMENTS: The evidence for distinguishing John Kirman of Lynn and Sandwich from JOHN CARMAN of Roxbury and Hempstead has been presented in the sketch of the latter.

On 6 July 1631 Winthrop noted in his journal the arrival of a ship, which ran aground at Watertown, with ten passengers. "These were the company called the Husbandmen, and their ship called the Plough. Most of them proved familists and vanished away" [WJ 1:69]. The last sentence was a late gloss, and John Kirman was the only passenger on the Plough who didn't vanish away immediately.

On 8 March 1631/2 the Company of Husbandmen sent a letter to New England, addressed to "Mr. Crispe, John Cermen, John Smith and the rest of our Society" [WP 3:67, also 103]. On 18 October 1631 the General Court had ordered five men to distribute to John Kirman one-eighth of "the estate of Mr. Crispe & his company" [MBCR 1:92]; and on 7 April 1635 Capt. Trask was ordered to make a further distribution to John Kirman "out of the estate of the company of husbandmen" [MBCR 1:143]. (For more on the Company of Husbandmen, see the sketch of STEPHEN BACHILER.)

In the earliest list of Cambridge residents, the eight names which probably date to 1632, appears John Kirman. There are several reasons to believe that this is the member of the Company of Husbandmen, who would soon remove to Lynn. John Kirman appears in no later Cambridge records; in this same early list of Cambridge men are John Poole, who also went to Lynn, and William Spencer, two of whose younger brothers settled in Lynn; the Plough ran aground near Watertown, and nearly all the men who made the distribution in 1631 were of Watertown, so the first settlement of John Kirman in Cambridge is reasonable. He probably moved to Lynn in 1632 upon the arrival of Rev. STEPHEN BACHILER, the spiritual leader of the Company of Husbandmen.

In the lists of freemen, eighteen men are admitted on 4 March 1632/3. The first five are of Roxbury, the next five of Dorchester, and then there are two Cambridge men - John White and William Spencer. Next is John Kirman, and then Timothy Tomlins. This also would be the Cambridge/Lynn man, having been admitted to the Watertown church along with White and Spencer (the Cambridge church was not organized until 11 October 1633), or to the Salem church with Timothy Tomlins (who was also an early Lynn resident). Also, since John Kirman of Lynn was later deputy to the General Court, and since deputies were required to be freemen, this would be the Lynn man rather than the Roxbury man, even though the latter was admitted to Roxbury church in time to be made free on this date.

On 3 April 1637 "John Carman" is listed as one of the "ten men of Saugust" who were authorized by Plymouth court "to view a place to sit down," the first step in the settlement of Sandwich [PCR 1:57].

The "John Carman" who appears in a Plymouth deed of 14 September 1638 is a scribal error for JOHN CANNON.

NICHOLAS KNAPP

ORIGIN: Unknown

MIGRATION: 1630

FIRST RESIDENCE: Watertown

REMOVES: Stamford 1646

EDUCATION: Signed will by mark. His inventory included books valued at 6s. 6d.

ESTATE: Granted thirty acres in the Great Dividend in Watertown, 25 July 1636 [WaBOP 4]; granted six acres in Beaverbrook Plowlands, 28 February 1636/7 [WaBOP 6]; granted seven acres in Remote Meadows, 26 June 1637 [WaBOP 9]; granted a farm of 117 acres, 10 May 1642 [WaBOP 12].

In the Watertown Inventory of Grants "Nicholas Knap" held seven parcels of land: sixteen acre homestall; two acres in Pine Marsh; one acre of meadow; thirty acres of upland in Great Dividend; six acres of plowland in the Hither Plain [Beaverbrook Plowlands]; seven acres in Remote Meadows; and thirteen acres of upland beyond the Farther Plain [WaBOP 86]; in the Composite Inventory he held eight parcels, comprising the seven parcels of the Inventory of Grants plus the 117 acre farm [WaBOP 29].

On 29 September 1645 "Nicholas Knap of Watertowne" sold to Edward Garfield one acre of meadow [SLR 1:71].

On 6 May 1646 "Nicholas Knapp of Watertowne" sold to Bryan Pendleton "all his land in Watertowne granted by the town as by the transcript may appear with all the housing thereupon (only one acre in Pond Meadow formerly being sold excepted) with all the privileges thereunto belonging" [SLR 1:71].

In his will, dated 15 April 1670 (date of probate not shown), "Nicolas Knap of Standford" bequeathed to son Moses Knap "my house and land in Standford with all the meadows and upland belonging unto me," with some moveables; to son Timothy money due to Nicholas; to son Caleb "the loom and half the gears"; to son "Josuah" the other "half of the gears"; to daughter Sarah Disbrowe the money due to me from her husband"; to daughter Hanna one mare; to daughter "Lidea the mare that was Mr. Bishop's with the increase she hath"; to daughter Ruth 20s.; to "my two daughters-in-law viz: Sarah & Uneca Buxton" clothes, a Bible, and their share of the estate of their father Clement Buxton; son Joshua to be executor [Fairfield PR 2:55].

The inventory of "Nicolas Knap" was taken 27 April 1670 and totalled £166 13s. 11½d., of which the "house and lands" totalled £50 [Fairfield PR 2:56].

BIRTH: By about 1606 based on estimated date of marriage.

DEATH: Stamford between 15 April 1670 (date of will) and 27 April 1670 (date of inventory).

MARRIAGE: (1) By 1631 Elinor ____; she d. Stamford 16 August 1658 [TAG 10:45].

(2) Stamford 9 March 165[8]/9 Unica (____) (Buxton) Brown [TAG 10:113]. She was widow of Clement Buxton and Peter Brown [Gillespie Anc 61-63], and had apparently died by 15 April 1670, as she is not mentioned in her third husband's will.

CHILDREN:

- i JONATHAN, b. Watertown early November 1631 (calc.); bur. Watertown 27 December 1631 "aged 7 weeks" [WaVR 3].
- ii TIMOTHY, b. Watertown 14 December 1632 [WaVR 3]; m. by about 1658 Bethia ____ (said to have been Bethia Brundish).
- iii JOSHUA, b. Watertown 5 January 1634/5 [WaVR 3]; m. Stamford 9 June 1657 Hannah Close [TAG 10:45].
- iv CALEB, b. Watertown 20 January 1636/7 [WaVR 4]; m. by 1661 Hannah Smith (eldest child b. Stamford 24 November 1661 [TAG 10:174]; in his will of 4 July 1687 Henry Smith of Stamford bequeathed to grandson John Knapp [FOOF 1:575]).

viii MOSES, b. say 1645; m. by 1669 Abigail Westcott (on 4 January 1669/[70] Moses Knapp receipted, in the right of his wife, for his share of the estate of Richard Westcott [FOOF 1:660]).

ix LYDIA, b. say 1647; m. Fairfield 16 January 1666/7 Isaac Hall [FOOF 1:250].

ASSOCIATIONS: See WILLIAM KNOPP for a discussion of suggestions of a relationship between William and Nicholas.

COMMENTS: 1 March 1630/1: "Nich: Knopp is fined £5 for taking upon him to cure the scurvy by a water of no worth nor value, which he sold at a very dear rate, to be imprisoned till he pay his fine, or give security for it, or else to be whipped, & shall be liable to any man's action of whom he hath received money for the said water" [MBCR 1:83]; on 7 August 1632 "£3 of Knop's fine of £5 remitted" [MBCR 1:99]; at the general amnesty of 6 September 1638 it was noted that part of this fine "was paid, & the rest was remitted" [MBCR 1:243].

In the Beaverbrook Plowlands Nicholas Knapp received six acres, and in the Remote Meadows seven acres. Since these lands were granted in part on household size, this would suggest a birth in the interval between the two grants; the birth of Caleb fell exactly one month before the Beaverbrook Plowlands grant, and it may be that this was not taken into account for the Beaverbrook Plowlands grant, but was for the Remote Meadows grant.

At the date of the Remote Meadows grant of seven acres, the Nicholas Knapp family was known to have five members: Nicholas, wife Elinor, and sons Timothy, Joshua and Caleb. This permits the possibility that there were one or two more persons in the household, not necessarily children; but the difference might also be explained if Nicholas had sufficient wealth in cattle, the other criterion for the size of these grants.

JOHN KNIGHT

4 March 1632/3: "There is administration granted to Roger Ludlow, Esq., of the goods and chattels of John Knight, who deceased in November last" [MBCR 1:103].

COMMENTS: The grant of administration to ROGER LUDLOW indicates that this John Knight was of Dorchester.

A "John Knite" received grants of land in Dorchester on 1 September and 22 November 1634 [DTR 7, 8]; on both occasions he was in a group

HUSBAND - Enos PECK Capt.-138

Enos Peck Sr. was born Greenwich Fairfield Co. CT ca 1752; he married twice. (source?).

Enos moved to New Milford Ct with his mother Sarah (Reynolds) Peck sometime after the 1759 death of father Peter Peck.

Enos Peck died in Camillus Onondaga Co. N.Y. 23 May 1835.

Enos Peck was buried as Capt. in Oran Cem. Pompey NY, publ. cem bk lists him on page with Rev. Soldiers - Enos Peck, father of Enos Peck of Camillus; came to Pompey from VT, then went to Cato NY in 1806. Served in Capt. Bigelow Lawrence's Co. in '81, and was also at Bennington and Saratoga. Bought Lot 23 May 12 1798.

(Note: Rank must be from militia service after the Rev. War. because he was listed as a Pvt in the war. Lot must be in Pompey).

Enos Peck died 5/22/1835, 83 yrs, Rev. Soldier, Member Pioneer Ass'n. See " Pompey, Our Town in Profile", p. 237-238. (Are there any extant records for pioneer Ass'n)?

Ebenezer Wright and wife Rachel Marsh, (sister of Enos' wf Anna Marsh and her husband) were bur. in Oran Cem. Pompey, NY, where Enos Peck was buried. No gravestone found for wife Anna (Marsh) Peck or wife Mrs. Lavina (Wilcox) (Olcott) Peck there as of 2004. Lavina was perhaps buried with her first husb. Mr. Olcott.

Wife 1.

Enos Peck and Anna Marsh, were married 17 Feb 1775, as found in New Fairfield, Fairfield Co. Ct, p. 69, typed Vital Records, p. 91, (married by Ephraim Hubbel, J.P.).

Marriage also found in New Fairfield Congregational Church records online at Rootsweb, taken from church records and Ephraim Hubbel marriage Records. U.S. Genweb project.

Marriage date also listed in Barbour records for CT.

lived and died, lists five heirs, including son Thomas who went to Canada, then moved to Mansfield leaving ten heirs, including Elihu who lived in Mansfield until his marriage to Saraviah Abbey and moved to New Fairfield, now called Sherman, and from thence to New Milford where he lived and died leaving heirs, including Elihu the 2nd. Elihu married Martha Waters. Elihu Marsh Jr. lived and died in Sherman leaving 2 children, Rachel who married Ebenezer Wright and ANNA WHO MARRIED ENOS PECK.

(Note that in this bible, Canada was Canada Parish, Windham Co. CT; all the place names were in CT; Saraviah was known as Zerviah, handwriting must have been misinterpreted. All of the items in the bible for this branch of the family checks out correctly with other documents.

Enos Peck's wife's maiden name Anna Marsh was listed in family bible of Daniel Thomas and wife Phebe Peck, info submitted by Russell L. Warner GRS, (CSG #1447) certified Genealogist, and published in CT Nutmegger V. 5, pp. 308-309.

Thomas family bible lists birth and death in Pompey, NY, (whose b. and d.?), marriage 26 Dec 1793 of Daniel Thomas in Addison Co. VT to Phebe Peck who was born in VT July 25 1778, died 12 Dec 1850, d/o Enos and Anna (Marsh) Peck. Bible follows with ch. of the Thomas family.

Anna (Marsh) Peck was alive 26 April 1787 in New Haven, Addison Co VT, when she appeared and acknowledged that she signed deed with husband Enos Peck in Shaftsbury Bennington Co. VT. Deed was written 26 May 1784 in Shaftsbury Bennington Co. VT when the Pecks lived there and sold 3 acres to Elijah Whipple. V2, p. 190.

1791 March, Addison Co. VT, V. 1, p. 252, Enos Peck of New Haven VT, sold land for 50 lbs, all my right, title of first 100 acre Division, Lot 8 of original right of Samuel Elmer and the first 100 acre division of original right of Elias Read Lot 7, except 10 acres lying in the Square from N.W. corner of said Lot, which belongs to Isaac Matthews in the Township of New Haven. Sold to Rachel Wright, wf of Ebenezer Wright of New Haven VT. Recorded 1791, March 19. (Note that Rachel Wright was his sister in law, nee Rachel Marsh. No wife of Enos signed deed, which might indicate that Anna was deceased. If so, the last 4 ch. of Enos would be by 2nd wf. Needs further study).

REV. WAR RECORD FROM NATIONAL ARCHIVES, bk mark R.P. 431.636. Card nos. 37214043 and 37214105.

Enos Peck Sr. Served in Rev. War, VT Militia, Col. Walbridge Regiment, Capt. Bigelow Lawrence's Co. Pay stubs Bennington VT #593, service at Casleton in the alarm, 11 days, 55 miles, Oct 1781, pay table Dec. 26, 1781, one lb, 13.0; Alarm @ Cambridge and Saratoga, July 1781, 2 days, 25 miles, 0 lbs, 11. Paid at Bennington Dec. 24, 1781. Served at Bennington 1781. Rank not listed on these paystubs.

DAR Patriot Index Centennial Edition calls Enos Peck a Pvt. In Rev. War.

Enos Peck listed in Soldiers. Sailors, Patriots of Rev. War, VT, p. 399, Publ. 1992.

1782, 1784, 1785 Shaftsbury VT deeds, Enos Peck still had wife Anna.

Enos Peck's first 5 ch definitely by first wife Anna Marsh, who signed deeds up to April 1787, (must find that deed).

One published query lists Enos Peck's last two children by 2nd wife Lavina Wilcox.

Son Almond Peck in 1880 census lists his father as b. VT and his mother as b. CT. Thus Almon may have been s/o Anna Marsh, since Lavina was supposedly born NY.

wife 2.

Mrs. Lavina Wilcox, widow of James Olcott (she married Olcott ca 1790 and had 2 ch by him, Philander and Lavina acc. to a query, so assume earliest birth for ch would be 1790 and 1792 or much later. Lavina's marriage to Enos Peck had to be after 1793).

(One Philander W. Olcott b. NYS was b. 1794, poss. s/o Lavina).

Enos and Lavina Peck signed deeds in Onondaga Co. NY, in yrs 1805 and 1812.

Peck Gen'y lists 2nd wf as Lavina Wilcox.

so, our Enos was definitely in Vt in 1796 as proven thru deed with Ebenezer Wright, and maybe still in Vt in 1796. However there was another Enos Peck in the same area, I think. Needs more study. Grandson Calvin Peck, who was s/o son Elihu, was born in Pompey Onondaga Co. NY in 1798, which probably puts Enos Peck there also. Elihu Peck prob. married wife Ruana Farnham in Onondaga Co. NY ca 1797/8, where her father Eber Farnham resided in Pompey area. They perhaps met. in Onondaga Co. N.Y.

1800 census, Pompey, Onondaga Co. NY, Enos Peck was listed next to son Elihu Peck and Enos' bro in law Ebenezer Wright and Jonathan Farnham Jr. and Philo Farnham.

Enos Peck - males 31001; females 31001. Enos over 45 yrs, female over 45 yrs. This indicates a female of age to be wife in household. She could have been either of his wives.

Elihu Peck was obviously named after his grandpa Elihu Marsh.

Elihu Peck died 19 March 1841 , age 64, 7 mo, 7 days, which calculates to birth 12 Aug 1776, buried Warners Cemetery Tn of Van Buren, Warners, Onondaga Co. N.Y.

proof that Elihu Peck was s/o father's first wife Anna (Marsh) Peck is calculated - because Elihu's next younger sibling Phebe, b. 1777, was listed in CT Nutmegger, V5 p. 308 as d/o wife Anna.

Also see 1784 deed in Shaftsbury, Bennington Co. VT, Enos and wf Anna Peck; Anna later deposed, in late April 1787, in New Haven, Addison Co. VT, that she signed the 1784 deed in Shaftsbury Bennington Co. VT. 1787 is the last record I have showing Anna, wf of Enos Peck.

Bk G, pp 213-217, copy of will submitted to me by Baker, Hinsdale, Peck cousin Bob White.

Elihu Peck of Van Buren, Onondaga Co. N.Y. made his will March 6, 1841. No wife was named in his will. Elihu bequeathed $400 to Almy Peck, wife of my son Ethan Peck, and $120 to Elizabeth Cornell. I further order that my execs shall make a such a distribution of the residue of the money remaining from my estate as shall seem to them seem equitable and just with a reference to their many circumstances and the help they have had from me. I appoint Peter Peck, Enos Peck and Philo Peck, execs. I appoint Peter Peck to be guardian ___ of my children as shall be underage. I have requested Peter Peck, Cyrus H. Kingsley, J. H. Lamerson to subscribe their names to this instrument etc.

Elihu Peck signed his will by mark..

Witnesses were Peter Peck, Cyrus H. Kingsley, John H. Lamerson, all of Van Buren.

Joseph W. Loomis was appointed Guardian ad Litem for Elihu's 3 minor children Lyman, Elihu and Matilda Peck. for the purpose of settling the estate.

Eleven heirs and next of kin were named on 23 March 1841 when the will was presented for recording. They were: Catrin Peck, Patty Cornell, wf of Nathaniel Cornell, Luana Barnes, wf of Damion Barnes, Ethan Peck, Lyman Peck, Elihu Peck and Matilda Peck, of the town of Van Buren; Emily Abrams, wf of Daniel Abrams, Aurelia Tuttle, wf of Henry Tuttle, Anna Hinsdale, wife of Ira Hinsdale, of the town of Camillus, all of the Co. of Onondaga; and Eunice Janes, wf of Richmond Janes, of the town of Hannibal in the Co. of Oswego N.Y.

Eight of the same heirs signed and Joseph W. Loomis, Guardian ad litem for the other 3 minor heirs signed when the will was presented for recording.

The will was recorded in the Surrogate Court 5 April 1841, Surr. ___ Minard..

Note that the execs named, Peter and Enos Peck were likely Elihu's brothers, and Philo Peck was perhaps Elihu's son. However, Philo was not named as an heir and did not sign when the will was recorded. Yet, Philo was alive.

Catrin Peck named first as an heir probably was Calvin, the signature later looks like Calvin, Patty is a common nickname for Martha, the doc. clearly lists Luana Barnes, but the signature is Ruania later.

Why was Philo omitted as an heir. He was alive. Who was Elizabeth Cornell who rec'd $120? Why was son Ethan's wife Almy bequested $400. Note that Elihu had been widowed for about 5 or 7 yrs and he had minor children. Perhaps one of these women was raising his minor children.

Elihu Peck met Ruana Farnham by late 1797, in order to have child born Oct. 1798 in Pompey. Both Peck and Farnham families had to be in Onon. Co. by that date. Elihu's father Enos was in New Haven VT in April 1796, so presumably Elihu moved to Pompey ca Spring 1796-late 1797. I did not find Eber Farnham in Onon. Co. in 1800.

1800 census Pompey, Onondaga Co NY, Elihu Peck - males 10200; females 1010.

Elihu lived between his Uncle Ebenezer Wright who married Elihu's mother's sister Rachel Marsh and between Elihu's father Enos Peck.. Jonathan Farnham Jr. listed right after Enos Peck, bottom of p. next page top was Philo Farnham. (Note that Ephraim Lord was listed on Elihu's page, maybe the same one that m. into Joseph2 Baker family of Oswego Co., s/o Matthew1.).

1810 census Tn of Camillus, Onondaga Co. NY, Elihu Peck was listed next to father Enos Peck. Elihu - males 11120, females 2110100.

1812 Elihu and Ruany Peck sold land in Cato, Cayuga Co. NY.

Son Philo Peck listed on same pg as well as 2 Lanes and David Cornell at bottom of p. Previous pg has son in law Nathaniel Cornell and other Cornells.

1840 census Van Buren NY, Elihu Peck next to his brothers Isaac and Peter Peck, John H. Lamberson next to Elihu, then John Freeman.

Elihu had 001120001; females 0012. Elihu 60-70 yrs, boys 10-15, 15-20 and 2 boys 20-30; females 10-15 and 2 of them 15-20. (Note that for males last mark is faint in 60-70 column).

Peck Gen'y has his birth as 1 Jan'y 1775 and death as 7 March 1841.

Elihu Peck died 19 March 1841, age 64, 7 mo, 7 days, calculates to 12 Aug 1776, buried Warners Cemetery Tn of Van Buren, Onondaga Co. Warners, NY.

proof that Elihu Peck was s/o father's first wife Anna Marsh Peck is calculated - because next younger sibling Phebe b. 1777 was listed in CT Nutmegger, V5 p308 as d/o Anna.

Also deeds in Shaftsbury VT, Enos with wf Anna Peck as late as 1787.

Ref: William Peck Of New Haven by Darius Peck #328. Hist. Cayuga Co. by Storke, p 289, Onondaga Co. Obits by Voorhees. Res. Pompey, then Cato 1804, then Camillus, Van Buren.

Elihu may have been born Shaftsbury VT since his father had deeds there until 1786. Ditto his next four siblings. Elihu with father in Pompey, Onon. before 1804. In 1804 to Cato, Cayuga Co. NY.

April 1796, Elihu's father Enos Peck was still in Addison Co VT, in a deed, so son Elihu prob. still there also. Elihu can be calculated to have moved to Onon Co. between spring 1796- early 1798.

1798 Elihu's son Calvin was b. in Pompey Onon Co.

Elihu Peck owned Lots 41 and 42 in Onon Co. (Grace Mayer).

1808-1813, 3 children supposedly born in Cato, Cayuga NY

Then follows dau. Anna Thomas

Note that 1850 census Pompey NY lists Phebe 71 yrs b. VT ca 1779 and DAVID (clearly) Thomas 81 yrs b. VT ca 1769 VT.

1840 census no Daniel in Pompey, but a David there, next to Edmond Thomas and Caleb Farnham and Ebenezer Wright. Reck these Daniel and david names in 1840.

Marr in VT is probable based on fact that her father was there in the yr that she married.

Phebe's birth in his submission differs from the Peck Geny which gives it as 4 May 1777.

Phebe's ch not mentioned in Peck Geny.

OBITUARY.

Died, at Amboy, in the town of Camillus, on the 26th ult., Mr. Ira Hinsdale, in the 39th year of his age.

Mr. Hinsdale was born in the town of Camillus, and here spent the most of his life.— He was a man of uncommon energy, perseverance and discretion in the transaction of his temporal affairs, and in these was a pattern worthy of imitation. Frank, generous and kind, the needy or suffering never went from his door unrelieved. He was particularly anxious for the rising generation, and regretted the existence of those vices with which they are surrounded. He was a lover of good Society, and was one of the principle founders of the Presbyterian Society, and contributed freely of his property for the erection of the house of worship, although then not a professor of religion. He afterward contributed liberally for the support of the institutions of the gospel.

To his great grief, he deferred the all important matters of the soul until a late period of his mortal existence; yet more than three months previous to his departure, (and while in the full strength of his mind, and during the visitations of the Spirit in the community—after anxious days and sleepless nights, in view of his sin,) was he seen sitting at the feet of the Saviour. And after a few weeks he sealed his unlying attachment to God with his children around the table spread with the emblems of redeeming love. It was one of his fears lest his should be called a death bed repentance. As the last scenes of life were wearing away, and the King of terrors was approaching, his strength in God was more firm. It was one of his fears lest his should be called a death bed repentance. As the last scenes of life were wearing away, and the King of terrors was approaching, his strength in God was more firm. Scarcely it the privilege of any to see the work of divine grace progress more rapidly than it did in him. The day but one before he died, and the morning of his last, he spent in imparting his dying counsels to his family and friends, during which time hardly one individual went from his bed without a word of solemn advice from the dying man. His last few days were spent mostly in prayer, the submissive desire of his heart being that the will of God might be done. As the hour of dissolution came, with the smile of heaven on his countenance, he exclaimed, Come Lord Jesus, come quickly! and said to his friends around him, Farewell! I am going to glory—and expired.

Notes

Proof of parentage of Anna or Ann Peck who married ira Hinsdale and Justus Townsend.

Anna Hinsdale , wf of Ira Hinsdale, of the Town of Camillus, Onondaga Co. NY was one of eleven heirs and next of kin of Elihu Peck, when Elihu's will was presented for recording on 23 March 1841, Onondaga Co. Surrogate Court. See long listing below.

Mrs. Justus Townsend's obit names her birth yr, her father as Elihu Peck of Van Buren, Onondaga Co., name and death yr of her first husband Ira Hinsdale, the names and place of residence of all her children. Also yr that she remarried to Townsend.

Syracuse Daily Journal , January 3 1878.
Town News Western Onondaga.

Amboy, Jan. 2. On NY Day, the funeral services of the late Mrs. Justus Townsend, of Lysander, were held from her residence at nine AM. Solemn and impressive services were conducted by Rev. Mr. ?Sell, pastor of Congregational church at Lysander, assisted by Rev. ?B. B. Dayton, of Amboy. Very many of the neighbors and friends were gathered to pay their last respects to the departed and to mingle their ___ and sympathies with the bereaved family. Brief and appropriate services were held at the grave by Rev. ?B.B. Dayton, assisted by Rev. Mr. ?Sell or Sill.

The life of Mrs. T. deserves more than a passing notice, and is worthy of an obituary, from an abler pen than your correspondent. Hers was one of those characters made up of charity for all, with malice toward none, an even, quiet temperament, which to know was to love and admire, and which attracts all by whom it comes in contact. She was the youngest daughter of the late Elihu Peck, of Van Buren, born in 1816, and in early life married to Ira Hinsdale, with whom hers was a life of happiness and worldly prosperity.

Mr. H. died in 1849, leaving four sons and one daughter, all young. The double parental care of whom devolved on the young widowed mother. Tenderly and faithfully did she perform her duty to her little family. One son David, survived his father but a short time. All the others survived their mother and reside as follows: Mary, wife of Charles A. Baker of Medina, Orleans Co.; Aaron Y., at Lindonville, (sic), same county; Ira, at Sedalia MO, and Alfred L., who owns and occupies the paternal home at Amboy. Although living so far away, all were permitted to attend their mother in her sickness, and to be present at her burial.

In 1867 , her second marriage was contracted with Justus Townsend, of Lysander, with whom the later portion of her life has been one of simple unallayed happiness, such as seldom falls to the lot of mortals. Possessed of abundance, Mr and Mrs. T. practically possessed the happy disposition so rarely found, to make use of their means for their own pleasure and for the benefit of all around them. In her death Mr. T. has lost a devoted, faithful companion, her children a loving mother, the community one whom all esteemed as a friend, the Church of Christ a most exemplary member.

Her sickness was a severe and painful one, yet borne with Christian fortitude and resignation. All feel "she is not lost but gone before." The family have the sincere, heartfelt sympathy of all in this community in their sad bereavement.

(Note that 2nd husb. Justus W. Townsend died 5 days after Anna).

Anna Peck boprn 1816, was definitely d/o Elihu Peck's wife Ruana Farnham , because Elihu and Ruana Peck sold land together in 1812, which proves marr. by 1812.

In 1867 her second marriage was contracted with Justus Townsend, of Lyander, with whom the latter portion of her life has been one of simple unalloyed happiness, such as seldom falls to the lot of mortals. Possessed of abundance, Mr. and Mrs. T. practically possessed the happy disposition so rarely found, to make use of their means for their own pleasure and for the benefit of all around them. In her death Mr. T. has lost a devoted, faithful, companion, her children a loving mother, the community one whom all ^{esteemed} as a friend, the Church of Christ a most ^{severe} exemplary member. Her sickness was a ^{gone} severe and painful one, yet borne with Christian fortitude and resignation. All feel "She is not lost but ^{sincere} gone before." The family have the sincere, heartfelt sympathy of all in this community in their sad bereavement.

Notes

Proof of parentage of Anna or Ann Peck who married ira Hinsdale and Justus Townsend.

I had her died Camillus - from what source?

She res. in Ira, Cayuga Co. NY in 1870 census, and husb. Justus died at his home in Ira, 5 days after she died. Obit calls her of Lysander. So, where did she die???

Anna Hinsdale , wf of Ira Hinsdale, of the Town of Camillus, Onondaga Co. NY was one of eleven heirs and next of kin of Elihu Peck, when Elihu's will was presented for recording on 23 March 1841, Onondaga Co. Surrogate Court. See long listing below.

Mrs. Justus Townsend's obit names her birth yr, her father as Elihu Peck of Van Buren, Onondaga Co., name and death yr of her first husband Ira Hinsdale, the names and place of residence of all her children. Also yr that she remarried to Townsend.

Syracuse Daily Journal , January 3 1878.

Town News - Western Onondaga.

Amboy, Jan. 2. On New Year's day, the funeral services of the late Mrs. Justus Townsend, of Lysander, were held from her residence at nine A.M. Solemn and impressive services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Sell, pastor of the Congregational church at Lysander, assisted by Rev. B. B. Dayton, of Amboy. Very many of the neighbors and friends were gathered to pay their last respects to the departed and to mingle their tears and sympathies with the bereaved family. Brief and appropriate services were held at the grave by Rev. B.B. Dayton, assisted by Rev. Mr. Sell.

The life of Mrs. T. deserves more than a passing notice, and is worthy of an obituary, from an abler pen than your correspondent. Hers was one of those characters made up of charity for all, with malice toward none, an even, quiet temperament, which to know was to love and admire, and which attracts all by whom it comes in contact. She was the youngest daughter of the late Elihu Peck, of Van Buren, born in 1816, and in early life married to Ira Hinsdale, with whom hers was a life of happiness and worldly prosperity.

Mr. H. died in 1849, leaving four sons and one daughter, all young. The double parental care of whom devolved on the young widowed mother. Tenderly and faithfully did she perform her duty to her little family. One son David, survived his father but a short time. All the others survived their mother and reside as follows: Mary, wife of Charles A. Baker of Medina, Orleans Co.; Aaron Y., at Lindenville, same county; Ira, at Sedalia Mo, and Alfred L., who owns and occupies the paternal home at Amboy. Although living so far away, all were permitted to attend their mother in her sickness, and to be present at her burial.

In 1867 , her second marriage was contracted with Justus Townsend, of Lysander, with whom the later portion of her life has been one of simple unallayed happiness, such as seldom falls to the lot of mortals. Possessed of abundance, Mr and Mrs. T. practically possessed the happy disposition so rarely found, to make use of their means for their own pleasure and for the benefit of all around them. In her death Mr. T. has lost a devoted, faithful companion, her children a loving mother, the community one whom all esteemed as a friend, the Church of Christ a most exemplary member.

Her sickness was a severe and painful one, yet borne with Christian fortitude and resignation. All feel "she is not lost but gone before." The family have the sincere, heartfelt sympathy of all in this community in their sad bereavement.

(Note that 2nd husb. Justus W. Townsend died 5 days after Anna).

Obit of Justus Townsend Evening Albumian Auburn NY January 10 1878.

We are called to chronicle the death also, of Hon. Justus Townsend, of Ira, though living just out of our town; he was frequently here, having been for many years a director of the farmer's joint stock insurance company of Meridian and one of it's trusted managers. Mr. Townsend was formerly a member of assembly from this district. A good neighbor and a christian gentleman.

Townsend - at his late residence in Ira, Cayuga Co. NY, on Thurs. Morn., January 3rd, Hon. Justus Townsend, aged 70 yrs. Funeral at the Congregational Church in Lysander, on Sat. the 6th inst..

A much earlier news article in Auburn Weekly Journal Wed Feb. 15 1854: (before marr. to Ann (Peck) Hinsdale)

The Hon. Justus Townsend - we deeply regret that the illness of Mr. Townsend, Member of Assembly from the first District of this County, has thus far prevented him from occupying his seat in the Assembly. he was attacked by bilious fever at the commencement of the session and has been confined at home since that time. we are happy to learn, however, that the prospect is flattering that he will soon be able to enter upon the discharge of his legislative duties.

Anna Peck, born 1816, was definitely d/o Elihu Peck's wife Ruana Farnham, because Elihu and Ruana Peck sold land together in 1812, which proves marr. by 1812.

Ancestors of Justus Washburn Townsend

Generation No. 1

1. Justus Washburn Townsend, born June 14, 1807 in South Salem, Westchester, New York; died January 03, 1878 in Lysander, Onondaga, New York. He was the son of 2. William Justus Townsend and 3. Ruth Rockwell. He married (1) Susan Matilda Chapman April 14, 1830 in Lysander, Onondaga, New York. She was born September 01, 1807 in East Haddam, Connecticut, and died November 16, 1865 in Lysander, Onondaga, New York. She was the daughter of Robert Bates Chapman and Mehitabel Richardson Willey. He married (2) Ann Hinsdale Aft. 1865.

Notes for Justus Washburn Townsend:

Justus Washburn Townsend was a Physician. Augustine Matson, our ancestor, visited at "Uncle Justus's" home frequently, as mentioned in his journals of 1854-1861. Justus Townsend was a member of the New York State Assembly from Cayuga Co, NY in 1854.

Generation No. 2

2. William Justus Townsend, born July 17, 1780 in North Salem, Westchester, New York; died February 04, 1853 in Lysander, Onondaga, New York. He was the son of 4. William Townsend and 5. Susannah Washburn. He married 3. Ruth Rockwell September 29, 1802 in South Salem, Westchester, New York.

3. Ruth Rockwell, born July 30, 1786 in Connecticut; died November 01, 1836 in Lysander, Onondaga, New York. She was the daughter of 6. Thaddeus Rockwell and 7. Mehitabel Smith.

Notes for William Justus Townsend:

In 1817 William Townsend with his wife, Ruth Rockwell, daughter of Thaddeus Rockwell and Mehitabel Smith, and five of his seven children, drove in a one horse wagon from Salem, Westchester County, NY and settled on a place (owned by Chapman Townsend in 1894) in the town of Ira, Cayuga County, NY "which was then a wilderness". He and his wife were admitted to the Lysander Presbyterian Church 19 Nov 1820. He was appointed Deacon in 1820 and Elder in 1830. The 1820 census (Cayuga, Cato 073) shows males 2 (-10), 2 (10-15), 1 (26-44); females 1 (16-25), 1 (26-44): 3 engaged in agriculture. The 1830 census (Cayuga, Ira shows 1 male under 5; 1 male 10-14; 1 male 15-19; 1 male 50-59; 1 female 5-9; 1 female 40-49. I could not locate the family in the 1840 census. William's second wife Mary Holly shows up on the 1850 census as having been born about 1786 in Connecticut. This is a bit confusing as I have a photograph identifying Ruth, but since she died 1 Nov 1836, before the advent of photography, it may be Mary. It is of a very old lady. William's second wife Mary was born about 1786 in Connecticut and probably married him in 1837 as she was admitted to the Lysander Congregational Church in Dec 1837. The 1850 census identifies William as a cabinet maker with real estate valued at $2200. He does not appear on the 1800 census although he may have been listed with his father as his household lists males in William's age bracket for those dates.

DAR cemetery records, # 37 p 15 list the following burials, just west of the hamlet of Lysander, Onondaga County, NY: Justus Townsend d. 3 Jan 1878 aged 70 years

wf. Susan M Townsend, wife of Justus d. 15 Nov 1865 aged 58 years

Hetty d. 6 Nov 1917 aged 82 years

Ruth Townsend 1833-1918

f. - Deacon William Townsend died 4 Feb 1853 aged 73 years

m. Ruth wife of Deacon William died 1 Nov 1836 age 50 years 4 months and 2 days

Mary, widow of J. N. Townsend died 2 Jun 1863 aged 77 years (this would make her the same age as Mary Holly Townsend on the 1850 census, perhaps the J N Townsend is really a misreading of William J Townsend. I could find no closely related Townsends with the initials J N. There is a will for William which mentions his beloved wife Mary. Mary's will mentions her brothers and stepson Justus, but no children from an earlier marriage, so my guess is that this was her first marriage and that she had no children.

Thomas R Townsend 6 Jul 1805 died 11 Sep 1875 (I have a couple of letters from him to his sister Delia)

Lucretia Young, wife of James Young and daughter of T R Townsend died 31 Mar 1867 aged 36.

William was paid 20 shillings on 4 Dec 1804 in Lewisboro (Westchester County, NY) to sweep the parsonage of the Presbyterian Church, put in the glass and fix the east door. The parsonage was built on land bought from his father-in-law Thaddeus Rockwell. William Justus Townsend was on the school committee of South Salem 1813-1814 and 1816-1817 and was an elder of the church.

Children of William Townsend and Ruth Rockwell are:

- i. Delia Ann Townsend, born September 29, 1803 in South Salem, Westchester, New York; died February 02, 1894 in Ira, Cayuga, New York; married Eli Skinner Matson November 06, 1823 in Ira, Cayuga, New York; born February 03, 1796 in East Haddam, Connecticut; died June 09, 1875 in Lysander, Onondaga, New York.

Notes for Eli Skinner Matson:

Eli Skinner Matson was born in East Haddam, CT. He married in Ira, Cayuga Co, NY to Delia Townsend, who was born in South Salem, Westchester Co, NY. The 1850 census lists him as a farmer with real estate valued at $5,400. He died 9 Jun 1875 in Lysander, Onondaga Co, NY, and she died 2 Feb 1894 in Ira or Floridaville, NY. They are both buried in the "White Cemetery", now Ira Union Cemetery in South Hannibal, NY.

Their daughter, Delia Ann married 30 Dec 1851 to Horace Gregory White of Ira and later of Bazaar, KS. He was a Captain in the Civil War, captured at Gettysburg and was at Andersonville and later Libby Prisons. Family legend has it that he escaped from Libby Prison after sending his daughter a coded letter asking her to send him money to buy his way to freedom. The code was in the form of a math problem for her to solve. The money was sent in a food package, perhaps in boiled eggs. He used the money to escape and apparently returned home in time to walk in on a family picnic, much to their surprise. I have letters referring to his imprisonment and a letter from him to his brother George urging him to join him in Kansas. Delia's brother Augustine (my great grandfather) frequently mentions the family in his journals written before the Civil War.

- ii. Rev Thomas Rockwell Townsend, born July 06, 1805 in Westchester, New York; died September 11, 1875 in Meridian, Cayuga, New York; married (1) Jane Holmes October 01, 1828 in Lysander, Onondaga, New York; died June 29, 1833; married (2) Angeline Shapley October 18, 1834.

Notes for Rev Thomas Rockwell Townsend:

I have 2 letters from Thomas to his sister, our direct ancestor, Delia Townsend Matson. Thomas was a minister. Cayuga Co history notes that T R Townsend was among students from Auburn Theological Seminary who worked in the Cayuga Presbyterian Church, united with the Seneca Falls church, in July of 1837 and on the 7th of August, was invited to be their pastor, but not having completed his seminary course, he was not installed until 1838, where he remained until July 1840.

In New Orleans, LA he met a young widow, Martha Odom McMahan and were married 12 Dec 1843. She had been orphaned early and was cared for by her uncle and guardian, General Duncan Clinch, for whom one of their sons was named. Peck Genealogy by Darius Peck p. 45 , lists Elihu Peck born New Haven Vermont 1 Jan. 1775, a month before his parents were married. Warners Cemetery in Van Buren, Onondaga Co. N.Y. lists Elihu Peck died 19 March 1841 , age 64, 7 mo, 7 days, which calculates to his birth 12 Aug 1776.

Elihu Peck's parents Enos and Anna (Marsh) Peck were married 17 Feb. 1775 in New Fairfield, Fairfield Co. CT. New Fairfield Vital records , p. 69 and typed p. 91. marr. by Ephriam Hubbell.

Enos Peck served 1781 from Bennington VT in Rev War. By 1782, Enos and Anna Peck had deeds in Shaftsbury, Bennington Co. VT. proof that Elihu Peck was s/o father Enos' first wife Anna (Marsh) Peck is calculated - because Elihu's next younger sibling Phebe (Peck) Thomas, b. 1777, was listed in periodical Connecticut Nutmegger, Vol. 5 p. 308, as d/o Enos Peck's wife Anna.

Also see 1784 deed in Shaftsbury, Bennington Co. VT, Enos and wife Anna Peck; Anna later deposed, in late April 1787, in New Haven, Addison Co. VT, that she signed the 1784 deed in Shaftsbury, Bennington Co. VT. This 1787 deposition is the last record I have listing Anna, wf of Enos Peck.

Elihu may have been born in Fairfield Co. CT or in Shaftsbury, Bennington Co. VT. He was probably named after his grandpa Elihu Marsh. Elihu is generally listed as born New Haven, Addison Co. VT, but his parents did not have deeds there until Jan. 1785.

Elihu married Ruana Farnham and died in Camillus NY on March 7 1841, s/o Enos Peck .

Note that Elihu's will was written 6 March 1841 and presented for probate 22 March 1841.

Bk G, pp. 213-217.

p. 213. Same as p. 215.

And therefore the last will and testament of the said Elihu Peck — — — thereof — — — follows to wit:

I, Elihu Peck of the town of Van Buren County of Onondaga and State of New York, being of sound mind and memory and being ___ desireth to settle my worldly affairs do by these presents revoke and declare void all former wills which I have made, do make and execute this my last will and testament in manner following (viz). I authorize my executors who I shall ?herein name as ___ after my decease as they think proper to dispose of my estate real and personal as they or a majority of them as shall think best for the ___ of my family and and out of the ___ of the same to my estate doctor bills and funeral charges I give and bequeath to Almy Peck, the wife of my son Ethan Peck, the sum of four hundred dollars I give and bequeath to Elizabeth Cornell one hundred and twenty dollars. I further order that my executors shall make such a distribution of the residue of the money remaining from my estate as shall to them equitable and just with a reference (sic) to their manner of circumstances and the help they have had from me. I appoint Peter Peck, Enos Peck, and Philo Peck , Executors of this will and I do hereby empower them to execute any deeds that might be necessary to carry the same into effect. I do appoint Peter Peck , Guardian to those of my children as shall be under age. I have requested Peter Peck , Cyrus H. Kingsley , J. H. Present isaac T. Minard, Surrogate.
end will of Elihu Peck.

Note that the execs named in Elihu's will, Peter and Enos Peck, were likely Elihu's brothers.
Philo Peck was Elihu's son according to the William Peck Geny by Darius Peck, but Philo was not named as an heir of Elihu and did not sign when the will was recorded. Yet, he was named as an executor. Philo Peck was likely named after his mother's bro. Philo Farnham.
Elizabeth Cornell who rec'd $120 was perhaps a d/o Alma (Davis) wf of Ethan Peck was believed to have died 1847/50. Did they divorce? Ethan had moved on to Indiana by 1850 and had a 2nd wife Sarah. Ethan's ch. were residing with him in Indiana.

Note that Elihu Peck, the testator, had been widowed for about 5 or 7 yrs and he had minor children. Perhaps Elizabeth Cornell or Almy (Davis) Peck helped in raising Elihu's minor children.

There is a gap in births of his siblings between 1777 and 1781, war yrs.

Elihu and his wf Ruany were 6th cousins going back to their common ancestor Thos. Sheafe, b. 1530's, d. 1604 Cranbrook, Kent Eng.

Elihu Peck met Ruana Farnham by late 1797, in order to have child born Oct. 1798 in Pompey. Both Peck and Farnham families had to be in Onon. Co. by that date.

Elihu's father, Enos Peck, was in New Haven VT in April 1796, so presumably Elihu moved to Pompey ca Spring 1796-late 1797.

I did not find Eber Farnham in census in Onon. Co. in 1800, but Eber was listed in Pompey in 1810.

In 1800 census, Ruany's brothers Jonathan, Levi and Philo Farnham were in Pompey N.Y.

Elihu lived between his Uncle Ebenezer Wright, (who married Elihu's mother's sister Rachel Marsh) and Enos Peck, Elihu's father. Jonathan Farnham Jr. was listed right after Enos Peck, at bottom of p. Top of the next page lists Philo Farnham.

(Note that Ephraim Lord was listed on Elihu's page, maybe the same one that m. into Joseph2 Baker family of Oswego Co., s/o Matthew1).

1810 census Tnp. of Camillus, Onondaga Co. NY, Elihu Peck was listed next to father Enos Peck.

Deeds Cayuga Co NY, 1813/1814.

p. 385. 2 April 1812, Elihu and wife Ruany Peck, of Camillus, Onondaga Co. NY, sold land in Cato, Cayuga Co. NY to Joel Northrop of Cato. (Note that Joel Northrup was half brother of Elihu Peck's mother Anna (Marsh) Peck and half Uncle to Elihu Peck. Joel named a son Waters Northrup. Joel's mother was Martha Waters, who marr. 1st to Elihu Marsh Jr. and marr. 2nd to Abraham Northrup).

1820 census Camillus NY, bad copy, p. 142, stamped; p. 275 crayon.

Elihu Peck - 1112013111003. Elihu listed between John H. Lamberson and Wm Barthelew. On same page several Cornell's including Nathaniel Cornell.

1830 Van Buren NY, Elihu Peck, p. 131, males 02011101; females 103001, reck ages Elihu Peck 50-60 (b. ca 1770-1780), 2 males 5-10, 1 male 15-20, 1 male 20-30, 1 male 30-40, female 40-50 (for birth 1780/1790), 1 female under 5, 3 females 15-20, (b. ca 1810 -1815, prob. one of these females being Anna and the other 2 being Emily and Ruana, with Matilda being the female under 5 yrs.

Son Philo Peck listed on same pg as well as 2 Lanes and David Cornell at bottom of p. Previous pg has son in law Nathaniel Cornell and other Cornells.

1840 census, Van Buren NY, Elihu Peck was listed next to his brothers Isaac and Peter Peck, John H. Lamberson listed next to Elihu, then John Freeman.

Elihu had 001120001; females 0012. Elihu, 60-70 yrs, boys 10-15, 15-20 and 2 boys 20-30; females 10-15 and 2 of them 15-20. (Note that for males, the last mark is faint in 60-70 column).

Elihu's unm. son Calvin would have been abt 42 yrs old in 1840. Philo was already marr.

Elihu may have been born Shaftsbury VT since his father had deeds there until 1786. Ditto his next four siblings. Elihu was with his father in Pompey, Onon. Co. before 1804. In 1804 moved to Cato, Cayuga Co. NY.

April 1796, Elihu's father Enos Peck was still in Addison Co VT, in a deed, so son Elihu prob. still there also. Elihu can be calculated to have moved to Onon Co. between spring 1796-early 1798.

1798 Elihu's son Calvin was b. in Pompey Onondaga Co. N.Y.

Elihu Peck owned Lots 41 and 42 in Onon Co. Researched by Grace (Baker) Mayer.

Town of Cato / Early Settlements

The first settlement was made in 1800, by Samson Lawrence, who located on lot 32, on the farm latterly owned by Asa Crossman. Andrew Stockwell, from Whitehall, N.Y., also settled in 1800, about a mile and a half south-east of Meridian, on the farm now owned by Charles Bloomfield. His marriage with Sybil Root, June 4th, 1804, was the first in the town; and their daughter Alvira, (who, in company with her mother, met with a tragic death about 1840, both being burned in the house of Chauncey Stockwell, a brother and son,) who was born May 4th, 1805, was the first white child born in that portion of Cayuga County lying north of Seneca River. His daughter Rebecca, who is living at Meridian, is the only survivor of the family.

In 1802, Joshua Chappell came with his wife, in company with John Watson, from Marcellus, and settled a half mile west of Cato village.

In May, 1803, settlements were made by Solomon Knapp, who located on lot 100, at Meacham's Corners, on the farm now occupied by William Cook, and by Alanson Sheldon on the same farm.

George Loveless and Abel Pasko settled in the south part of Meridian, in 1804. Solomon, a son of the former, is living about two miles south of that village, and Deacon Milton Pasko, a son of the latter, is living between Meridian and Cato.

* Elihu Peck came from Pompey, in 1804, and settled on the farm now owned by Edgar Drew. His father, Captain Enoch Peck and his brother, Peter, also from Pompey, came in soon after. Enoch settled where Wm. Cook's house now stands, at Meacham's corners. Peter, who was a bachelor and lived with his parents, took up a tract now owned by Isaac R. Merritt, in Ira. The Pecks sold to Joel Northrup, from Conn., and removed to Camillus, where their descendants are living. Northrup was wealthy and bought a large tract of land, covering a mile or more in extent. He brought in the first wagon in the town. He was a bachelor when he came, but married soon after to Clarissa Dudley, sister of Elder Ira Dudley, by whom he had three children. Northrup remained here till his death, about 1814.

Settlements were made in 1805, by Platt Titus, from Onondaga county, at Cato, where he was the first settler and felled the first tree; by Jesse Elwell and Abner Hollister, at Meridian; and by families named Cerow and Abrams, the former four and a half miles south of Meridian, and the latter, on the river, at the middle bridge, where, that year and for a good many years thereafter, he kept a ferry. Titus remained only two or three years, when he removed to the Taber farm one-half mile north of Meridian, in Ira, where he remained till 1833, when he removed to Hannibal, where he died in April, 1862. Elwell settled where the Meridian House now stands, and where he built, and kept till his death during the epidemic of 1811, the first tavern, which was built of logs and covered with bark. He had a large family, all of whom are gone. His daughter Polly was the wife of Abner Hollister, who settled in the south part of Meridian, where Marcus Drew now lives. Hollister bought of A.C. Rice, of Onondaga county, for a nominal sum, a tract of about three hundred acres, known as "possession land," to which the title was for a long time in doubt. Hollister soon after went south, where he spent several years as overseer on a plantation and acquired considerable wealth. On his return he removed to Cato, where he built the first frame house about 1810, which now forms a part of the Railroad House in that village. Stephen Olcott settled on the farm now owned by Carter Hickok, as early as 1805, in which year he died, his death being the first in the town.

In 1807, Stephen Dudley, from Vermont, came with his family, consisting of seven sons and five daughters, and settled in the north-east part, on the farm now owned by his grandson J.Y. Dudley, son of

He died in 1827, at Hannibal, to which town he removed in 1824 or '25. Three sons and one daughter survive him, viz: Lyman; James; Ira, living at Meridian, who at present and for the past year has supplied the pulpit of the Baptist Church at Port Byron, and Rebecca, widow of Abner Loomis. Solomon Woodworth settled in this or some previous year, on the river, and kept for several years the ferry where the iron bridge now is. He was a captain and did service in the war of 1812. Church Records

FAIRFIELD COUNTY, CONNECTICUT • USGENWEB PROJECT

1 Feb 1999] Recently, Barbara Andersen sent me a note offering information she had received and organized from records of the New Fairfield, Connecticut Congregational Church. Barbara stated in her E-mail, "I have, on my computer, records from the New Fairfield Congregational church. They are general church records, naming many people that were doing things in the church: marriages, births, baptisms and deaths. They are not complete as the person that sent them to me said her aunt had copied only what related to their families, plus there were many pages missing from the church records. Even with all that, I have about a hundred pages of information, I have alphabetized all of it by activity. The dates covered are 1700s to late 1800's. I would be willing to accept E-mail queries if there is some place to put the information." Following that initial offer, Barbara sent me the following attached to the file:

"Please note: The spellings are copied as typed. Many appear to be incorrect in the earlier years, while later year's spellings seemed to be more correct. You will also find some surnames together although the spellings differ slightly. This is because the spellings seemed to change often. (Example: Beardslee & Beardsley)

Records are in alphabetical order (by man's name first, whether it's a, birth, death etc.). Marriages are in two lists (grooms & brides) to make finding them easier.

These records are not complete. The pages given to me were only pages that had the names on them that were being researched, plus there were pages missing from the original documents. These records were copied directly from the church records and are believed not have ever been published."

ORAN CEMETERY

The Oran Cemetery is located in the Village of Oran on the Oran Station Road, Town of Pompey, Lot 11.

The Pleasant Valley Society was organized by Rev. Hugh Wallace in 1805-1806, with Jedediah Cleveland, Joseph Bartholomew and Punderson Avery as the original Trustees. In 1807, the Society had built a Meeting House on the site of the present Oran Cemetery. Since this building became known as a church, the land adjoining the churchyard was purchased as a "burying ground" for $40.00.

The present Trustees of the Pleasant Valley Society include: Joseph Willis, Albert Pflol, Raymond Benson, David Tessier, Theresa Rice and LaVerne and Wilma Buyea as clerks.

The following pages are an incomplete list of burials in the Oran Cemetery.

KNAPP, BOUTON

Bouton enlisted 6 May 1775 as a private in the 1st Company, 5th Continental Regiment, and was discharged 17 September 1775. He re-enlisted 19 August 1777 in Capt. Sylvanus Brown's Company, 8th Regiment of Connecticut Line.

Bouton Knapp was born 9 March 1750 at Stamford and baptized 6 November 1763, son of Reuben Knapp and his first wife, Mary Bouton, who were married 1 June 1749. His mother died 14 March 1750 and his father married, second, on 20 October 1757, Ann Johnson. Bouton Knapp married in 1771, Amy ----, who married, second, Reuben Mead. Bouton died 5 December 1777, leaving no will. Letters of administration were dated 21 February 1783, issued to Nathan Knapp. In 1784 Reuben Mead was appointed guardian of Bouton's children. In 1786 Amy Mead, widow of Bouton, was given her dower, rights of the wife of James Nichols, late widow of Reuben Knapp Sr. being reserved. Bouton's stepmother, Ann, had married, second, James Nichols.

Children:

- i. Reuben, born in 1772.
- ii. Mary, born in 1774, married in October 1794, Abraham Quintard. She died 23 June 1801.
- iii. Elizabeth, born in 1776.

KNAPP, CHARLES

S-37141

He was a private in Capt. Abraham Mead's Company in 1775, and a sergeant in Col. Lamb's 2nd Regiment of Artillery in 1777, serving for three years.

Charles Knapp was born in 1757 at Greenwich, Connecticut, son of Joseph Knapp. He was a brother of Enos and Titus Knapp. He married Ruth Ferris, who was born circa 1756, and baptized 13 May 1763, daughter of Joseph and Ruth (Peck) Ferris. She died 15 August 1826. Charles Knapp died 3 March 1825 at Greenwich. He and his wife were buried in the Tomac Avenue Cemetery, Old Greenwich. His will, drawn at Stamford, was probated 31 August 1826.

Children:

- i. Catherine, born 14 April 1781, married Eliphalet Ferris, son of Jeduthan and Phebe (Peck) Ferris on 9 March 1799. They moved to Ohio. He died 20 October 1857, and was buried there in Mariemont.
- ii. Ruth, born in 1789, married John Jay Ferris, a cousin of Eliphalet. He was the son of Nathaniel and Mary (Johnson) Ferris. John and Ruth moved to Linwood, Ohio. She died 15 February 1871.
- iii. Priscilla, born 10 June 1793, married Joseph Ferris, brother of Eliphalet. She died 28 February 1872 at Madisonville, Ohio.
- iv. Charles, executor of his father's estate in 1826.

KNAPP, DANIEL

He served one month and 21 days and was discharged 28 January 1777 from the 9th Militia Regiment. He marched 13 April 1780 as a private in Capt. Reuben Scofield's Company at Stamford and was discharged 1 January 1781.

Daniel Knapp was born 25 September 1741, son of Ens. Samuel and Martha (Slauson) Knapp. He was a brother of Nathan. Daniel on 26 July 1786 married Sally Garnsey, born 20 September 1776 (sic), died in December 1808, daughter of Zaccheus and Sarah (Peck) Garnsey.

The Garnsey Guernsey Genealogy and the Nicholas Knapp Genealogy both identify the Daniel Knapp who married Sarah Garnsey as born in 1767 and dying in 1812, son of James and Prudence Knapp. Daniel, the soldier, is known, however, to have had a brother Nathan. The Daniel born in 1741 had such a brother, born 12 June 1735, and another brother, Amos, born 28 February 1738/9. Despite the 25-year difference in their ages, the Daniel born in 1741 is believed to have been the one who married Sarah Garnsey.

Children (all but the last baptized at the First Congregational Church, Stamford):

- i. Amos, born 22 January 1787. He died 27 July 1789.
- ii. Ruanah, born 27 March 1789, baptized 23 January 1790.
- iii. Polly, baptized 11 June 1791.
- iv. Horace, baptized 31 June 1793.

- vi. Ann, born in 1802, was baptized April 1807. On 18 October 1822 she married her cousin, Jehial Hubbell Knapp.
- vii. Sally, married Nelson G. Scofield.

KNAPP, CORP. ENOS

Enos was a corporal in Capt. George Peck's Company, 9th Militia Regiment, from 1 November 1776 to 8 January 1777, and served as a guard at Greenwich under Gen. Wooster.

Enos Knapp was born circa 1740 at Greenwich, son of Joseph Knapp and a brother of Charles and Titus Knapp. Enos married Mary Lockwood, who was born in 1754 at Greenwich. She died 1832 and was buried beside the grave of her husband. Enos died 21 September 1824 at Greenwich, aged 80, and was buried in Tomac Avenue Cemetery, Old Greenwich. His will was dated at Stamford 10 June 1812 and probated 24 November 1824. Mary's will was dated at Stamford 3 July 1827 and probated 2 August 1832.

Jackie I delete old messages in just a few days so I can't pass on what Bob sent from Karen Lombard Today I was able to open the files sent on the Children of Val. Wheeler. Thanks. Lots of material here for study.

This morning I had an appointment with my oncologist. I waited over 1 hour due to some problem she had with somebody else. My recent blood tests and Mammogram were fine. It has been 4 years since the surgery. I think I'm doing fine.

Then I went back to the LDS Library to read that film. It is Film #0004024 Ct. Fairfield Co. Danbury records of probates. Vol. 1 1739 to 1767 Vol.11 1745 to 1775 Vol 111 1768 to 1782 The will I found was in Vol1 page 280 and 281. The inventory was on page 288 and 289. I looked for more but found nothing much. Jackie is Amos Leach of any importance or just somebody we studied because he was in this area and then in Vermont? I found his will and his wife Mercy or Marcy also. (No)

Back to the will of Elihu Marsh Jr. On my copy I have crossed out Job and put in God. That makes sense but it sure looks like a J in the will. I will now try to copy for you the rest of the page. I can't get a good copy it is either too faint or too dark. But this last part is important.

New Fairfield September ye 25 AD 1764 then personally appeared Benjamin Benitt, John Page and Kent Wright witnesses to the foregoing will and make sollomn oath that they see Elihu Marsh Jr. the testator in his lifetime sign seal publish and declare the same to be the last will and testament, and that they judge the sd. testator at the time to be of a right mind, To dispose of his estate and being de----- (can't read word) they set to their hands as witnesses to the same in the presents of the testator and that they see each other sign as witnesses at the same time to said will sworn before Ephraim Hubble. Justice of ye peace.

At a court of probate held in Danbury for the district of Danbury, December ye 3rd AD 1764 Mr Ellihu Marsh executor to ye within will exhited the same for probation & accepted the trust (---0? as in him by the testator the sd. will being proved as by P. court. Approved and ordered to be recorded. Left.? Thad. Benedict, Clerk x So now we know that Elihu Marsh Jr. died by Dec. 3 1764. I find no record of Guardians for his children so maybe his wife did marry again right away.

At a court of probate held in Danbury for the district of Danbury, April ye 8 AD 1765 Elihu Marsh, executor in the last will and testament of Elihu Marsh Jr., late of New Fairfield in ye district deceased, exhibited the foregoing inventory for probatation and made solemn oath the same is a true and perfect inventory of all of the estate of the deceased both real and personal as far as he now knows and that if any more hereafter shall appear belonging to the estate he shall cause the same to be made known and included in the count of the being proved by P court. Approved and ordered to be recorded. Thad. Benedict, clerk

I left a few words out that I could not even read or guess at. Sorry but this not easy. I don't think I'll let spell check work over this last part. The spelling is something else. I like this kind of record because it tells a little about the life of the owner. Besides household goods, he has his land and livestock and wool and wheat and linen and yarn and leather. It sounds like he was a very busy guy providing for his family. Well this took me about 2 hours to reread and type this and I am tired. I also need to fix dinner for my puppies and myself. So goodbye for now.

On another page I found an inventory done by Elihu Marsh as executor of the will of his son. It is very long. Hard to read. He mentions old coats and a leather coat and leather britches and various bed linens and then mentions 4 rights of land in Pitsford and Queensbury, then goes on with I iron kettle etc.. Maybe I can get a copy of that too.

Not everything is listed in the index and this is all handwritten. But I will read this again and see what I can find. I am betting that since no other daughter shows up in the records that she lost that child due to the stress and maybe even Martha died then or soon after. I will look for a proving of the will.

She m2 Abraham Northrup had more children

Now if I could find something useful on my Boughtons of the area. Oh

- Martha WATERS-2658

Note that New Fairfield is now Sherman CT.

Martha alive 25 Sep 1764 in New Fairfield, Fairfield CT acc. to husb' Elihu's estate papers.

dau. Anna Marsh m. Enos Peck at New Fairfield Feb. 1775, so one would expect that was where her widowed mother was living, perhaps remarried before 1775.

Martha Waters, m. Abraham Northrup abt 1766, in or of Litchfield Co. CT from Rootsweb and IGI. She d. 6 Jul or 8 Dec 1809.

The Northrup-Northrop Geny by A. Judd Northrup LLD of Syracuse NY, publ. 1908,

#73. Abraham4 Northrup, s/o Thos.3, b. 13 Aug 1738 (Newtown, Fairfield Ct), married 1st Martha Waters, who died July 6 1809, aged 70, (for birth 1737). Husb. Abraham m. 2nd Polly Green, when he was over 70 yrs of age. Abr. d. June 14 1829.

This Geny incl. Northrup children.

#169.

1. Isaac Northrup b. 1767.

170.

2. Joel Northrup b. May 19 1770.

3. Samuel Waters Northrup, b. May 17 1776 who d at 2 yrs.

171.

4. Levi, b. Feb 1 1778 at Sherman (CT).

The gen'y follows some of these ch., but says nothing abt artha being wd of Elihu Marsh Jr.

Martha had ch. including Samuel Waters Northrup b. 1775 in Litchfield CT, obviously named after her father, which is supportive of her being the same Martha who m. Elihu Marsh Jr. Also her son Levi Northrup, was b. 1 Feb. 1778 in Sherman, Fairfield Co CT, where Elihu Marsh died in 1764.. Also two of husb. Abraham Northrup's brothers married sisters of Martha Waters' first husband Elihu Marsh Jr. A 3rd bro of Abraham. m. a d/o Amos Leach.

Martha's parentage

1765 - there were only 18 residents in Shaftsbury VT. Sam Waters Sr. 1704-1786 d. Shaftsbury, was s/o Richard Waters and Martha Read. This links his dau. Martha b. 1740 to Shaftsbury.

Sam Waters Sr. had Lots 8 and 17 in 1766-1771 petition in NH Grant, while heirs of Elihu Marsh Jr. had Lot 16 and sister Hannah Waters Waldo's husb. Sam Lot 9.

Jacob Marsh Lot 4, Ebenr Wright Lot 24.

Martha was pregnant 25 Sept 1764 when her sick husb. made his will. She was 24 yrs old. The child, if born alive, prob. died before age 20, because the grandfather Elihu Marsh Sr., who died in 1784. left bequests to Anna and Rachel Marsh, children of his deceased son Elihu Jr. A 3rd posthumous child of son Elihu Jr. was not mentioned in grpa's will.

Try Film 459114 LDS.

Wm Bulkley was pastor of Bpt Ch. 1799-1800 Wingdale Dutchess Co. NY, same ch. where Sam Waldo was preacher. Waldo prob. same man who m. Hannah Waters, sister of Martha.

Note Ref. Cutter V2 p. 917 lists John4 Marsh, s/o Elihu Sr. who in 1749 lived New Milford til 1779, had ch. Mary 1773 who m. Thos. Bulkley and had ch. Wanzer b. 1780 who m. d/o Rev. Nathan Bulkley of Danbury CT.

One Abr. Northrup 1774-1846, was buried Pompey Hill Cem. Pompey NY in same cem with Enos Peck, husb. of Anna Marsh and her sister Rachel (Marsh) Wright and Husb. Ebenr. This Abr. was s/o Moses3. Same root line of Abr. Northrup who m. Martha Waters, but not closely related.

Our Martha (Waters) Marsh, b. 1740, had sister Hannah (Waters) Waldo, who had 2 daus. Deborah and Abigail Waldo, who both m. Joseph Marsh, young bro. of Elihu Marsh Jr., husb. of Martha Waters.

Northrup - Northrop Genealogy, by A. Judd Northrup, LL.D.

Joseph Northrup arrived in Boston from England on the Hector and Martha July 26, 1637. He was said to be part of a group known as Eaton and Davenport company, led by the Rev. John Davenport and Theophilus Eaton, a wealthy London businessman. After arriving in Boston, most of the group followed Eaton down the coast in search of a good harbor, which they found in New Haven, Connecticut. At the same time, another flock, led by Rev. Peter Prudden, settled in Milford, Connecticut. Joseph Northrup died thirty years after the settlement of Milford, and forty-four years before the town was granted a Patent.

The Bartow-Ogden Bible record which appeared in the October 1984 TAG (60:214) is from northwestern New Jersey. Both Bartow and Ogden are common names there.

Jeremiah Bartow's estate inventory is #1008U (1851) in Bergen County. That of his presumed father, James Bartow (his will is #724S (1797) in Sussex County (parent county Warren). His mother, Joanna Bartow, left will and inventory #1223S (1810) in Sussex County. This information is in the New Jersey Index of Wills (rpt. Baltimore 1969) 96, 1384.

THE MOTHER OF SGT. PETER² FARNHAM OF KILLINGWORTH, CONNECTICUT

By Roger D. Joslyn, C.G., F.A.S.G.

Even the most careful genealogists have sometimes fallen into the trap of finding record of a man's wife and then without further reflection making her the mother of all his children. But as Ira Gershwine advised us, "It Ain't Necessarily So." Consider the case of Henry¹ Farnham of Roxbury, for whose son Peter there is no known record of birth or age, at any time, and no document identifying Peter's mother. In order to determine whose son he was, I undertook a study of Peter's family.

Not a great deal is recorded about Henry¹ Farnham. He is first found in Roxbury, Massachusetts Bay Colony. Ralph D. Smyth and James Savage have suggested he was a son or brother of John¹ Farnham of the neighboring town of Dorchester, although there is no evidence for this ("John Farnham of Dorchester, Mass., and his Descendants," NEHGR 62:15; Genealogical Dictionary of the First Settlers of New England [Boston 1860-1862], 2:142). A search of Boston, Suffolk County, and Massachusetts Bay vital, church, land, probate, and court records has turned up nothing to link John and Henry; however, even though John and his family were members of Boston's Second Church, it is in the Roxbury Church that John's banishment as an Anabaptist in 1668 is found (Roxbury Land and Church Records, Boston Rec. Comm. Rep. No. 6 [Boston 1884], hereafter Roxbury LR & CR, pp. 206-207). Since Henry Farnham lived in Roxbury in the 1640s and 1650s, this vague association between that town and John may be the "evidence" others have used to link him and Henry. Another small argument might be made for a relationship between the two men, since both were by occupation joiners. J.M.W. Farnham stated that Henry could not have belonged to the family of Ralph Farnham of Andover, "though he may have been a cousin or brother" (Genealogy of the Farnham Family, 2nd ed. [Philadelphia 1888], p. 2).

The earliest record of Henry in this country seems to be 1644, when he became a member of the Military Company of the Massachusetts (Oliver A. Roberts, History of the Military Company of the Massachusetts Now Called The Ancient and Honorable... 1637-1888, 4 vols. [Boston 1895-1901] 1:136, 140). In May of the following year "Hen: Firnam" was made a freeman (Nathaniel B. Shurtleff, Records of the Governor and Company of the Massachusetts Bay... 5 vols. in 6 [Boston 1853-1854], hereafter Shurtleff, 2:294). At the time, free-men in Massachusetts had to be members of the church, which Henry was, but the Roxbury church records reveal nothing about a wife or family (Roxbury LR & CR p. 86). The published vital records of Roxbury likewise show no Farnham entries that could pertain to Henry or his family.

robably Henry became a freeman about the time he acquired property in Roxbury, it being mentioned in the (alas, ted) records as abutting the lands of other town residents (Roxbury LR & CR pp. 17, 43-44). He was chosen a man in 1656 and sued Lawrence Douse, Constable of Westtown, the following year (Suffolk Ct. files 1629-1, #259; Shurtleff 4:1:295).

At midnight on 11 Feb. 1657/8 a fire started outside Farnham's Roxbury workshop, consuming it and his house (Roxbury LR & CR p. 198; CR in NEHGR 34:87). How much he recovered from his losses is not clear, but he was probably unable to work before too long, as a debt "to Henry Farnham for joyneng worke" was listed in the 20 Sept. 1658 inventory of John Ruggle's estate (Suffolk Co. [MA] Wills [Baltimore] p. 151). On 4 Jan. 1659[1660], Henry Farnham of Roxbury, joiner, for £25, sold to Samuel Danforth, Pastor of Church of Christ in Roxbury, one acre, "all that his orchard yards & Gardens in Roxbury aforesaid w^{ch} he lately phased of Samuel Hagborne... on which an Auncient dwelling house & barne stood w^{ch} was lately Consumed by fire before it came into the possession of the said Farnham..." (Suffolk [Co.] Deeds, 14 vols. [Boston 1880-1906] 3:317-1).

Although Henry's marriage is not recorded, it was probably about this same time that he married Joan² (Ruck) (Swan) Ruck, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (Kitchell) Ruck, widow of Henry Swan, and divorced from her second husband George Halsey (or Halsall). She was baptized in Cranbrook, Kent, England, on 11 March 1620/1, and came to New England with her parents aboard the Castle in 1638 (Cranbrook Parish Registers, Kent Record Office, Maidstone, searched by Jeffrey D. Copus).

On 12 Nov. 1659 the Massachusetts General Court answered a petition of George Halsall, who desired "Jane, his wife, lately divorced from him by the Court of Assistants, 1656, to be returned to him." The Court voided the earlier judgment, ruling that "George Halsall shall have and enjoy the said Joane Halsall, his wife, againe" (Shurtleff 4:401). Henry's brother, John Ruck, either in reaction to the Court's ruling or perhaps while it was considering Halsall's petition, stated in an undated plea "in the defence of Joane Ruck's case against George Halsey for the maintaining her suitors," that after the divorce was granted "the said Joane Ruck being of libberty did Improve her liberty & was contracted to Another man some months before this last Generall Court to take cognisance of Halsall's petition" (Mass. Archives, Domestic Relations 1643-1774 9:39). At any rate, Joan's intended marriage to Henry Farnham took precedence over the Court's decision, for when her father Thomas Ruck of Boston made his will on 7 Dec. 1662, he named "my three children, John Ruck, Samuell Ruck & Joane the wife of Henry Farnham," as well as Joan's "Sonn Thomas Swan" (Suffolk Co. MA PR 6:11 [original will missing]).

Henry and Joan were very likely married in the Boston area, probably soon after Henry sold his Roxbury property, and they then moved, perhaps to put some distance between them and George Halsey should he again attempt to have Joan "returned to him." It is stated in American Ancestry (7:228) that the Farnhams went to Windsor CT, but David D. Field states that "Henry Farnham and Eleazer Isbel, from Long Island" were settlers of Killingworth CT, and Edna Warren Mason also believes that Eleazer went to Killingworth (A Statistical Account of the County of Middlesex in Connecticut [Middletown CT 1819] p. 106; The Descendants of Robert Isbell in America [New Haven 1944] p. 2). No records have been found to show their presence in either place. Eleazer is believed to have been born in Salem MA about 1640, just when Joan Ruck and her first husband Henry Swan were setting up housekeeping there. (There is no evidence that the Henry Farnhams ever lived in the area of Long Island once called Killingworth.)

The Farnhams did settle in Killingworth CT by 29 Dec. 1665, when the name of Henry "Farnam" was included among a list of twenty-eight original proprietors of the town (Claypool and Clizbee, A Genealogy of the Descendants of William Kelsey [n.p. 1928-1949] 1:249). Killingworth was first settled in October 1663 by twelve planters, under its Indian name of Homonoseit, or Hammonasset. Sixteen others came within the next two or three years, after which the town was divided into thirty rights. Early settlers were from Hartford, Windsor, Wethersfield, Guilford, Saybrook and other Connecticut towns. Henry drew the seventh lot, on the south side of Main Street, east of Indian River. One of the conditions of settlement was that one who "puts in his name for Planter Remove himself & family & settle within two years from this time [Oct. 1663] or else to forfeit his land..." (Field pp. 106-107; Manual of the First Church of Christ, Clinton, Conn. [New Haven 1903], hereafter Clinton CT Manual, p. 3; History of Middlesex Co. Conn. [New York 1884] map opp. p. 229, 417-419). On 7 Feb. 1669 the town granted "Henry Farnam" two acres at the southerly end of the "long Hill" on the northwest side of the land laid out to Jonathan Dunnin[g], for which "part of it is for want of land in his necke lott" (Killingworth CT LR 1:13 and data from "survey 2/7/1669" reported by Sandra E. Smith, President, Killingworth Hist. Soc., 1985).

At the Court of Election at Hartford in May 1667, the name of the town was changed by petition to Kenilworth, after a parish in co. Warwick, England, traditionally the home of some of Killingworth's early settlers (Field pp. 14, 107; Clinton CT Manual p. 3). In October of that year the inhabitants of Killingworth -- as the town name eventually became -- petitioned the General Assembly to form a church, and Henry and "Johannah Farnum" were among the first members of what is now the First Church of Christ in Clinton. Henry was also one of the church's first deacons (Clinton CT Manual pp. 3, 6, 20). (The first settlements in Killingworth made in the southern part of town, which in 1838 was off as the Town of Clinton.) Henry "Farnum" of "Kenilworth" was presented as a freeman in May 1669 and the following year he represented his town as a Deputy to two sessions of the Court of Election, held at Hartford in May 1670 (J. Hammond Trumbull et al., The Public Records of the Colony of Connecticut, 15 vols. [Hartford 1850-1890], after Conn. Col. Recs., 2:106, 126, 136).

On 10 July 1672, "Henery Farnam and Joanna Farnum my wife, of kenelworth, for and in consideration of the natural affection which we have and beare unto our well beloved son Thomas Swanne of Roxbury," granted all their right in the estate "of our deare Father m^r Thomas Rucke deceased, w^{ch} by his last will & testament was given to us or e^{it}her of us" (Killingworth LR 1:29 [new pagination 1:31]). This deed was apparently to "legalize" an earlier conveyance of 24 Sept. 1671 when Thomas Swan of Roxbury, "Chirurgion," and his wife Mary, for £50, sold to "Symon lynd" of Boston, merchant:

One third part of the howsing & ground Orchard Wharf^e Cellars & ground and ground to Low Water Marke formerly belonging to my Grandfather Thomas Ruck of Boston & which he liued in & Vpon and after his decease Left the whole to his wife my Grandmother Elizabeth Ruck and after her decease the one third part of the whole to my Mother Johanna Farnam and after her decease to mee which aforementioned Estate together with what elce my Said Grandfather bequeathed her shee my Said Mother hath with the consen^t & probation of her now Husband Henry Farnham giuen & fully made ouer to mee (Suffolk [Co. MA] Deeds 7:254-255).

"Joanah" Farnham died in Killingworth on 11 Aug. 1689 (Barbour Collection of VR, Conn. State Lib., Killingworth p. 1, and TAG 12:45). Two weeks later, on 25 Aug., "henry Farnam" of "kennillworth" signed his will, by which he gave his "Daughter in Law [i.e., step-daughter] Elisabeth hull his wife of Joseph hull: all my wifes wareing Cloaths" and other things that were "my wifes," including "a small cabin that was her mothers." "Louing Son petter Farnam" was to have "all the remainder of my estate" and to be executor. Henry died on 13 Jan. 1699/1700 and his will was proved the following 13 Feb., when "Petter Farnam" also gave oath to the inventory of the estate of "Decon Henry Farnam Deceased." Taken 30 Jan., the inventory showed a total value of £174.11.06 and included the house, barn, home lot, meadow, and upland, as well as shop tools (New London PR, Conn. State Lib., #1981 and TAG 11:103).

Henry Farnham's will seems to be the best direct evidence that he had a son Peter. Two entries in the Killingworth deeds also provide strong circumstantial proof. First, on 8 Aug. 1717, Peter Farnam of Killingworth conveyed to his brother Nathaniel Farnam of the same place, all his right in the home lot "formerly my honoured fathers Peter Farnams (Deceased)," bounded north by the highway, south by the planting field, east by the land of William Wellman, and west by lands of Thomas Williams and Josiah Buell (Killingworth LR 3:54). This describes Henry's home lot with the exception that the lot west of his was originally that of Josiah Rossiter (map in Middlesex Co. Hist.). Second, Josiah Farnam of Killingworth, cooper, son of Peter^c, sold twelve acres to Abraham Pierson Esq^r on 4 March 1721. An entry in Killingworth deed book 2 is a copy of an earlier recorded grant to Henry Farnham and here reference is also made to Josiah's sale of this land to Pierson, thereby implying Josiah inherited it from his father Peter who had inherited from his father Henry (Killingworth LR 2:245, 3:88-89).

The first recorded reference to Peter is dated 13 May 1686, when he and others from "Kenilworth" were proposed as freemen; they were accepted as freemen the following 14 October (Conn. Col. Recs. 3:199, 217). On 8 December of that same year, Peter married Hannah Wilcoxson in Killingworth (Barbour VR Killingworth p. 32; TAG 12:36).

Not much more is known from extant records about Peter Farnham than is known about his father. He lived in Killingworth, probably on land formerly his father's, and he and his wife Hannah were members of the Killingworth (now Clinton) Congregational Church (Clinton CT Manual p. 20). On 27 Nov. 1694, "haveing maryed the daughter of Joseph Willcoks deceased," Peter acknowledged receipt "both from our mother & Brother Joseph Concarn [i.e., concerning]... the full of portions both as to our Father & our Brother Thomas Legacies" (Killingworth LR 3:99). After he subscribed to two Killingworth petitions in the late 1690s, nothing further is heard of Peter Farnham until his death in Killingworth on 14 Feb. 1703/4 (Conn. Col. Recs. 4:188, 211; Barbour VR Killingworth p. 32; TAG 12:47). He died intestate, and in the inventory of his estate, taken 2 March 1703/4 and valued at £438.08.6, he was called "Sarj^{nt} Peter Farnam late of Kelinsworth," but the source of his military title has not been discovered. Seven children were also listed, with their ages, in the records of Peter's estate: Joannah, 16; Peter, 14; Hannah, 12; Nathan^l, 8; Josiah, 5; Phebe, 3; and John, 1. On 19 March 1707/8, "Nathanell Royse, although he married the Wedow Farnam of Killingworth, by agreement was not to be concerned with adm'n of her former husband's estate." Hannah had died in February 1707/8, soon after which her daughter Hannah chose her "father Nathaniell Roise" for her guardian, and Anna "Willcoxson," mother of Hannah (Wilcoxson) (Farnham) Royce, petitioned that her son-in-law Nathaniel Royce of Wallingford and John "Willcosen" and Sgt. John Crane of Killingworth be appointed guardians of the other children. Royce was appointed on 15 April 1708, but the following 5 June Anna again petitioned for guardians for her grandchildren, Royce "for sum Reasons" having "wholy decline[d] the matter." Distribution of Peter Farnham's estate was made 9 March 1710/1 to the seven children (New London PR #1980, 1982 and TAG 11:103, 104).

From the information presented above, it seems the following are the salient points for determining the mother of t. Peter Farnham:

eter was made a freeman in 1686. As the age requirement of Connecticut freemen at this time was twenty-one, Peter could not have been born later than 1665 (Conn. Col. Recs. 1:331, 389, 4:11). That same year, 1686, Peter was married. In colonial New England, the majority of men married, at least for the first time, when they were in their early to mid twenties, and it could be said Peter was as well, and thus born in the early 1660s. This suggestion is not only in harmony with his becoming a freeman in 1686, but Peter's wife Hannah was twenty, almost twenty-one, when they married that year. She was, therefore, within the usual age span for a woman's first marriage in the 1600s and this adds a bit more weight to the likelihood that Peter was her contemporary. (For ages at marriage in colonial New England, see Donald Lines Jacobus, Genealogy as Pastime and Profession [New Haven 1930] p. 23.)

While Peter had no known son named for his father Henry, his first child was named Joanna, perhaps for his mother, although it could also be argued that Peter named his first-born for his stepmother. The name might have come instead from his wife's family, for Peter's father-in-law had a sister Johanna Wilcoxson (George E. McCracken, "The Connecticut Willcockses," TAG 59:40).

If the suggestion that Peter was born about the early 1660s is accepted, it seems clear that Joan was his mother, as she and Henry Farnham must have been married late in 1659 or perhaps in 1660 -- certainly by 7 Dec. 1662, as indicated in her father's will. The Court's reply to George Halsall's petition on 12 Nov. 1659 suggests Joan had not remarried, and since she did not join in the deed with Henry when he sold his Roxbury acre the following 4 Jan., they probably married after that. Joan was just turning thirty-nine about this time, so she was still within childbearing age.

-No record has been found which shows Henry Farnham had a wife before he married Joan Halsey, and although this does not prove he was married but once, it is a small argument in favor of Joan's being the mother of his son Peter.

-Another small argument is that Joan had a brother Peter, and although he seems to have died young, she could have named her son for him (Maldon All Saints Parish Registers, D/P 201/1/1, microfilm, Essex Co. Rec. Off., Chelmsford, Eng.). The argument is reinforced by Joan's nephew Peter, son of her brother Samuel Ruck of Boston, born in 1666, who could have been named for his first cousin, Peter Farnham, even though the latter was then in another colony (Boston Births, Baptisms, Marriages and Deaths..., Boston Rec. Com. Rep. No. 9 [Boston 1883] p. 101). Likewise, Joan's daughter Elizabeth (Swan?) Hull bore a son in 1689/90 who was named Peter, and he could have been named for his mother's half-brother (Barbour VR Killingworth p. 49; TAG 12:41). The name Peter is not found earlier in the Hull family; the family of Samuel Ruck's wife, Margaret Clark, needs further investigation. Perhaps Peter was also a name from Henry Farnham's family.

With the lack of direct proof, one could wish for stronger circumstantial evidence that Peter Farnham was indeed the son of his father's wife Joan. But if the above considerations are taken together and it is remembered there is not a hint Peter Farnham was much older than has been suggested above or that his mother was someone else, it seems safe to state he was indeed the son of Joan (Ruck) (Swan) (Halsey or Halsall) Farnham.

The basic genealogical details of Henry and his son Peter Farnham are presented below:

HENRY¹ FARNHAM was probably born in England around the early 1620s, perhaps earlier, and he died in Killingworth (now Clinton), Conn., on 13 Jan. 1699/1700 (New London PR #1981 and TAG 11:103). His birth is usually given as later, but since he became a freeman in 1645, it is unlikely he was born later than the mid-1620s. The minimum age for a freeman was probably at least 21, and perhaps as high as 24 (Colonial Laws of Massachusetts [Boston 1889], p. 229, and Laws and Liberties of Massachusetts [Cambridge MA 1929], pp. 1, 9-11, 23, brought to my attention by Jerome E. Anderson). This time for his birth also makes him more contemporary in age with his only known wife JOAN² (RUCK) (SWAN) HALSEY (or HALSALL), whom he married about 1659 or 1660, possibly in Boston or Roxbury, Massachusetts Bay. She was baptized 11 March 1620/1 in Cranbrook, co. Kent, England, and died in Killingworth (now Clinton) on 11 Aug. 1689, the daughter of Thomas¹ and Elizabeth (Kitchell) Ruck (Cranbrook Parish Registers; Barbour VR Killingworth p. 31 and TAG 12:45).

PETER² FARNHAM, only known child of Henry¹ Farnham, most likely by his wife Joan (Ruck) (Swan) Halsey/Halsall, was probably born in the early 1660s, certainly in 1665 or earlier, perhaps in Roxbury, Massachusetts Bay, or possibly on Long Island or in Connecticut; he died on 14 Feb. 1703/4 in Killingworth (now Clinton), Conn. (Barbour VR Killingworth p. 32; TAG 12:47). He married in Killingworth, 8 Dec. 1686, as her first husband, HANNAH³ WILCOXSON (or Willcoxson, etc.), born in Killingworth, 19 Jan. 1665[6?], died in Wallingford, Conn., 6 Feb. 1707/8, daughter of Joseph² (William¹) and Anna (Mitchell?) Wilcoxson (Barbour VR Killingworth p. 32). On 24 Aug. 1707, Hannah married (2) in Wallingford, as his third wife, Ensign Nathaniel Royce of Wallingford. He was the son of Robert and Mary (-----) Royce and died in Wallingford on 8 Feb. 1726[7?] (TAG 59:40; D.L. Jacobus, Mary (Royce) Beech [New Haven 1926] p. 11; C.H.S. Davis, Early Families of Wallingford, Conn. [Baltimore 1979], p. 285; Barbour VR Wallingford pp. 286, 289).

AN INDENTURE FOR LIFETIME SERVICE AND CARE

Contributed by H.L. Peter Rounds, C.G.

In colonial New England it was common for persons to be bound in service to others for periods of a few years, and the researcher of original records encounters papers for apprenticeship and indentured service of from four to seven years with relative frequency. However, the indenture quoted below is rare, detailing what is effectively a lifetime agreement. I discovered it in Westerly RI Town Council and Probate Records volume six, 1762-1787, page 62.

This document is notable for the breadth and specificity of agreements by both parties and for the built-in protection afforded to Orson, "a Mustee fellow." The Town Council, through its Justices of the Peace, had a say in Orson's future and well-being. If Thompson conformed to the agreement, it appears that Orson would have a secure future. At this period in Rhode Island, a mustee was very likely of mixed White and Indian (not Negro) blood.

This Indenture made & Ratified the 27th Day of September in the 4th Year of his Majestys Reign George the Third King &c 1764: By and between Col. Elias Thompson and Orson, son to a Mustee woman That is commonly called old Hitty, a Mustee Fellow, both of Westerly in Kings County in the Colony of Rhode Island &c:

Witnesseth that whereas I the said Orson, having served my Time as an Apprentice to the sd Elias Thompson, and have been Used there very kindly by him and his Family &c And being Now out of my Time, and knowing that I am Some thing weak in Capacity, & having taken the advice of my Friends &c., Do hereby Agreeable to their sd Advice, and also do of my own free Will & Choice for the following Considerations hereafter Specified &c put & bind myself and do by these Presents freely fully and Absolutely put and by these presents do put and bind myself unto him the sd Elias Thompson his Legal Heirs Execurs & Administrators from the Date hereof Seventy Years to be fully compleated & Ended, them and other of them to serve faithfully, their Secrets Keep, and all their Lawful Commands Gladly every where obey; Said Orson Shall not absent myself from out of their Service by Night or by day, without Leave first obtained from them. Said Orson Shall not haunt Taverns, Ale Houses, Nor play at Cards or Dice or any Unlawful Games, Nor waste, Lend, or See the Goods or Estate of any of his said Masters or Familys wasted without Giving proper Notice thereof; Said Orson Shall not Commit Fornication During sd. Term Nor Contract Matrimony without leave from his present Master at that Time. But sd Orson Shall at all Times behave himself well According to the True Intent & meaning of this Indenture. Said Orson Shall not make nor Contract bargains without Leave from his said Master during sd Term &c.

And the sd. Elias Thompson doth hereby promise & engage for himself his Heirs Execurs. & Adminrs. to & with sd Orson & also to & with any person or persons that Shall or may be hereafter Appointed Guardian or Overseer over sd. Orson by sd. Town of Westerly To find sd. Orson in good Sufficient meat, Drink, washing & Lodging with Suitable & Sufficient Apparel

Ebenezer Abbe removed with his father in 1698 to a locality known as the "Bricktop"; worked in Norwich for a time (about 1705); was at Windham in 1706; and later lived in North Windham and Mansfield. In November 1705 two deeds were recorded showing an exchange of property between Samuel Abbe and Ebenezer of Norwich -- a lot on Bushnell's Plain. Ebenezer received another deed from Samuel on 17 July 1707 and sold land to Abraham Mitchell and William Slate in 1709 and 1711. On 29 October 1713, John Abbe, "now resident at Hartford," sold his brother Ebenezer land he had received from his father. In 1715, Ebenezer settled at Hampton Hill in the northeast part of Windham County. On 9 May 1717, he signed a petition asking the General Assembly to authorize the formation of Canada parish, and the following October he put his name to a second petition to use the property taxes of the parish to establish its church. On 8 September 1743, Ebenezer sold land in Windham, on the east side of Nauchaug River, to his son Samuel. In his will, dated 3 June 1750, and probated 14 December 1758, he named his wife Mary; children Ebenezer, Joshua, Nathan, Gideon, Samuel, Elizabeth Cross, Zeruiah Marsh, Jerusha Wood, Abigail Cary, Miriam Cross; grandson Jonathan Bingham, only surviving son and heir of his daughter Mary, deceased. (Windham Probate Records, Vol. 5, p. 513).

Children of Ebenezer ABBE and Mary ALLEN:

- Ebenezer Abbe, born in Windham, 27 July 1708; married, 22 February 1730, Abigail Cary, probably the daughter of Joseph Cary, Jr. By other accounts, Ebenezer's wife was Abigail Soule or Abigail Goodale, daughter of Isaac Goodale of Salem. Children: Mary (1731), Isaac (1731), Ezekiel (1735), Abner (1737), Ebenezer (1739), Jacob (1741), John (1743), and Samuel (1747).

Mr. Abbe had an extensive farm near the Chaplin line, which he called his "kingdom," and owing to the influence which he exercised in the community, was often called "King Abbe" (See the biography of Charles Smith in Commemorative Biographical Record of Tolland and Windham Counties Connecticut: Biographical Sketches of Prominent and Representative Citizens and of Many of the Early Settled Families (Chicago, 1903)). Joshua's strong religious feelings made him a conspicuous leader in a sect which arose from the Baptist denomination in Windham and became known as Abbe-ites. Children: Zibeiah (1737), Rachel (1739), Mary (1740), Zerviah (1743), Shubael (1744), Phineas (1746), Lucretia (1749), Joshua (1751), Elisha (1753), Elizabeth (1758).

Nathan apparently had no child by either marriage. His will, dated 2 Nov. 1795 and probated 12 May 1807, mentions his wife; brothers Joshua, Solomon and Samuel; Leonard Sessions; and Anne, wife of Eleazer Cross; with the balance of his estate going to Jonathan Hovey "who dwells with me" (Windham Probate Records, Vol. 15, pp. 298 and 310).

Samuel Abbe, son of John Abbe, born in Wenham, Essex, Massachusetts, about 1648; died in Windham, Windham, Connecticut, March 1698; married in Wenham, Essex, Massachusetts, 12 October 1672, Mary Knowlton, daughter of William and Elizabeth (Balch) Knowlton, born in Ipswich, Essex, Massachusetts, 1649 (1653). The notice of this marriage is the first appearance of Samuel's name in the Wenham records.

Samuel and Mary Abbe were sixteenth and seventeenth in "the Record of Communicants" of the Congregational Church in Wenham, kept by its pastor, Joseph Gerrish, starting 13 January 1674. They are preceded in the list by John and Mary Nolton (Knowlton), who are 14th and 15th. Samuel and Elizabeth Nolton were 40th and 41st; Mary Abbe was 53d; John Abbe Sr., 66th (See NEHGR 62:35ff).

On 3 April 1675, Samuel received from his father a grant of ten acres of land in Wenham, and land to set his house upon, "his brethren to have the refusal of the place if he should sell" (Essex Deeds, 15:150). He served the town as surveyor of lands in 1676 and was admitted to the ranks of freemen, 13 October 1680. In the same list, there is a John Knolton and a Samuel Knolton (NEHGR 3:246 (Jul 1849), citing Colonial Records, 5:285). On November 1, 1682, Samuel Abbey "of Wenham" bought six acres in Salem from Lot Killam (Kilham) and his wife Hannah. This property was on Norrice's Brook. In 1684, he bought additional land in Salem from James Stimpson and his wife, Priscilla, widow of Isaac Goodale.

In 1689, Samuel and Mary participated in the establishment of a church in Salem Village (now Danvers). The following year, 22 March 1690, Samuel took the freeman's oath in Salem Village, together with Henry and Benjamin Wilkins, sons of Bray (NEHGR 3:348). Mary Abbe, Samuel's wife, entered into covenant with the Church in Salem Village, Samuel Parris, pastor, on 12 May 1690 (NEHGR 11:131). A map of the village, published in the first volume of Upham's Witchcraft in Salem, shows the location of Samuel's house in 1692 – number 114 on a plot in the southwest part, east of Bald Hill, within the 500 acres laid out to Robert Goodale in 1652 and its subsequent additions.

Though among the "respectable inhabitants" who petitioned in favor of Rebecca Nourse, Samuel and Mary Abbe offered testimony of their own in the witchcraft trials against Sarah Good and Mary Easty.

The Abbes had taken William and Sarah Good into their home about three years previously, "out of charity, they being poor" and "desititue of a house." But Sarah was "of so Turbulent a Spirit, Spiteful and so Maliciously bent" that they Abbes were forced, after about six months, to expel her and her husband from the house "for Quietness' sake." The expulsion, apparently did not improved Sarah's disposition: ever thereafter, testified the Abbes, she behaved "very crossly and maliciously" toward them, calling their children vile names and often threatening them. The following winter, Samuel began to loose cattle "after an unusual manner, in a drooping condition, and yet they would eat." Within two years, he lost seventeen head this way, besides sheep and hogs: "And both [Samuel and Mary] do believe they died by witchcraft." To substantiate this belief, Samuel observed: "Just that very day that the said Sarah Good was taken up, we, your deponents, had a cow that could not rise alone, but ... after she was taken up, the said cow was well and could rise so well as if she had ailed nothing." The warrant for Sarah Good was issued at Salem, 29 February 1692.

In the case against Mary Easty, on 9 September 1692, Samuel testified that, the morning of 20 May 1692, he had visited the home of Constable John Putnam, where he found Mercy Lewis on the bed "in a sad condition." Mercy sent him to fetch Ann Putnam "to see if she could see who it was that hurt her." "Accordingly I went and found Abigail Williams along with Ann Putnam and brought them both to see Mercy Lewis, and as they were going along the way both of them said that they saw the apparition of Goody Estick ... and when they came to Mercy Lewis, both of them said that they saw the apparition of Goody Estick and John Willard and Mary Witheridge afflicting the body of Mercy Lewis." Samuel stayed with Mercy "who continued in a sad condition the great part of the day being in such tortures as no tongue can express ... but at last she came to herself for a little while and was very sensible and then she said that Goody Estick said she would kill her before midnight because she did not clear her so as the rest did; then again presently she fell very bad and cried out 'pray for the salvation of my soul, for they will kill me.'"

On 3 April 3 1697, for £130, Samuel and Mary sold Zachariah White of Lynn all their property in Salem, consisting of a dwelling house, two orchards and seventeen acres (bounded by the properties of Anthony Needham, John Walcott, Isaac and Samuel Goodale, Abraham Smith, Abel Gardner, and Joseph Flint), the six acre lot on Norrice's Brook, and the two acre lot they had bought from James Stimpson.

Subsequently, for £22 10s "current money," Samuel bought half an allotment of land (500 acres) from Benjamin Howard of Windham, Connecticut, being number 2 at the Center, at or near the locality known later as Bricktop. His older brother, John, had already relocated to Windham from Wenham (NEHGR 7:325). Samuel was admitted an inhabitant (freeman) of Windham, 21 December 1697, but died the following March. The inventory of his estate, taken 9 May 1698, named the following legatees: wife, Mary; daughter, Mary, aged 25; son, Samuel, aged 23; son, Thomas, aged 20; Eleazer, aged 16 (the land records prove that this is a mistake for Elizabeth); Ebenezer, aged 16; Mercy, aged 14; Sarah, aged 13; Hepsibah, aged 10; Abigail, aged 8; John, aged 7; Benjamin, aged 6; Jonathan, aged 2. On 27 April 1699, Samuel's widow, Mary, married Abraham Mitchell, by whom she had a son, Daniel, born and died 10 December 1700. Mary Mitchell, formerly Mary Abbe, was dismissed from the Salem Village Church to the church in Windham on 14 September 1701.

The Abbe Genealogy has John married to a Hannah, but this is possibly a result of confusion with his uncle John. John appears to have removed to Hartford, Connecticut, in or before 1713, for on 29 October that year one John Abbe, resident at Hartford, sold his brother Ebenezer land formerly belonging to their father, Samuel Abbe of Windham (Windham Deeds, Book D, p. 328). In 1733, John signed a paper with others expressing their desire to settle in what was then known as "Western Town" (Tolland).

new parents

The birth place and parentage of John Abbe are not known, but current speculation suggests a connection with the Abbye family of Staverton, Northampton. He apparently came to New England in 1635 aboard the Bonaventure (Register of the names of all the passengers which passed from the Port of London for a whole year ending at Christmas 1635). In the records of Salem, his name appears first in January 1637 (Vol. I, p. 11): "John Abbie is received for inhabitant and is to have one acre lot for a house next beyond the Gunsmith's and three acres of planting ground where the Town hath appointed beyond Castle Hill." In 1638, in the division of the common marsh and meadow lands, the town of Salem granted John Abbe half an acre: at that time there were just three heads in his family (the size of the allocation related to the size of the family). In 1639, John received an additional grant of five acres "near to Mr. Trogmorton's hoghouse." In January 1643, John and several others each received ten-acre grants "to be laid out near to King's lot" near the Bass River, but the following month the town exchanged this ten-acre lot for ten acres at Enon, and subsequently granted the Bass River lot to Michael Sallows.

In 1642, Mr. Fiske organized a church at Enon; the following year the name of the settlement was changed to Wenham. On 24 August 1644, the new town granted John Abby "all that wasteground which lyeth between the end of the lott which he lives upon and the meadow which belongs to the town, leaving a poles bredth most convenient for a way. In January 1662, the town granted land to John Abbey, Sr. and Edward Waldron, to be divided equally between them. The following year, Abbey was chosen to assist the selectmen in making "the minister's rate" for the year. He served as constable of the town in 1669 and 1671. On 3 April 1675, John deeded ten acres of land to his son Samuel – Thomas, John, and Mary Abbe witnessed the transaction.

John supported his son, Thomas, who lived with him and cared for him. In 1683, he dismissed Thomas on account of bad behavior and called upon his son John Jr. to take charge of his affairs. To seal this transaction, on 3 August 1683, John Sr. filed the following writ:

Know all men by these presents that I, John Abbey (Senior) of Wenham in the County of Essex, being sensible of my own and my wife's inability to carry on my affaires so as to provide for our Comfortable Livelihood by reason of our age and weakness of body ... do make Choice of and request my son John Abbey as my feoffee in trust to take into his hands my house and all my lands in Wenham together with what right I have in that land which was sometime Richard Gooldsmith's, to occupy and improve for my and his mutual benefit so long as my wife and I or either of us shall live, and for his encouragement to manage my affaires as abovesaid and he provide comfortably for my own and my wife's maintenance I do hereby give and bequeath to him my aforesaid feoffee all my houses & lands forever except what I do hereby give out of it to the rest of my children, viz. Samuel, Sarah, Marah, Rebeca, Obadia, and Thomas, and to each of them as follows: viz. to Samuel, I having already given him ... land, I give him one shilling more, and to all the rest of my children above mentioned, viz. Sarah, Marah, Rebeca, Obadia, and Thomas two Shillings apiece or to so many of them as shall survive at the decease of my self and wife: and in case God shall take away my son John abovesaid before the decease of my self and wife, if his heirs shall continue to manage and carry on my affaires as my abovesaid feoffee ought to do, then they shall have the houses and lands abovesaid as therein ordered, and in confirmation of what is above written I have hereunto set to my hand & seal. Signed sealed and delivered August the 3, 1683, in the presence of Thos. Fiske, Sr. [and] Martha Fiske. John Abbey Sr. did acknowledge this writing above written to be his act and deed August the 3d, 1683, before me, Samuel Appleton, Assistant.

Apparently taking his new responsibilities seriously, John Jr. built a new house for his father early on, as the old one was unfit to live in. In 1696, after the death of his father (1690) and step-mother, John Jr. sold the lands in Wenham to Nathaniel Waldron and removed to Windham, Connecticut, where he died on 11 December 1700. Shortly thereafter, Thomas, then of Enfield, Hartford County, Connecticut, laid claim to his father's estate, naming his father-in-law, Walter Fairfield of Wenham, his attorney. His actions included a suit for trespass against one Peter Legro of Wenham. The court allowed Legro to substitute his landlord, Nathaniel Waldron, as defendant in this case.

For some reason (possibly because John Jr. failed to probate the will his father signed in 1683), the court determined that John Sr. had died intestate and granted administration of his estate to Thomas (December 1702). Richard Hutton and Joseph Fowler, whom Thomas commissioned to appraise the estate, valued the property – twenty three acres of upland and meadow, the housing, fences and other appurtenances in Wenham, together with John Sr.'s right in the Common – at £92: "We also being informed that the said deceased in his lifetime did, to accommodate his son Obadiah according to his desire with a trade for his future benefit when the said Obadiah was eighteen years old, give to Richard Goldsmith three years service of his said son Obadiah and until he was one and twenty years old to learn him to be a shoemaker, and all the said time his said father did find his said son meat and drink and clothes washing and lodging which we do judge to be worth thirty pounds. The account was settled between Thomas Abbe and his father's Estate by the Children of the said deceased in our presence..."

The heirs – Thomas, Richard Kimball for himself and his wife Rebecca, and Mary Kilham -- allowed £32 "for several things for which our said father ... was indebted to his son Thomas Abbe" before his death. The heirs of John Jr., Samuel, and Sarah were apparently not represented in these proceedings; nor was Obadiah, unless he had given his commission to Thomas. We have yet to discover how Nathaniel Waldron fared.

As to the surname of John Sr.'s first wife (Loring), it was supplied by Frederick Orr Woodruff, who said the name had been found in Enfield records by one who made searches for him there. See Ancestors of the Bingham Family of Utah. ←

Children of John ABBE and Mary LORING:

● John Abbe, born in Salem, about 1637; died in Windham, 11 Dec 1700. First described as yeoman of Wenham; in 1663, one of three appointed to oversee the town's common and resist encroachments on the timber; admitted as freeman by the court at Boston, 11 May 1670. John apparently resided on his father's estate until about 1696, when he sold it to Francis Wainright, and removed to Windham, where for £70 he bought home lot number 7 at Windham Center from Exercise Conant, with the right to 1,000 acres and a dwelling house (13 July 1696). Apparently, possession of the Wenham property later reverted to John, for he sold it again to Nathaniel Waldron, 19 October 1696, for £130. John was admitted as freeman of Windham on 9 December 1696. He and his wife Hannah were dismissed from the Wenham Church to Windham by letter dated 28 Oct 1700, and both were original members of the first church of Windham at its organization, 10 Dec 1700. John wrote his will that day, and died suddenly the following day (food for thought). John apparently married first a Goodale: Isaac Goodale, who was perhaps son of Isaac and Patience Goodale, called John Abbe his uncle. His second wife was Hannah, possibly widow of Richard Goldsmith of Wenham. Following John's death, she married Jonathan Jennings, Sr., of Windham (16 November 1703) and died 8 March 1724. The will of John Abbe mentioned thirty acres of land "adjoining to Goodman Bingham's and Goodman Larrabee's." By inventory taken 4 September 1701, John's estate was valued at £118 13s, with indebtedness of about £14. Children by his first wife: John (1665), John (1666), Thomas (1667), Joseph (1673), Obadiah (about 1675), Abigail (about 1677). Children by his second wife: Richard Abbe (1683), Mary (1684) John (1691), Hannah (1693), Lydia (1696), Sarah (1699).

● Sarah Abbe, born in Salem, about 1639; died 1704; married a Kilham.

● Mary Abbe, born in Salem, about 1641; died in Wenham, 2 May 1721; also married a Kilham and/or Alexander Maxie of Wenham.

● Rebecca Abbe, born in Wenham, about 1647; died in Wenham, June 1704; married Richard Kimball, 13 May 1667.

★ (●) Samuel Abbe married Mary Knowlton.

● Obadiah Abbe, born in Wenham, about 1650; died in Enfield, 28 Oct 1732; married, as her third husband, Sarah Tibbals, daughter of Thomas Tibbals of Milford; apprenticed, at 18, to learn the shoemaker trade from Richard Goldsmith. One of the original proprietors of Enfield, 1682 (eighth lot from the south corner, east side), where he seems to have achieved some prominence, having served as constable, surveyor of highways, and assessor. Obadiah Abbe's holdings in Enfield are described in the Enfield records: Home lot of 12 acres; 23 acres in the South Field, eastern division; 7 acres upon Schantuck River, 5 acres of upland, 2 acres of meadow upon a small brook easterly from the "grate meadow"; 4 acres of meadow by grant of 5 March 1700; and on November 17, 171[], a farm lying west of Schantuck great meadow consisting of 168 acres. Obadiah apparently had no children.

● Thomas Abbe, born in Wenham, about 1655; died in Enfield, 17 May 1728; married Sarah Fairfield, daughter of Walter and Sarah (Skipper) Fairfield, in Marblehead, Massachusetts, 16 December 1683.

✕ Wounded during King Phillip's war in the Great Swamp Fight. In May 1676, the court voted to repay the losses of divers persons who were "damnified" by the burning of Major Appleton's tent at Narragansett: to Thomas Abbey, £3.18.00, December 1675 and £5.02.00, 24 April 1676 [NEHGR, 28:441-442]. Thomas Abbey was among the eighteen "men wounded who are at Road Island, 6 January 1675" [NEHGR, 28:443].
✕ He was an original proprietor of Enfield, 1683, with the eleventh lot, east side, north of the south corner as his home lot. He at once became one of the prominent men of the settlement and is mentioned frequently on the records of Enfield: selectman in 1686, 1689, 1706, 1707, 1709, 1710; fenceviewer repeatedly; and assessor in 1705. Thomas was sergeant in 1711 and lieutenant of the Enfield Trained Band in 1713. Children: Sarah (1684), Thomas (1686), Mary (1688), John (1692), Tabitha (1696, called Abigail in her father's will), Elizabeth. The will, made 12 December 1726, probated 30 August 1728, mentions wife Sarah; son Thomas, executor (to inherit the homestead and 57 acres); son John (to inherit land at Scantic Bridge); daughters Sarah Geer and Tabitha Warner (to have the cattle).

THE QUEENSBURY PATENT

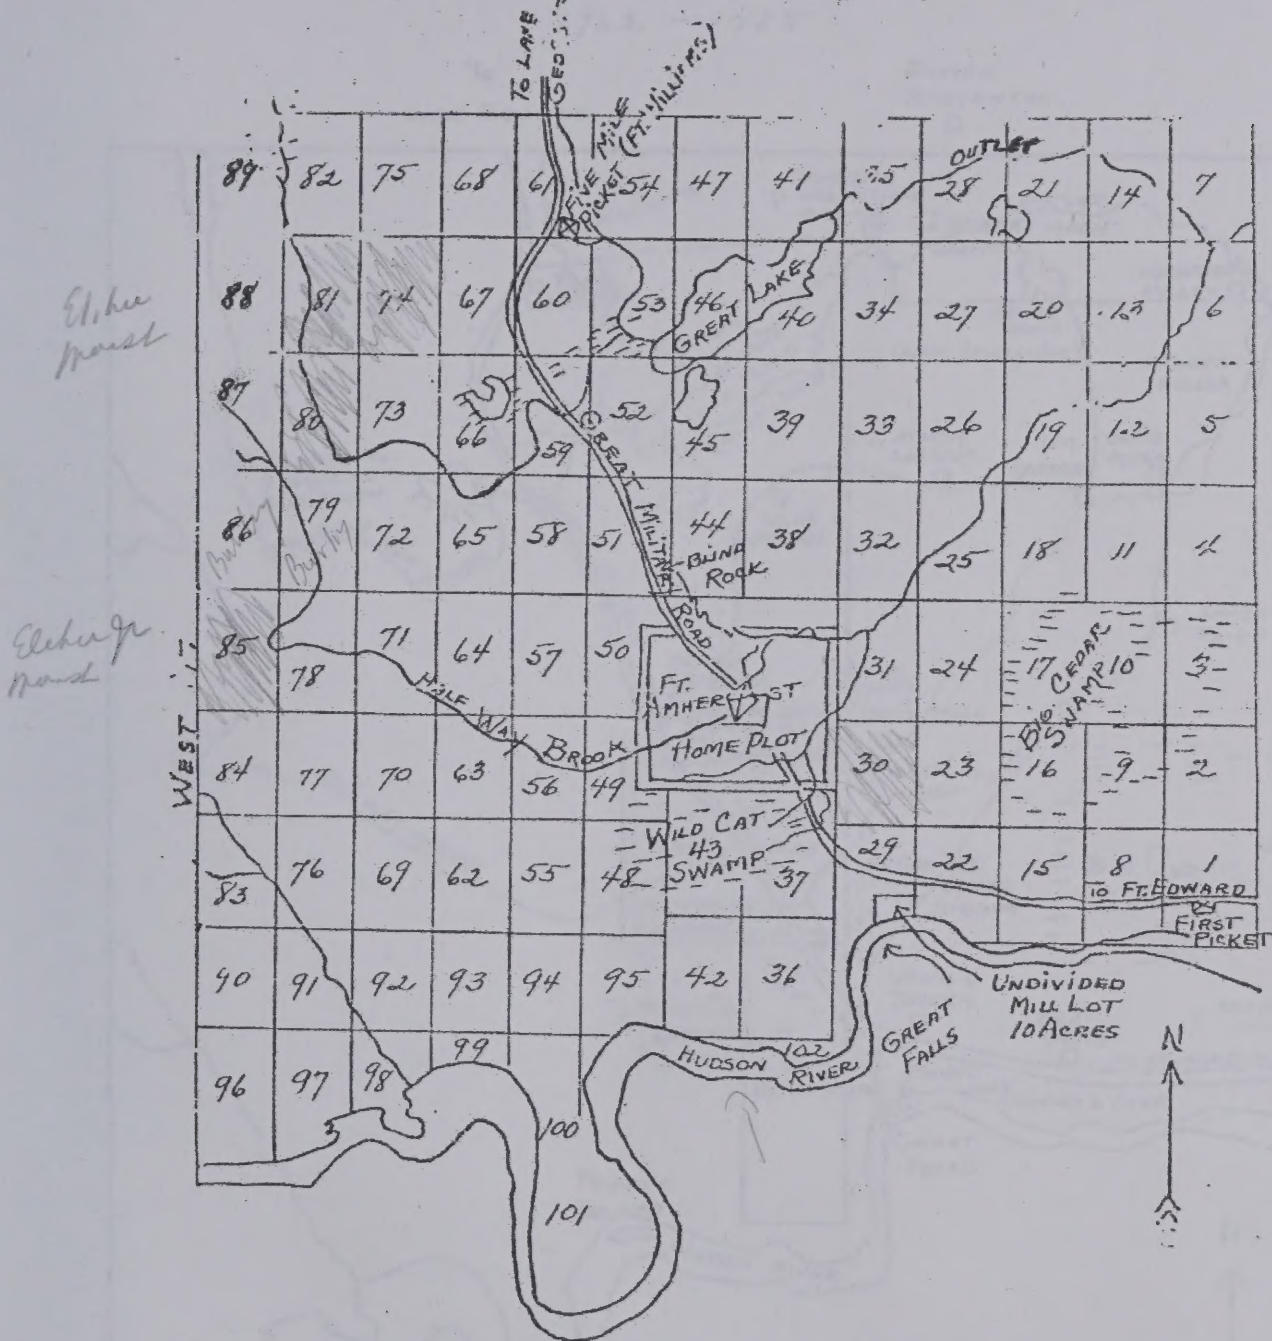

Following the French and Indian War, the Lieutenant-governor of the Province of New York opened the area between Lake George and Fort Edward as a new frontier. After preliminary applications dating from January, 1760, a group of twenty three petitioners headed by Daniel Prindle, applied for 23,000 acres on the Hudson River west of the township of Kingsbury. The application was granted on May 20, 1762, in the second year of the reign of King George III of England, and the new township was named Queensbury in honor of his consort.

According to Wing family tradition, Abraham Wing and his group of Quakers were able to purchase the Queensbury patent from the Prindle group, who apparently had no interest in settling here. Abraham Wing arrived here with a surveyor, Zaccheus Towner, and surveyed the township and divided it into lots. In 1763, an attempt was made at a permanent settlement by Abraham Wing and Ichabod Merritt.

TOWN OF NEW MILFORD

LITCHFIELD COUNTY

CONNECTICUT

EARLY HISTORY

AS PUBLISHED IN 1837

New Milford, the largest town in the territorial extent in Connecticut, is in the southwestern extremity of the county. It is bounded N. by Kent, E. by Washington, Roxbury and Southbury, S. by Newtown and Brookfield, and W. by New Fairfield and Sherman. It has an average length of 13 miles, and an average breadth of 6-1/2 miles, comprising an area of 84 square miles. The township is hilly and broken, several mountainous ridges extending through it. The soil is much diversified, and where susceptible of cultivation, it is generally good; but on the whole more distinguished for grain than grass. There are, however, large quantities of excellent meadow ground, but the pasturage is, on the whole, not abundant. It is essentially a farming town. Large quantities of grain are annually raised. The township is centrally intersected by the Housatonic: two branches of the Ashpetuck, Rocky and Still rivers, with other streams, enter the Housatonic in this town, affording numerous excellent mill seats. On Second hill, in the eastern part of the town, from two to three miles from the central village, are inexhaustible quantities of granite of a superior quality. There are also a number of extensive marble quarries in the town. The hatting business is carried on to some extent in Bridgewater society. There are 9 houses of worship in the town, 2 Congregational, 2 Episcopal, 2 Baptist, 2 Methodist, and 1 for Friends or Quakers.

The following ancient history of the town of New Milford, is extracted from Rev. Stanley Griswold's sermon, delivered at New Milford, January 7th, 1801, which was by a vote of the town entered on their records. For these extracts, with some additional notes and other valuable information, the author is indebted to the Hon. David S. Boardman, of New Milford.

"The town of New Milford was purchased of the colony of Connecticut by a company of individuals, chiefly belonging to Milford, in this state: hence the name is received, New Milford. This purchase was made in the year 1703, about 98 years ago.*

*This tract was called Weantinogue. The original purchasers and proprietors were 109 in number, 99 of whom were purchasers of whole rights, and 10 of half rights: 24 shillings was the purchase of a whole, and 12 shillings of a half right. No individual had originally more than one right. The first division of land was granted in December, 1706, and was a home lot of 7 and a half acres and 10 acres for pasture. The 2d division was in May, 1712, of two lots of 40 acres each upon a right; ten other divisions were granted before 1760. New Milford first sent representatives to the General Assembly in 1725. It was the second town settled in the county. Woodbury was the first.

"Afterwards an additional purchase was made, which forms the northern extremity of the town, and was called the north purchase. This was made in the year 1722. This town is now, I believe, the largest in territorial limits of any town in the state, and formerly was somewhat longer than it is at present. A part of it was set off on the south end, west of the river, to help form the town of Brookfield. Another part was set off on the northeast corner, to help form the town of Washington. Still, as it now remains, the longest right line through it from northeast to southwest is not far from 20 miles.

"The first settlement that was made in this town by civilized people, was in the year 1707; so that New Milford has now been settled about 93 years. At that time a considerable number of the natives inhabited here, of whom there were reckoned about 200 warriors. They dwelt chiefly along the intervale by the river, a part of which intervale is to this day called Indian Field; and several of their burial grounds are yet to be seen in various parts of the town. Their graves are of a circular form, and the persons were buried sitting up, as in a natural position, on the ground. For some time after the white people came here, an Indian chief or sachem, named Werauhamaug, had a palace standing near the Great falls, where he resided.

Werauhamaug*.....He was so considerable a personage as to have reserved, as his hunting ground, a considerable part of the present society of New Preston, which always, until the incorporation of the town of Washington, of which it is a part, was called Raumaug, after the original proprietor, dropping for convenience sake, the prefix we. I have often seen the grave of this chief in the Indian burying ground, at no great distance from his place of residence; distinguished, however, only by its more ample dimensions, from the surrounding graves, out of many of which large trees are now growing. There is a similar burying ground on the west side of the river, opposite to and in sight of our village (New Milford), on the bluff, bounding the Indian field, so called and contiguous to Fort Hill, the site of the last Indian fortress known to have existed in this town.

"On the inner walls of this palace, (which were of bark with the smooth side inwards), were pictured every known species of beast, bird, fish and insect, from the largest down to the smallest. This was said to have been done by artists whom a friendly prince at a great distance sent to him for that purpose, as Hiram to Solomon. In this palace, the forementioned chief was visited by the Rev. Mr. Boardman, first minister of this town, during his last sickness, and at his death. Mr. Boardman has left in manuscript, a minute and circumstantial account of his labors with the sachem to enlighten him in right Christian doctrines, as also the singular, rude, and abusive behavior of the other natives on the occasion; from whence it appears that a few or none of those people, (the sachem excepted), were disposed at that time to embrace Christianity; and so far as those people in this town and its neighborhood were ever converted to the Christian religion, it was a considerable time afterwards, by the Moravian missionaries. Count Zinzendorf himself came to this town and preached here. After the conversion of the natives by the Moravians, they quitted their settlements here on religious accounts, and removed to Bethlem, in Pennsylvania, where the brethren of that communion chiefly resided. But finding it very unhealthy for them there, and a large number dying, the remnant removed back again, where they have lived and gradually dwindled ever since. The natives had sundry fortresses, or military stations, in and about this town, to guard against attacks from distant tribes. Some spots in the town bear an allusion to this day, as Fort Hill, Guarding Mountain.

When the Indians returned from Pennsylvania, as mentioned by Mr. Griswold, few of them took up their permanent residence in this town. They joined the Scatacook tribe, but used for a long time in the season of fishing, annually to revisit their fishing ground at the Great Falls, two and a half miles below the village, for the purpose of taking lampreys, their favorite fish, which are not found above these falls. This stand they never would part with, and though occupied by the whites also for the same purpose, the Indians' rights were always recognized, and even to this day, when a straggler comes there, the whites allow them their turn. The Scatacook tribe are not quite extinct, and the few who remain, are under the care of an overseer appointed by the state, and who annually reports the state of their affairs to the county court of this county. Scatacook is situated in the town of Kent, and the account of it belongs to that town, and not to New Milford; and I only add this note to guard against a possible misconception of Mr. G.'s meaning in the place noted.

"It has been said that all the tribes along by this river, from its source to the sea, were in strict alliance and friendship; and that by means of certain sounds made on their guarding heights, an alarm might be spread in the space of three hours, through the whole line of tribes, a distance of near 200 miles. The natives were generally very friendly, and serviceable to the first settlers of this town, by defending them from hostile attacks, and by supplying them with such provisions as they could furnish. They had several reserves of land made for their accommodation in and about the town, as for a considerable time the Indian field, so called, the place once called Raumaug, (from the name of the sachem before mentioned), now in the parish of New Preston; the Great Falls, which they reserved for the fishing of lampreys; and lastly, the place where they now reside, called Scatacook. The two former they sold many years since, the two latter they still own. But their number has ever been diminishing since the neighborhood of the the white people, and at this time they are reduced to a mere handful. So much for the natives.

"The first white settler who came to this town was John Noble, from Westfield, state of Massachusetts, who came here in the year 1707. He brought with him at first one of his daughters, then about eight years old. He first built him a hut under what is called Fort hill, but afterwards removed and pitched here, in the present center of the town. His house here was for some time the last house on this side of Albany, and Gen. Nicholson once lodged in it, in the wars under the reign of Queen Anne. It deserves to be mentioned, to the credit of the natives, that Mr. Noble once left his little daughter here, 8 years old, alone with them, for the space of three or four weeks, while he was necessarily absent from the town, and on his return he found she had been well treated, and taken exceedingly good care of.

"It is impossible at this distance of time to ascertain the exact order in which the subsequent settlers came to this town, or the identical years in which they came. It is presumed, however, that we have obtained by diligent search and enquiry of the aged, somewhere near the order of their coming, as also the places from whence they came. We shall first mention the names of those who came more than 60 years ago, (whom we may consider the first settlers), together with the places whence they emigrated, settling them down in the order in which it is supposed they came, viz. John NOBLE, Westfield; John BOSTWICK, Stratford; Zechariah FERRISS, Stratford; Samuel HITCHCOCK, Springfield, Mass.; Samuel BROWNSON, Farmington; Roger BROWNSON, Farmington; John WELLER, Springfield; Jeremiah CANFIELD, Milford; Daniel BOARDMAN, Wethersfield; Samuel CAMP, Milford; Theophilus BALDWIN, Milford; Ebenezer BALDWIN, Milford; William GAYLORD, Windsor; James HINE, Milford; Daniel HINE, Milford; Joseph WARNER, Hadley, Mass.; John WARNER, Hadley, Mass.; James PRIME, Milford; John WELCH, Milford; Paul

WELCH, Milford; Thomas PICKETT, Danbury; Jonathan BUCK, Wethersfield; Enoch BUCK, Wethersfield; Ezekiel BUCK, Wethersfield; Henry GARLICK, England; Eleazer BEECHER, Milford; Joseph RUGGLES, New Haven; Nathan COLLINS, Milford; Joseph COLLINS, Milford; Amos COLLINS, Milford; Ezekiel PAINE, Rhode Island; Samuel PEET, Stratford; John PEET, Stratford; Thaddeus PEET, Stratford; Thomas OVIATT, Milford; Gamaliel TERRILL, Milford; Nathan TERRILL, Milford; Job TERRILL, Milford; James TERRILL, Milford; Caleb TERRILL, Milford; Joseph MURRAY, Westchester, N.Y.; Josiah SMITH, Danbury.

"The first white male child born in this town was the late Lieut. Daniel Bostwick (the youngest son of John Bostwick, the second settler who came here); and the first female was Mrs. Sarah Noble, formerly Ferris, now living. And it is worthy of remark, that three persons have lived in this town to be more than 100 years of age, two of whom are now living.

"The early part of the settlement here was somewhat retarded by a tedious lawsuit, regarding the title to a considerable tract in the center of the town. Col. John Read claimed it, under a title from the natives, and removed here to gain a residence and defend his title. This discouraged settlers under the company's title from coming on, and but a small number came the few first years. These few, like all other first settlers, saw troublous times; and their names are worthy the affectionate remembrance and praise of their posterity. It was common for them to carry their fire arms into the field to labor, and they were obliged to provide a fortified house to resort to in time of danger; and they were sometimes reduced to distress, through the failure of provisions and the difficulty of supplying themselves.

"The town plot or center was first laid out on the hill next east of the present center, whence that hill is to this day called Town Hill. Afterwards it was concluded to remove the center to the top of the hill next north of the present center, for which the first minister built and lived on that hill. But ultimately it was thought more convenient to place the center where it now is.

"New Milford for a considerable time belonged to the County of New Haven; but after Litchfield County was erected, it was set off to the latter. It is ascertained from the papers of the first minister, that in the year 1712, there were but 12 families in this town. Col. John Read, who is mentioned before as having been once a candidate for the ministry, preached the first sermon that ever was preached here. After he left this place, his house, which stood near where the present town house stands, was used as a place of worship for some years. The first meeting house was built in the year 1720. It stood near the foot of the hill, a few rods to the northeast of the present town house. There the first minister, Mr. Boardman, officiated during his life; and the second minister, Mr. Taylor during some of the first years of his ministry. It is said by the aged that when they first began to meet in that house, though it was small, yet every person in the town could sit around upon the outer sills, side by side.

"The house in which we are now assembled, being the second meeting house, was built in the year 1754, about 47 years ago. The first Episcopal church was built in the year 1746; the second, which is the one now standing, began to be built in 1765, was raised in 1766, about 35 years ago. It was finished and consecrated 1793. The Strict Congregationalists, usually called Separates, erected their house of worship in the year 1761, 40 years ago, which is now standing. The Friends, commonly called Quakers, built their meeting house not far from the year 1742, now standing, though in another place than where it was first set. Another communion of Friends, followers of Jemima Wilkinson, built a house of worship in the north end of the town about 15 or 20 years ago, but it is now owned and occupied by the Episcopalians of New Preston. The Baptists erected a house of worship in the south end of the town, called the Neck, (now Bridgewater society), about 11 or 12 years ago; but it is sold and now used for another purpose.

ECCLESIASTICAL HISTORY

"This naturally leads us to consider more particularly the several Christian persuasions, denominations or societies, contained in this town. The eldest here is the Presbyterian, or more properly the Congregationalists. Most or all of the earliest settlers were of that denomination. This society may therefore be considered as old as the town; but the professing members were not gathered into a church until the year 1716. It then consisted of 8 men and 5 women. There have been three ministers ordained in this society. The first was the Rev. Daniel Boardman from Wethersfield. He was ordained on the 21st Nov. 1716. He died Aug. 25, 1744, in the 58th year of his age, having served here 27 years and 9 months. It appears from his records, that he baptized 521 persons, and married 67 couples. The second minister was the Rev. Nathaniel Taylor from Danbury. He came first to preach as a candidate in January, 1748: was ordained the 29th day of June following. He died Dec. 9th, 1800, aged 78 years and 3 months, having been ordained 52 years and 5 months. According to his record, he baptized 927 persons, and married 349 couples. Myself, who am the third minister, came first to preach as a candidate June 14th, 1789: was ordained colleague pastor with the Rev. Mr. Taylor on the 20th day of January, 1790. I have baptized 232 persons, and married 103 couples. Many have been married by the civil authority, whose number I have not ascertained.

"The next religious society in the order of time is the Friends, usually called Quakers. Their origin in this town was about the year 1731. Then 19 church members left the Presbyterian communion, and set up that society. About 10 years afterwards, they built their house of worship, which was set on a piece of ground which was given for that purpose, and also for the purpose of a burying place, by Zechariah Ferris, opposite the dwelling house of Mr. David Ferris. Since that time it has been removed to the place where it now stands, for the greater accommodation of the members; where they now hold their regular meetings, though the number is but small.

"The next religious society in the order of time is the Episcopalian. Some individuals of that profession came into this town at an earlier period, but no stated worship was held here till somewhere between the years 1740 and 1745. Worship was then carried on here by the Rev. Beach of Newtown. One Mr. Barzillai Dean read service here for several years, then went to England for orders, with a view to settle here on his return, but died on his passage. The first Episcopal minister who came and resided in this town, was the Rev. Solomon Palmer from Cornwall. He came in the year 1754, and removed to Litchfield about the year 1760; was minister here about six years. The second was the Rev. Thomas Davis from Washington. He came here about the year 1761, and died in this town May 12th, 1766, in the 30th year of his age, and the sixth year of his ministry.

"The third Episcopal minister was the Rev. Richard Clark from Milford. He was settled here in June, 1767, and left the town in 1787. The society was then vacant for a few years. The fourth Episcopal minister was the Rev. Truman Marsh from Litchfield. He was settled here in November, 1790, and left the town 9th of Nov. 1799, and removed to Litchfield. He was minister here just 9 years. Since then the society has been vacant. The next religious society in the order of time, is the Strict Congregationalist, commonly called Separates. This sprung out of the other societies in consequence of what is called the great revival of religion, or by others in the New Light time, between the years 1740 and 1750. Their first elder who preached stately here, though he never was ordained over them, was Mr. Elihu Marsh. Their second was Mr. Robert Campbell, who was the first that was ordained over them. He was ordained here 29 years ago, continued about 12 years, and was then dismissed and left the town. Their third elder was Mr. Barnabus Lathrop, who came here about 10 years ago, and preached to them about two years. He afterwards joined the Presbyterian society, and died in this town April 10th, 1796, aged 57 years. Their fourth and now officiating elder, is Mr. Daniel Hine. He has been ordained over them 4 years. This society continued to maintain a separate worship till about the year 1812, when having become very small, the members, on the recommendation (as it is understood) of elder Hine, dissolved the society, and the principal part of them joined either the Presbyterian society or the Baptists. The next religious denomination that may be mentioned are the Baptists. It is but quite lately that communion assumed the appearance of a regular society here. A small church was formed, and a house of worship built in the lower end of the town, called the Neck (now Bridgewater society) about 11 or 12 years ago; but they never had an elder settled over them, and within a few years past they sold their house and chiefly removed out of the town. A few scattered individuals remain, but no stated worship is performed.

"The last denomination we shall mention is one which is now extinct from the town, but not many years since existed in some numbers, They are the Friends, called Jemima, gathered here by one Jemima Wilkinson. Between 15 and 20 years ago, a number of families in the northeastern part of the town, joined in that communion, and built a house of worship; but shortly afterwards they sold their house and private estates, and moved away in a body with their leader, into the western part of the state of New York, called the Genesee, in Ontario County. Their settlement was on or near the western shores of the Geneva Lake, about 20 miles south of the town of Geneva, where, though occasionally abandoned by some of her followers, Jemima continued for many years to maintain her ascendancy over her remaining followers, and even it is said until her death, since which nothing has here been heard of them, and it is supposed that the society as such has become extinct. A few individuals of other persuasions have been or still are in the town, such as Seventh Day Baptists, Scotch Presbyterians, Glassites and Methodists, but no society of these has been found.

"Thus have I endeavored to sketch something of the ecclesiastical history of the town."

"The first bridge that was ever built over the Housatonic river from the sea to its source, was built in this town, and was finished in July, 1737. The first school that was set up in this town, was in the year 1721: it was to be kept four months in the year, and the town to pay one half of the expense. At this time there are 22 school districts in this town, exclusive of those in the parish of New Preston; and it is computed that about 700 children attend them through the winter season."

Village of New Milford has 60 dwellings & 5 stores.

Dear Mrs. Humphrey:

It was nice to get your inquiry and thanks for your check for two hours work. Eleanor was nice to tell you about me. She is a very special Lady.

Now, to your search.

Let me start with ELIHU MARSH Sr. He did indeed make a Will and I send the best cc I was able to make to you. It is dated 27 March 1784. And Probate started 06 May 1784, so we have a pretty fair handle on when he died. We see in the Will:

- . That he's on New Milford
- ✓ . His son ELIHU Jr. is dead and tow daughters of this son, ie., ANNA PECK and RACHEL ~~WHITE~~ ^{WRIGHT} each get 20 Shillings.
- . Five daughters are alive 1784, ie.: ZERVIAH WRIGHT, MARY LEACH, EUNICE NORTHROP, LYDIA NORTHROP and RUTH LEACH.
- . He had lands in Queensbury NY in Wash. Co. and in VT on Otter.
- . Names sons DANIEL and AMOS who each get 70 Pounds.
- . Also names sons JOHN, SAMUEL and JOSEPH to whom he gives his New Milford and New Fairfield land holdings.

Still with ELIHU Sr., I can tell you that he was living either in or very close to the town of Hampton in Windham Co. (actually called Windham village at the time) in 1742, when, at the 1st Congregational Church of Hampton, on the 13th of June of that year, MARY MARSH was Baptised to ELIHU, Ch. Rec. 1:66.

Item 2 is an agreement among the children of ELIHU Sr. regarding their father's Estate. NO DATE - WAS Zerviah remarried? Sign. of Ruth does not seem to be Leach

Item 3 I presume to be a grantee Vol. 12:27 New Milford from ELIHU Sr. and two brothers, tho I have not looked at this in detail, trying to watch your time.

- OVER PLEASE -

Item 4 shows you all the Grantee Deeds by ELIHU Sr. at New Milford. And Item 5 shows not ~~WALTERS~~/WATERS etc. Grantee Deeds at New Milford. And no Marsh ever is a grantor from a WATERS etc. nor, esp., is a MARTHA MARSH ever a Grantee from a WATERS, etc. But please look at all the "WALLERS"! N/A

* FYI, New Fairfield was est. 1740 from Fairfield and the town of Sherman was spun off from New Fairfield in 1802. Regarding records in New Fairfield/ Sherman, an 1865 fire took out a lot of documents and the flooding of a river to create a huge reservoir took out a lot of gravestones that now rest 30 feet under cold waters! Too bad.

* Now, to ELIHU Jr. "Elihu, son of Elihu and Zerviah Marsh" Baptised 18 September 1737, 1st Congr. Ch. Hampton, Ch. Rec. 1:173.

Samuel Orcutt in 1882 in his HISTORY OF NEW MILFORD nicely tells us that ELIHU Jr. married MARTHA WALTERS and nothing more! Except that the wording makes it sound as if the mar. took place at New Milford and that following, the couple removed to Sherman.

In two hours, this is as far as I got. If you'd want me to continue, here are the areas I'd look at:

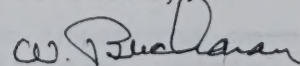

No
Peck and Wright fam. histories
New Fairfield marriages 1746-1791 by Ephraim Hubbell, J.P. at NF.
* This is an archive doc. that I must have gotten for me at the CSLib.

What Sherman and New Fairfield other doc. I can find.

It goes without saying that I found no birth suitable for your MARTHA under any name inc. ~~WALLER~~, sad to note. what found done?

Perhaps I'll hear from you.

Sincerely,

Warren D. Buchanan

Q.

Thomas Marsh, 1645

Thomas Marsh received an order from the English Court for a lot of land wherever he could find it, for which he paid £ 33.6s.

Hugh and James Marsh of Northumberland Co., Va., 1650William Marsh of Plainfield, Conn., 1660

There is much confusion concerning the first William Marsh of this lineage. Some have tried to identify this man with the William Marsh aged 26 who sailed in 1635 aboard the ship "Mathew" from London, Goodlad, Master. Our William of Plainfield died in 1724 and could hardly have been 113 years of age at death which would have been required had he been aged 26 in 1635. (See Vol. I #3, page 42 this bulletin.) N6

If it is correct that William was eighteen years of age when he came to America, as some say, and that he came at the restoration of Charles in 1660, then he was born in 1642, the year his father, Capt. James Marsh, was killed, and being 82 years of age when he died, as his death took place at Plainfield, Conn., in 1724.

It has been reported that the family William belonged to were, at the time of his immigration, citizens of a village or borough four miles out of the City of London, which is now incorporated in that Great City. The Marshes owned mills around there and were engaged in the mercantile business. The father, Capt. James Marsh, was killed at the Battle of Edgehill in 1642, while serving with King Charles' forces. One writer states that James was executed on the order of King Charles right after the Battle of Edgehill for being in sympathy with Cromwell while serving with the King's forces. That an aunt of William, fearing for his safety after the restoration of Charles, had him and two of his cousins emigrate to America where they would be beyond the immediate wrath of Charles.

William Marsh born abt. 1642, of Kent County, England, died 1724 at Plainfield, Conn. He was wounded during the King Phillips War in the Narragansett fight in 1676, and was removed to Stonington where he was treated by Dr. Koice and nursed back to health by Elizabeth Yeomans, whom he later married on October 18, 1681/2. She was the dau. of Edward Yeomans (1630-1662) and was born 1659 at Haverhill, Mass. She was admitted to the First Church, Stonington, Conn., August 24, 1690; William was admitted May 14, 1693. He surveyed with his wife's brother, Edward Yeomans, the town of Plainfield, Conn. He removed with his wife and family, no doubt, about 1694, to Plainfield, Ct., as the last church record at Stonington is dated June 2, 1694. William and Elizabeth had eight children:

1. Mary (2) Marsh, born abt. 1683, bap. September 7, 1690
2. William (2) Marsh, born 1685, bap. September 7, 1690, died at Plainfield, Conn., January 23, 1759 aged 74. He was in the French War of 1756-7.
- * 3. Rev. Thomas (2) Marsh, born 1687, bap. September 7, 1690, died March 19, 1753; married 1712 Eunice Parkhurst Jr. of Plainfield, Conn. Thomas was a deacon in the church at "Canada Parish", Windham, Ct., afterwards called Hampton, in 1730. In 1738 preached at Mansfield, Conn., where he was pastor-elect of the "Separatist Church"; was imprisoned January 1746 for preaching without a license but was ordained there the same year, 1746. They had 12 children.
4. James (2) Marsh, born abt. 1690, bap. September 7, 1690, died April 29, 1749; married at Plainfield, Conn., December 3, 1711 Hannah Shepard who was born 1695, died 1770-6 and had 2-4 children.
5. Elizabeth (2) Marsh, born 1692, bap. June 19, 1692; married Mr. Utley and lived in "Canada Parish", Windham, Ct.
6. Anna (2) Marsh, born abt. 1694, bap. June 24, 1694.
7. Mathias (2) Marsh, born abt. 1695, died shortly after 1781. Styled "Captain." He married January 2, 1726 Priscilla Brigham who was born April 3, 1709 in Marlboro, Mass. He owned large tracts of land in Conn. and in Dutchess County, N.Y. He resided at Coventry, Ct. and was in Dover, N.Y. as late as 1765, removed to Vermont with his son William and settled at Dorset where he died.
8. Joseph (2) Marsh, born abt. 1697 (a questionable child) was at Voluntown with brother James in 1725.

John and Sarah Marsh of Boston, 1660

John Marsh, claimed to have come from Birmingham, England about 1660, married Sarah _____ and had three children. This unpublished Marsh family was for some 40 years extensively compiled by Carlos Parsons Darling, late of Lawrenceville, Pa. Mr. Darling died late in 1951. His genealogical studies, a manuscript collection of some 30,000 pages on Darling, Marsh, and allied families, a tremendous documentation, were wantonly destroyed by a family ignorant of its value. This irreparable loss will delay the possible publication of this family record for many years. The three children:

1. John (2) Marsh, born August 29, 1669
2. Joseph (2) Marsh, born February 3, 1670/1; married at Boston, Mass., March 2, 1692/3 by Samuel Sewall, Esq.

PECK - REYNOLDS - ?SMITH - ?PENNOYER ANCESTRY PROBLEM

The following information was submitted by Russell L. Warner, GRS, (CSC#1447) in an effort to promote a solution to the genealogical problems brought out in his article. He will share his data with anyone interested in this line of descent and especially anyone who can do further research in the Stamford, Conn. area.

The search for the ancestry of Enos Peck who died 23 May 1835 in Camillus township, Onondaga County, New York, was easily ended for the Peck name when the book, Genealogical Account of the Descendants in the Male Line of William Peck, 1877, by Darius Peck, came to my attention. For those without access to the above reference, Cutter's, Central New York Genealogies, Vol. 1, pp 136-138 and 475/6 will suffice for the Enos Peck ancestry. However, the mother of Enos³ (Peter⁴, Samuel³, Jeremiah², William¹) was known only as "Sarah Peck" in both accounts.

In a more recent book with a long title, The History and Descendants of John and Sarah Reynolds, (1630-1923) of Watertown, Mass. and Wethersfield, Stamford and Greenwich, Conn., 1924, by Marion H. Reynolds A.B., was found Sarah Peck's maiden name. On page 47 she is called Sarah Reynolds, daughter of Ebenezer Reynolds (Jonathan², John¹), and his wife, Abigail "Smith" (daughter of Ebenezer Smith.) The only basis for the name "Smith" seems to be contained in a sentence following the name of Sarah Reynolds: viz, "In 1735 she (Sarah) was unmarried, and was left money by will of maternal grandfather, Ebenezer Smith, of Greenwich, Conn."

An intensive search for an Ebenezer Smith with a daughter named Abigail who could have married 1704 (as estimated in the genealogy), Ebenezer Reynolds ended in failure but it was noted that others had searched earlier for the same family. One search was a query in the Boston Transcript, issue of 28 June 1934 and numbered (8749)-4. No answer was seen.

Next, it was decided to have the will of Ebenezer Smith of Greenwich, Conn. re-examined. This research was entrusted to Dr. Claude W. Barlow, Worcester, Mass. who made this following report:

"Will of Ebenezer Smith of Greenwich, Conn. Dated 1 Dec 1735; 'living under ye dayly expectation of death.' Confirmed at the end of the will on 3 Dec 1735; sworn by the witnesses 6 Jan 1735/6; proved 7 Jan 1735/6; witnessed by Ephraim Bostick, Lieut. David Reynolds and Gershom Lockwood Junr. 'Unto my well respected freind Sarah Reynolds Daughter to Ebenezer Reynolds of Greenwich, my horse, bridle, chest and six pounds in money; to my brethren and sister now living at Norwalk, viz: Robert Smith, John Smith, Sam'l Smith and Mary Gregory all the remainder of my estate."

We concluded that Ebenezer Smith was the fiance of Sarah Reynolds and not her grandfather, and that further search of the Smith name was not warranted. Sarah was about 24 years of age when Ebenezer died and she did not marry Peter Peck until nearly ten years later if the birth of their first child, Peter Peck Jr, in Jan 1746, is used to date the unrecorded marriage.

Since Lieut. David Reynolds served as one of the witnesses to the Ebenezer Smith will, the Reynolds genealogy was again consulted. David's family is listed on page 53-- and nothing was seen to otherwise connect him with Ebenezer Smith. But on the same page 53, in data included in the paragraph re Joshua Reynolds, David's brother, was this interesting sentence: "Will of Thos Pennoyer, Stamford, dated 13 Nov 1724, mentions wife Lydia (Knapp) and daughter ABIGAIL REYNOLDS, born Stamford, Oct. 13, 1686, might suggest wife to fit in here." Even the first name of Joshua's wife was unknown to the compiler of the Reynold's book, so there was no basis in fact for this mention of an Abigail Reynolds in this particular family.

This Abigail Pennoyer was born 8mo-13-1686 in Stamford (1-162) daughter of Thomas and Lydia (Knapp) Pennoyer and she did marry a Reynolds if her father's will was copied correctly. That she was the wife of Ebenezer Reynolds might be proved with a re-reading of the Pennoyer will, and a reading of Stamford deeds to see if land was divided between the widow and her Reynolds daughter. This could give the name of her Reynolds husband.

CT " not meager Vol 7 no 2 Sept 1974

Stamford, Fairfield Co. CT Deed Bk E:465.

October 5 1751, one acre and 28 rods of land of Abigail Reynolds, deceased, was surveyed and laid out to her heirs, unnamed. The land adjoined Esra Mead. The land had once been a third part of a 9th part of the right and estate of old Thomas Penoyer and old Moses Knap in year 1687.

This deed is pivotal in proving that Abigail was d/o Thomas Penoyer and gr d/o Moses Knap.

There was no other appropriate Abigail Reynolds in the area, other than the widow of Ebenezer Reynolds as researched by Certified Genealogist Clifford Stott in 2008..

Abigail's birth, bk 1 p 162, Stamford Ct. d/o Thomas and Lydia (Knapp) Pennoyer. Her father named her as Abigail Reynolds in his will. FHC Barbour Collection for Stamford Fairfield Co CT lists Abigail as b. 8th mo, 13 day, 1686. (not sure if 8th mo is Aug) in that time frame).

Ebenezer Reynolds made his will 20 Feb. 1748/9 and it was proved 2 May 1749. His WIFE ABIGAIL and his DAUGHTER Sarah Reynolds, wife of Peter Peck were named in his will. Peter Peck, husband of Sarah Reynolds was born ca 1704, which estimates an approximate time of birth for Sarah Reynolds.

Abigail Reynolds of Greenwich CT, survived her husband Ebenezer Reynolds by no more than a year. The above deed shows that Abigail Reynolds died before October 5, 1751, when her land was laid out for her heirs, (heirs not named in the deed). Abigail's land bounded that of Ezra Mead, and was land that had been laid out in 1687 to OLD Moses Knapp and OLD Thomas Pennoyer, which was the 9th part of a third part of Knapp's land and and a 9th part of Penoyer's land. Clearly, it can be deduced that this Abigail Reynolds was the d/o Thomas Pennoyer and grand daughter of Moses Knapp. Abigail of this deed was probably the same Abigail, widow of Ebenezer Reynolds. Researched and summarized by Certified genealogist Clifford Stott 3/08 for my 2nd cousin Bob White, s/o Mildred (Baker) White, gr/son of Rev. James Millard Baker.

Note that Thomas Pennoyer had 9 known children., 8 of them listed in his 1724 will, including dau. Abigail Reynolds. Thomas' dau. Millicant married Jonathan Hait., who was probably one of the signers of the deed laying out Abigail's land to her heirs. Abigail's mother was Lydia Knapp, d/o Moses Knapp.

Ebenezer Reynolds is generally accepted to have been a posthumous s/o Jonathan2 Reynolds and born soon after 23 Jan 1673/4 when Jonathan died. Jonathan named several children in his will, but not Ebenezer. Jonathan Jr. who was named in his father's will, made a deed of gift of land to his brother Ebenezer in 1695, about the time that Ebenezer became 21 yrs.

Note that Thomas Pennoyer had 9 known ch., 8 of them listed in his 1724 will, including dau. Abigail Reynolds. Thomas' dau. Millicant m. Jonathan Hait., who was probably one of the signers of the deed laying out Abigail's land to her heirs.

Notes: Discussion of will of Ebenezer Smith.

The Reynolds and Pennoyer gen'y listed the wf of Ebenezer³ (Jonathan², John) Reynolds as Abigail Smith is incorrect. This erroneous info. was based on the 3 Dec 1735 will of Ebenezer Smith of Greenwich Ct, who did NOT LIST ANY WIFE in his WILL. THE ONLY RELATIVES HE LISTED WERE HIS SIBLINGS. His first bequest was to well respected FREIND (sic) Sarah Reynolds, d/o Ebenezer Reynolds of Greenwich CT. The bequest was a horse, a bible, a chest, and 6 lbs money. (Perhaps he felt indebted to her for caring for him in his last illness, or he had made an agreement to reimburse her for caring for him. His will indicated that he knew he was was dying. Ebenezer named his siblings, residing at Norwich, Robt, John, Sam, Mary, wf of John Gregory, to receive the rest of his estate, to be divided in equal portions. Robt Smith and John Gregory execs. withn. by Ephraim Bostwick, David Reynolds, Gersham Lockwood Jr. Proved 6 Jan. 1735/6.

Who was the witn. David Reynolds for Smith's will? David Reynolds, married 4 Nov 1720 Abigail Reynolds, (d/o Joseph Reynolds). This David would have been nephew-in-law of the deceased Ebenezer Reynolds. This David was s/o John Reynolds, the Cooper, and first cousin of the deceased Ebenezer Reynolds. However, this David Reynolds supposedly died bef 1745.

Another, - LT David Reynolds d. 1750, (husb. of Penelope Wright), was first cousin to the deceased Ebenezer Reynolds. Lt. David had a son David who was alive 1750.

These were the only known David Reynolds in the area 1735.

One Ephraim Bostwick b. ca 1706 of Stamford Ct, was s/o Zachariah ; Ephraim m. Abigail Allyn or Allen.

REYNOLDS

John Reynolds (1), progenitor of this branch of the family, is supposed to have sailed from the port of London—i. e., Ipswich, England, in 1633. Sarah Reynolds (his wife), aged 20, was a passenger on the ship "Elizabeth," which sailed from Ipswich bound for New England the last of April, 1634.

Among the passengers were many who settled at Watertown, Massachusetts, and subsequently removed to Wethersfield and Stamford, Connecticut, but John Reynolds was not among them. John Reynolds was admitted a freeman of Watertown, May 6, 1635. Robert, his brother, had been admitted September 3, 1634.

Sir Richard Saltonstall, together with a body of Pilgrims or Separatists, had founded Watertown, Massachusetts, where a church was "gathered" under Phillips as pastor, August 27, 1630. The latter came from Boxford, county Essex, and most of the colonists were members of his former charge. Unfortunately, the records describing the settlement of Watertown are not in existence, but on page 4 of the earliest book of records is the first entry in which the names of colonists are mentioned: "Nov. 14, 1635—agreed that Daniel Patrick, Brian Pemberton, Richard Bernard, Ephraim Child, Abram Browne, Charles Chaddock and John Reynolds shall divide to every man his Property and Meddow and upland that is plowable and the rest to be common."

The first book of deeds entitled "The Watertown Lands, Grants and Possessions" page 17 and constituting the second inventory, describes his allotment as follows: "John Reynolds, An Homestall of five acres and half estimation bounded the North with the highway, the South with Isaac Mixer and the East with John Sherman granted to him." Learning of the rich meadows along the Connecticut river, some few of the Watertown colonists, in the late autumn of 1634, founded the settlement of "Pyquag," now Wethersfield, and spent the winter there. On May 29th of the year following, six persons among them Robert Reynolds) under the lead of Rev. Richard Denton, who had received their dismissal from the Watertown church March 29th of that year, set out to form a new one in a church covenant in the river of Connecticut" Conn. Col. Records, 1634.

On October 15th, 1635, about sixty colonists set out from Watertown to the new settlement. Such was the general distress that many of them returned in December, but in the early spring of 1636 once more repaired to "Watertown on the Connecticut River." It was not until Feb. 21, 1637, that the settlement received the name of Wethersfield. The colonists were continually exposed to danger from the Pequots. In April, 1637, they waylaid the settlers as they were going into their ing with those from Windsor and Hartford fields and killed six men and three women. On May 26, 1637, the Wethersfield men, uniting with those from Windsor and Hartford and with seventy Mohegans under their sachem, Uncas, attacked the Pequots, burnt seventy wigwams and killed five or six hundred of the enemy. (See Trumbull, vol. I, chap. V.)

Both John and Robert were among those who removed from Watertown prior to July 25, 1636, as they did not share in that division of land. As stated above, John still owned property in Watertown at the time of the second inventory, i. e., 1644. Robert Feke, Brian Pemberton and Daniel Patrick are also included, although all of them had removed to Wethersfield and Stamford.

Robert removed from Wethersfield to Boston, where he died April 27, 1659. His will, executed 20, 2, 1658, proved in Boston, July 27, 1659, gives the names of Mary, his wife, and children: Nathaniel, Ruth Whitney, Tabitha Abdy, Sarah Mason, and Mary Sanger. His will concludes with the statement, "I and my wife being stricken in age and are almost past our Labour." From this we must conclude that he was born about 1590, and was either much older than his brother John, or that the latter was born earlier than 1612, the date of birth attributed to him. (See New Eng. His. & Gen. Reg., vol. ix, p. 137.) His only son Nathaniel removed to Bristol, Rhode Island, where the family still continues. The tombstone of Joseph, Nathaniel's son, still standing at Bristol, is well known as a fine example of early carving and shows the Reynolds coat of arms—three foxes statant in pale proper, crest on an Esquire's helmet, a fox statant proper.

John Reynolds' house as given in the map of Wethersfield was on High street, the third from the meeting house and near the center of the town. This and other property were recorded by him, "the 12th month and 11 daie, 1640," and again recorded by John Hollister on 3m 20d 1644, as "bought of John Reynolds."

It was not long before internal dissensions were disturbing the church at Wethersfield and dividing inhabitants as well as the brethren. The Rev. Richard Denton became the leader of the more progressive and radical party. The ministers of the other churches of the river, and Mr. Davenport from New Haven, successively tried to unite the factions. The latter suggested the expediency of one of the parties removing and making a new settlement. At length a number of men who were the most pleased with the advice of Mr. Davenport and the New Haven brethren, and to whom the government of that colony was most agreeable, determined to remove and settle in combination with New Haven. Nathaniel Turner had on July 1st, 1640, on behalf of the New Haven Colony, bought of Ponus, sagamore of Toquams, and of Wascussee, sagamore of Shippan, a tract of land which includes the present towns of Darien and Stamford and part of Greenwich paying about 33 pounds for a tract of land of one hundred and twenty-eight square miles. This tract, Rippowanis, Mr. Andrew Ward and Mr. Robert Coe, of Wethersfield, on October 30, 1640, purchased of the New Haven Colony on behalf of themselves and about twenty other planters on these conditions: 1st. The Wethersfield men were to give the price paid to the Indians for the land by Mr. Turner. 2nd. A fifth part of the lands were to be reserved to be disposed of by the court to such other settlers as they saw fit. 3d. They were to join with the New Haven plantation in the form of government there adopted. Twenty men were to settle in Stamford by the last of November, 1641.

It was decided that the majority of the seven church members, church membership being essential to becoming a freeman, should remove with a minority of the planters and that they should take the church organization with them. Thirty men, among them John Reynolds, volunteered as pioneers of the new colony. These subscribed "100 bushels of corne" to be paid May or June, 1641, to the New Haven Colony, to make good the purchase price of the land, each man giving as he was able and receiving a proportional amount of land. In this subscription, Mr. Denton ranks third with 4.1 bu.; Jo. Reynolds, eighth with 3.2 bu. (Stamford Records, p. 5.)

Of these thirty, twenty-eight removed to the site of Stamford in the summer of 1641. On October 19th they held their first meeting, electing five men to form a provisional government and dividing the land between them. An account of this is to be found at Stamford in the earliest town record entitled "1640-41 a towne book of ye free holders of ye towne of Stamford as it was after wards called but now Rippowan, containing the acts and conclusions of the companie of Wethersfield men." At this meeting "the man under consideration absenting himself while his case was in hand and so successively and when he was called in again and demanded if so much gave him content and so content and satisfaction was by every one of these men acknowledged and they set down these numbers of acres of marsh and upland after the same proportion that followeth xxx Mr. Denton 14 acres xxx John Renoulds 11 acres." (Stamford Records, p. 7.)

The New Haven Colony had not been fully satisfied by the one hundred bushels of corn, so that an assessment was laid to make this good. The following is John Reynolds' account: "For rate—now 56.10.0 and due at W. 13. s. 6 d and to received Jo Renoulds 17 s. 11 d. makes 4. lbs. 08-3." each of whom subscribed a 'pick.' The next mention of him is in a list of twelve men. Here his name appears as Jo. Renoulds. Latter is a tax list to make good the loss of the town mill and dam and for building a 'captain's house.' 'Jo. Reynoulds debtor for loss by mill 2 6 9. house 13 both 39.9 and he hath paid (for loss) at mill, First bill 9 s. 6. and dam 9 s. 3 s. house, 12 s. last charge 5. s. all 38 s. 6d.'"

The last mention of him is in a deed recorded March, 1651, of property in the extreme west section of the town, near the site of Old Greenwich, bounded by "ye lot which was John Renoles." (Stamford Records, p. 51.)

On page 55 of the original Stamford records is recorded the marriage of his daughter: "Peter Ferris and Elizabeth Rinealls joyned ye 15 July, 1654." Her husband, Freeman, of Stamford, Connecticut, 1662, representative 1667, was the son of Jeffrey Ferris, one of the seven original proprietors of Greenwich, who had, like John Reynolds, removed successively from Watertown and Wethersfield to Stamford. They had the following children: 1. Joseph, son of Peter Ferris, b. 20-6-1657, (Stam. Rec. p. 74.) 2. Illegible, son of Peter Ferris, illegible, 1659. 3. Elizabeth, dau. of Peter Ferris, b. 28-11-1659 —d—5-2-1660, Stamford Rec. p. 98. 4. Mary, dau. of Peter Ferris, b. May 2, 1662. (Stam. Rec. p. 76.) 5. Elizabeth, dau. of Peter Ferris, b. Jan. 2, 1664. (Stam. Rec. p. 76.)

As Peter Ferris is mentioned as Sen. in the entry of his death, September 28, 1706, it is probable that the illegible name was Peter.

On page 19 of the Stamford Records is entered the death of the wife of John: "Sarrah Reanolds died 31-16-1657." On page 20 a second entry gives it as "Sarrah Reanols died ye 31 August 1657." only three of John's children. b. about 1634. 2. Jonathan John, b. about 1638.

The subsequent history terminated. A John Reynolds with him, was at Wethersfield June 29, 1674, when he married a son John, and a daughter As Naomi Latimer was born. He would have been approximately 40 years older than his wife at the time of age when the first children are not to be born. John and Jonathan of Wethersfield's stories of all four are written down that only a few years ago at Wethersfield a tombstone was found for one who died in 1662. The presence of the names John Reynolds, Greenwich and Wethersfield is an intimate connection.

Jonathan, eldest son of

The site of "Old Greenwich Beach, lying some three miles from Stamford, had been purchased by the Indians on behalf of the colony on July 18, 1640, by Robert Daniel Patrick, the son of John Reynolds of Wethersfield.

About 1653 many of the town had moved there, and the first inhabitants were John Reynolds, whose land lay along the Brook, which fact probably accounts for the name.

Subsequently to 1653 John Reynolds appears but not in the Records: "Jan. 7, 1660, swearing yeavly by ye oath of office fully proved by Mr. John Reynolds and Jos. Knapp 10 shillings and to pay 10 shillings to Stamford which man." This Grimes is an "Inhabitant" of Greenwich.

In the Greenwich Town Records of a town meeting held 1664, in which it was decided to "common lands by a ruling to what each man's share was." The proprietors are given as Peter Ferris, Sense, Joshua Ferris, Jonathan Reynolds, John Mead Sense, and others. These were termed the "Seven" and is an abbreviation for only three of John's children: 1. Elizabeth,

b. about 1634. 2. Jonathan, b. about 1636. 3.
John, b. about 1638.

The subsequent history of John is undetermined. A John Reynolds, often confused with him, was at Wethersfield as early as June 29, 1674, when he had by Naomi Latimer a son John; and a second son Jonathan.
As Naomi Latimer was born April 4, 1648, he would have been approximately thirty-six years older than his wife, and sixty-two years of age when the first child was born. These children are not to be confounded with the John and Jonathan of Greenwich, as the histories of all four are well known. It is said that only a few years ago there was at Wethersfield a tombstone to a certain John Reynolds who died in 1662. The constant recurrence of the names John and Jonathan in the Greenwich and Wethersfield families implies an intimate connection.

Jonathan, eldest son of John the Emigrant.

The site of "Old Greenwich," now Sound Beach, lying some three miles to the west of Stamford, had been purchased from the Indians on behalf of the New Haven Colony, on July 18, 1640, by Robert Feaks and Captain Daniel Patrick, the latter a companion of John Reynolds of Watertown and Wethersfield

About 1653 many of the settlers of Stamford had moved there, and among the earliest inhabitants were Jonathan and John Reynolds, whose land lay along the Two Brothers' Brook, which fact probably suggested its name.

Subsequently to 1653 the name of Jonathan
Reynolds appears but once in the Stamford Records: "Jan. 7, 1666, Wm. Grimes for swearing veanly by ye name of God it being fully proved by Mr. Jones and Jonathan Renolds and Jos. Knapp ye said Grimes is fined ten shillings and to pay all charges of his being to Stamford which is four shillings to each man." This Grimes at that time was an "Inhabitant" of Greenwich, as were the witnesses.

In the Greenwich Town Records is an account of a town meeting held February 5, 1664, in which it was proposed to divide the "common lands by a rule of proportion according to what each man's estate shall be visable."
The proprietors are given as follows: "Jeffre
Ferris Sense, Joshua Knapp Sense, Joseph Ferris, Jonathan Reynolds, Angell Heusted, John Mead Sense, John Hobbe." These were termed the "Seven Proprietors." (Sense is an abbreviation for Senior.)

One of the earliest deeds recorded at Greenwich (p. 3, vol. A.) is a bill of sale bearing date December 13, 1665, from Richard Vowles of Rye to Jonathan Ronalds, of Greenwich, of "seven acres of upland more or lesse that was called ye ox pasture, situate in Greenwich, bounded as followeth, northerly by ye tom of the page is the following:

In presence of Joseph Mead,
Timothy Knapp.

This bill and deed entered in the year of our Lord 1682, Februari 27.

In 1667 Jonathan Reynolds was made a member of the Assembly for Greenwich, and on October 24th, 1669, he was made a freeman of Connecticut by the Assembly of Greenwich. On December 28th, 1669, Jonathan Reynolds, Sargent Lockwood, John Hobby, Joshua Knapp, John Mead, and Joseph Mead, were appointed to free the town of all claims by Daniel Patrick, the son of Daniel Patrick, formerly Patroon of the Manor, who now appeared laying claims to his fathers land. The committee for the settlers who held by squatter sovereignty bought him off by paying a horse, saddle and bridle and fifty pounds. He served on various important committees for the laying out of lands, for making survey of Horseneck to see if it be suitable for the settlement of a township," as surveyor of highways, etc., all of which appointments are recorded in the Common Place Book of Greenwich. The following is a last mention of Jonathan in the Greenwich Records: "At town meeting 13, 12th month, Joshua Knapp is chosen to be a townman in the room of Jonathan Reynolds." No other business was considered at this meeting. The last previous meeting was November 13, 1673. It is therefore probable that he died in November or December, 1673.

1728, and the church

BY MRS. (OSCAR HERBERT) ELIZABETH M.
PLATT ANCESTRY LEACH RIXFORD

PLATT—The surname Platt has been early found in many countries, the word meaning an open, level piece of land. In Norman French, the name was spelled Pradt, then Pratt; in German, Platz. Coats-of-arms were granted to half a dozen different branches of the family in England as early as the reign of Elizabeth, and some as early as 1326. Senator Orville Hitchcock Platt was descended through both father and mother, from long lines of New England farmers, who for many generations had held prominent stations in the communities in which they lived. They held offices in church and town affairs, were landowners, deacons, tithingmen, and captains of militia. One ancestor was imprisoned by Governor Andros in 1681, for daring to attend a meeting of delegates "to devise means to obtain a redress of grievances under his arbitrary rule." Another was among those who marched to Fishkill in the Burgoyne campaign, of October, 1777, to reinforce General Putnam. It was a sturdy, loyal, patriotic, efficient New England stock. ("History of the Colony of New Haven," by Atwater, p. 650. Dea. Richard Platt, 1603-1684, was the son of John Platt of Bovington, Eng.

1. DEACON RICHARD PLATT, emigrant ancestor, is believed to be the Richard who was baptized Sept. 28, 1603, son of Joseph, in the parish of Bovington, Hertfordshire, England. He settled as early as 1638, at New Haven, Conn., and was one of a party of sixty-one who formed a church settlement at Milford, in the same colony, being the first settlers in that place, Nov. 29, 1639, and at the time having four in his family. He was chosen deacon at Milford in 1669, and bequeathed a Bible to each of his nineteen grandsons. His will is dated Jan. 24, 1683/4. In August, 1889, a memorial stone, suitably inscribed, was placed in the new bridge over the Mapawaug. (D. A. C., p. 91, Deacon Platt a Founder and Deacon of Milford, Conn.) (Gen. Conn., Vol. II).

Children:

1. MARY, married (first), May 1, 1651, Luke Atkinson; (second) January 3, 1667, Thomas Wetherell. 2. JOHN, settled in Norwalk; married Hannah Clark. 3. ISAAC, see forward. 4. SARAH. 5. EPHRAIM, baptized July 12, 1640; was an associate of his brother Isaac in his varied experiences. 6. HANNAH, born October 1, 1643. 7. JOSIAH, 1645. 8. JOSEPH, 1649; married, 1680, Mary Kellogg.

REYNOLDS ANCESTRY

JOHN REYNOLDS OF LONDON, No. 68, CHURCH OF LEYDON

→ JOHN REYNOLDS, born in England, 1612; married Sarah —, born in England, 1614. They came to America from the Port of Ipswich on Ship "Elizabeth" early in 1633, to the New England colony in Massachusetts. They first settled at Watertown, where his first child, a daughter, was born, in 1634, and named in honor of Ship that brought them safely over. They took out papers as free-men in 1635. Joined the church, as all citizens at that time had to be registered on the church records. Some Historians have thought and asserted that John Reynolds had brothers here, one Robert Reynolds, of Boston, lived at Watertown a short time and they associated together in church capacity. Robert Reynolds was authorized by the Boston Church to organize and establish a church at Weathersfield, Conn. John Reynolds and family, with others from Watertown, Mass., moved in 1635, to Weathersfield, Conn., and joined and helped build up the Church (colony). Robert Reynolds moved back to Boston early in 1636. John Reynolds lived at Weathersfield, Conn., some five years, where his two sons were born. He moved to Stamford, Conn., in 1641, where his wife died, Aug. 21, 1657. He died in Stamford in 1660.

JONATHAN, son of John Reynolds and Sarah —, born at Weathersfield, Conn., in 1636; died in Greenwich, Conn., in 1673; married Rebecca Husted, 1658. Jonathan was sent to General Assembly, in 1667. His first act of note was to get the Territory of land back to the jurisdiction of the New Haven Colony, that Capt. Daniel Patrick and Robert Feaks had signed over in 1642, to the jurisdiction of the Dutch at New Amsterdam. On Oct. 6, 1656, Jonathan Reynolds, with eleven other freeholders of Greenwich, Conn., declared their submission and loyalty to the New Haven Colony by article of agreement. In 1665, the Freeholders, which included Jonathan and John Reynolds, made rules and regulations by which to dispose of lands without fence and permit settlers to come amongst them, at Annual town meeting held 1669. He was selected, with four other Freeholders, to survey and lay out land of Horseneck into four-acre lots for settlement. In 1672, the Freeholders of Greenwich had grown to twenty-seven. Jonathan Reynolds' health was poor and he was compelled to retire from public service. He died 1673, and his brother John, was selected to take his place. Jonathan married Rebecca, daughter of Angell Husted, in 1658. He was one of the original patentees of New Haven Colony, in 1665.

REYNOLDS—ROBERT AND JOHN REYNOLDS, were both very early settlers of Watertown. Robert was adm. freeman, Sept. 3, 1634, and was dismissed from Wat. Church, May, 1635, in order, with others, to organize a church on the Connecticut River. John was adm. freeman May 6, 1635, and about the same time (in 1635), he was appointed on a committee in Wat. for dividing to every man, his share of meadow and upland. There is no further notice of either of them in the town records. They probably both belonged to the colony that first went from Watertown to Wethersfield. John Reynolds was one of the original purchasers of Stamford, and a John Reynolds was a freeman and "townsman" of Norwich, in 1669. As the name of Robert Reynolds does not occur, after a very early date, in the Conn. Col. Records, it is conjectured that he returned to the Bay Colony; that two of his daughters, Ruth (Whitney) and Mary (Sanger) settled in Watertown, where he had first settled, and that he died in Boston, in 1659. (See his Will, in Geneal. Reg., lx., p. 137.)

THE PRACTICE OF CHARITY

Contributed by D. L. Greene, Editor

In 1701 the inhabitants of the Bahamas revolted against the governor, Capt. Elias Haskett, for "arbitrary and unscrupulous exactions enforced with uncontrolled violence" and shipped him back to England.¹ Haskett attempted to vindicate himself by negative reports about the inhabitants—and indeed this was a period when lawlessness and piracy were rampant in the Caribbean. In a report received by the Council of Trade and Plantations in London on 14 July 1702, Haskett expatiated on "the irregularities of the people and Government of New Providence" and the charity administered to an ill surgeon:

... a sloop of Elding's, Symms, a negro, commander, came into port after about 4 months' voyage among the Islands, who in her return found an English vessel that had lost her way, and whose men were ready to starve, upon which they plundered her, murdered the surgeon, and set the rest of the men adrift in a small vessel. All which appeared to me upon the oath of William Gibbons, one of the sloop's crew, as also that Simms was the person that murdered the surgeon. Simms told me that the surgeon told him that he had undergone a great many hardships and was very ill, and that thereupon out of charity he took a broad axe and cut off his head.²

REBECCA REVISITED

The Unidentified Wives of Angell² Husted and Jonathan² Reynolds of Greenwich, Connecticut

*By Gordon L. Remington, FUGA

In an article entitled "Rebecca, Wife of Angel² Husted, of Greenwich," George E. McCracken argues that she was Rebecca² Sherwood, daughter of Thomas¹ and Alice Sherwood of Fairfield, Connecticut. McCracken based his argument on an interpretation of the will of Jabez³ Sherwood (Stephen², Thomas¹), who left all of his land to Jonathan³ Husted (Angell², Robert¹), but did not specify any relationship. McCracken argued that they were first cousins, but Donald Lines Jacobus, in an appended editorial note, countered that, while the theory was plausible, it was far from conclusive.¹

This article will demonstrate not only the unlikelihood that Rebecca, wife of Angell² Husted, was Rebecca Sherwood, but also that Angell's widow Rebecca had been the wife of Jonathan² Reynolds and that she could not have been the mother of Angell's children. These conclusions were developed during the course of research on a series of articles on Angell² Husted's brother entitled "Robert² Huestis of Westchester County, New York: His Ancestry and Descendants" currently running in The New York Genealogical and Biographical Record.²

The only evidence for the name of Angell² Husted's wife as Rebecca comes from the inventory of his estate. On 19 April 1706, "Rebecca Husted widow made oth to the truth of the above Inventory befor Sam^{ll} Peck Justic of the peace in Greenwich." The will of Angell Husted, probated on 26 August 1706, mentioned a wife, but did not state her name.³ It is through the correct interpretation of the language of this will that the conclusions concerning Rebecca were reached.

The last Will and Testament of Angell Husted Sen^r of Greenwich being under Weakness of body notwithstanding through gods mercy in the Injoyement of my understanding I do cause to will &

[Angell Husted signed with his characteristic AH mark, and the will was witnessed by Samuel Peck and Nathaniel Bowers.]

Angell Husted has been assigned a daughter Rebecca based on the fact that he named "my son in law Jonathan Renolds" as one of the administrators of his estate. There was, in fact, a Jonathan Reynolds with a wife Rebecca in seventeenth-century Greenwich, and the genealogy of the Reynolds family of Greenwich identifies him as Jonathan² Reynolds, son of John¹ and Mary Reynolds. The genealogy further identifies his wife as Rebecca, daughter of Angell Husted.⁴

This Jonathan² Reynolds, however, died in 1673. There are two problems with making his wife Rebecca a daughter of Angell Husted, both chronological. The most obvious is that a man dying in 1673 could hardly be qualified to administer an estate in 1706.⁵ The second involves the relative age of Jonathan's wife Rebecca. The inventory of Jonathan Reynolds's estate, taken on 23 January 1673/4, lists the names and ages of his children as follows:⁶

Jonathan Reynolds about 13 years of age

John Reynolds about 13 [interlined: 11] years of age

Joseph Reynolds about four years old and a quarter

Rebecca Reynolds about [seventeen? seateen?] years of age⁷

Sarah Reynolds about eight years of age: last Novemb[er] past

Elizabeth Reynolds about six years of age last August

⁴ Marion H. Reynolds, The History and Descendants of John and Sarah Reynolds, 1630?–1923, of Watertown, Mass., and Wethersfield, Stamford and Greenwich, Conn. (Brooklyn, N.Y., 1924), 26–31; hereafter cited as Reynolds Descendants.

⁵ Despite this obvious problem, Reynolds Descendants ignores this fact, merely stating that Jonathan Reynolds is mentioned in the will of Angell Husted as his son-in-law.

⁶ Estate of Jonathan Renolds of Greenwich, Fairfield District Probate #519 (Connecticut State Library, Hartford).

⁷ Reynolds Descendants lists her as age sixteen, possibly a misreading of the age ("seventeen" or "seateen") on the inventory in the probate packet. The recorded copy reads "seventeen" (Fairfield Probate Records, 3:75).

The eldest child in this list, Rebecca, would have been born about 1656 and the youngest child, Joseph, about 1669. There was, in addition, a posthumous ~~child Ebenezer who was born about 1674.~~⁸

If the daughter Rebecca was born about 1656, then her mother Rebecca would probably have been born no later than 1640 and most likely by the mid to late 1630s. The Huestis article in the Record shows that Angell Husted was born in the mid 1620s,⁹ so it is highly unlikely that Rebecca, wife of Jonathan Reynolds, was his daughter.

There were three other Jonathan Reynolds in Greenwich in the seventeenth century who might have qualified as a husband to a daughter of Angell Husted, but the wives of all of them are known and none of them is named Husted. Moreover, two of them were born in the early 1680s and would have been too young to be potential husbands for a daughter of Angell Husted:

"Sergeant" JONATHAN³ REYNOLDS (*Jonathan*², *John*¹), b. about 1660; m. 7 Dec. 1682, NEVILL RI[—].¹⁰

JONATHAN⁴ REYNOLDS (*Jonathan*³⁻², *John*¹), b. about 1683; m. 13 April 170[—], REBECCA SEAMAN.¹²

Of these Jonathan Reynoldses, only Sergeant Jonathan might have been the "son in law" mentioned in Angell² Husted's will, and only if his first wife had died and Jonathan had remarried to a daughter of Angell Husted by 1706. Moreover, Angell Husted does not name a Reynolds daughter (alive or deceased), or any Reynolds grandchildren, in his will—odd, since his token bequests to five of his children would indicate a concern that no further claims be made against his estate. Had Jonathan Reynolds been married to a daughter of Angell Husted, some provision ought to have been made for his wife or his children.

The simplest explanation for Angell² Husted's reference to Jonathan Reynolds as "my son in law" should be well known to genealogists by now—that Jonathan

¹¹ Reynolds Descendants, 52, citing probate records and Greenwich deeds. Mary (Mead) Reynolds survived her husband.

¹² Greenwich Deeds 1:450. The final digit of the date in this record could be either a 1 or a 4. Reynolds Descendants states that it is 1703, while the reference to Greenwich "Early Records" in the Barbour Collection gives it as 1704. In 1705 Angell Husted deeded land to "Jonathan Renals Ju^r sonn unto Sergant Jonathan Reynolds," without specifying a relationship to either of them (Greenwich Deeds 1:76).

Reynolds was his stepson. The fact that Jonathan³ Reynolds's mother was named Rebecca lends credence to this explanation, since that was the name of Angell Husted's widow. Rebecca, the widow of Jonathan² Reynolds, was free to marry Angell Husted after 1674 and if his wife (and the mother of his children) were also deceased by that time, then there is nothing to contradict such a conclusion. Angell Husted's naming of "son in law" Jonathan Reynolds as a co-administrator with his son Samuel Husted may have reflected a desire to have his second wife Rebecca (who would be Jonathan Reynolds's mother) fairly represented in the probate proceedings.

Rebecca² Sherwood, daughter of Thomas¹ Sherwood, was born about 1625.¹³ While it is possible that she married late, becoming a mother for the first time at age 31 in 1656, it seems unlikely for several reasons. First, Jonathan² Reynolds was probably born about 1635–37¹⁴ and thus would have been 10 to 12 years his wife's junior. Secondly, Rebecca Sherwood would have been about 48 years old at the birth of the posthumous child Ebenezer—not impossible, but improbable.

Angell Husted's children are known from his will and from Greenwich deeds. Spencer P. Mead, in his History of Greenwich, lists them, with arbitrary dates of birth, as follows:¹⁵

- i REBECCA³ HUSTED, b. about 1645; m. JONATHAN REYNOLDS.
- ii JONATHAN HUSTED, b. about 1647, d. 1705; m. 1682, MARY LOCKWOOD, daughter of Robert and Susannah Lockwood.
- iii DAVID HUSTED, b. about 1649, d. unmarried before 1706.
- iv JOSEPH HUSTED, b. about 1652.
- v ANGELL HUSTED, b. about 1654, d. about 1728.
- vi ELIZABETH HUSTED, b. about 1656; m. — BALDWIN.
- vii MOSES HUSTED, b. about 1659; removed about 1698 to Cedar Creek, West Jersey.
- viii JOHN HUSTED, b. about 1662.
- ix SAMUEL HUSTED, b. about 1665, d. 1741.

Of these children, the daughter Rebecca can be eliminated, as the only reason for her inclusion is the erroneous interpretation of Angell Husted's relationship to Jonathan Reynolds. Son Jonathan may very well have been the oldest, for he is the first named in Angell's will and the first to be deeded land by Angell. On 20 June 1682, Angell Husted Sr. deeded his son Jonathan Husted land "upon the account^e of his joyning in Marriage with Mary Lockwood."¹⁶ This marriage must have taken place, however, before 1 December 1681, for on that day Jonathan "Hewstead" discharged his interest in the estate of his wife Mary's father Robert Lockwood.¹⁷ Mary Lockwood was the youngest of the daughters of Robert and Susanna Lockwood and was probably born in the mid-1650s.¹⁸ Jonathan Husted could reasonably be presumed to be about the same age or older than she. Angell Husted may very well have been married by 1650 and fathering children in the early 1650s. In 1648 Robert¹ Huestis/Husted bought land in Greenwich¹⁹ that he later willed to Angell,²⁰ possibly on account of or in anticipation of Angell establishing his own household.

Whenever Angell² Husted's oldest child was born, it seems likely that his youngest was born before 1670. Angell Husted Sr. deeded to sons Joseph and David in 1682 and 1683,²¹ and David deeded to his brother Angell in 1686.²² Sons Jonathan, Joseph, and Angell were listed in an "account of those persons who are the old & new Inhabitants in Greenwich" dated 21 May 1688, to which "John Hewstead" was added.²³ David, who was not mentioned in his father's will, may have been deceased by 1688, and Samuel and Moses may not yet have been of age to be freeholders. In 1690 Angell deeded to son Samuel,²⁴ and Moses bought land from John Bowers in late 1691.²⁵ He sold this land in February of 1693/4 and received a home lot from the town in March 1693/4.²⁶ Presumably they were all of age (and probably older) at the time of these deeds and thus would all have been born prior to 1670—making it chronologically impossible that they were sons of Rebecca, Angell² Husted's second wife. Efforts to estab-

²⁶ Greenwich Deeds 1:112 and Common-Place Book 1:175. Moses Husted's absence from the 1688 list and late appearance in the land records may mean that he was the youngest son. His being mentioned before John and Samuel in Angell's will may reflect the fact that he had already removed to New Jersey.

sh a date of birth for daughter Elizabeth have as yet been unsuccessful, but it is kely that she was a full sibling of Angell Husted's sons.²⁷

The net effect of this analysis, unfortunately, deprives descendants of Angell² Husted and Jonathan² Reynolds of the identities of their wives. The full name of Angell's first wife is not found in any other record, and the surname of Jonathan Reynolds's wife Rebecca is now open to further investigation.²⁸ Nevertheless, This study has demonstrated the value in revisiting problematic genealogical connections, even if no new information is available and the only difference is a fresh perspective.

Gordon L. Remington (P.O. Box 11685, Salt Lake City UT 84147) is a professional genealogist and a frequent contributor to the major genealogical journals.

²⁷ Although Angell indicated that she had received her portion, there are no deeds from him anyone with a name similar to Bawldin.

²⁸ The other questions raised in McCracken's article concerning Jonathan³ Husted's relationships, by blood or marriage, with Jabez³ Sherwood and Jonathan Jessup, are also open to further investigation. Jonathan Jessup is called "cusin" by Jonathan³ Husted and it has been suggested that he was the son of an unknown daughter of Angell² Husted. The fact that Angell Husted has no dealings with any Jessups and does not name Jonathan Jessup in his own will makes it more likely that Jonathan Husted's connections to the Jessup family and possibly the Sherwood family were through his wife, Mary Lockwood.

FAMILY HARMONY IN BRADFORD, MASSACHUSETTS

From the town records of Bradford, Massachusetts, we offer the following example of family harmony:¹

I William Brown hereby acknowledge that I have belied my Aunt Polly Pemberton by calling her a Whore. I have no reason to believe she is and by telling her she lied when she did tell the truth: for which bad and Shamefull treatment I am sorry and ashamed & humbly ask her forgiveness.

THE PUBLISHED NEW ENGLAND VITAL RECORDS

Use With Care

By Robert S. Wakefield, F.A.S.G.

Many genealogists assume the published New England vital records are correct and complete. Most of the time they are correct, but there are times when they are not. The following are examples of some of the problems I have found during my research on Mayflower families.

The birth record of Jerusha Bullock in the published Rehoboth vital records says that her parents were John and Jerusha.¹ The original Rehoboth vital records say her mother was "Nanna," and at the time of this birth John was married to his third wife, Anna.²

The births of Isaac and Jabez Round are recorded in the published Rehoboth vital records along with the rest of the children of Jabez and Renew (Carpenter) Round.³ They were apparently born in Swansea and the birth date of 8 January 1745/6 for Jabez is wrong. It should probably be 8 January 1735/6. These two entries are in a darker ink and must have been entered at a later date.⁴

The original Rehoboth vital records say that Benjamin Wilson of England married on 15 December 1730 Elizabeth Sprague, and their son Nathaniel was born on 10 June 1733; this is repeated in the published volume.⁵ This was recorded long after the fact and contains many errors. Apparently Benjamin Wilson was born in Woburn, Massachusetts, and both dates are apparently wrong. The bride was Elizabeth Doyle at the time of her marriage.⁶

The published vital records of Duxbury include entries for the family of Seth Josselyn from a Bible record,⁷ although he apparently never lived in Duxbury.⁸

The material in the published volume of Duxbury vital records comes from four churches, five graveyards and 105 private records, as well as the original town vital record volumes. Care should be used when consulting an entry with a code "P.R." (for private record). In 1931 George Ernest Bowman carried out a de-tradition, has it, was born in LEICESTERSHIRE, England, about 1610 and came to America about 1634. [Professional research was accomplished in England, hired by Chaplain Ferris and several associates in an effort to find out something about Jeffrey. Chaplain Ferris felt that the search was in depth and thorough, but the results were nil. The Parish records of the Leicestershire area did not show the surname Ferris, in any of its various spellings, so there is no documentation to prove his birth place, birth date or when he came to America. The first documentation of Jeffrey occurs when he was made a freeman.] [The New York Times of June 1937 in an article about the 300th Anniversary of Greenwich CT, states that Greenwich was named after the English hometown of Jeffrey Ferris. (?)] He was made a freeman at Boston, May 6, 1635; removed to Wethersfield, Connecticut (owned 45 acres which he sold to John Deming) (another source says 13 acres and 54 acres); and from there to Stamford, Connecticut, in 1641 where he was among the first settlers of that town. He is on the list of those who paid for the survey, and received ten acres at the first assignment of land (in the Stamford records, Ferris is recorded as Firries, but there are numerous other examples of misspelled words; I don't think spelling was their strong suit back then). Jeffrey was included on a list of pioneers living at Stamford at the end of 1642 as Jeffrey Ferris. He was vital to the community's development, and though he himself did move to Greenwich eventually, he gave homes in Stamford to two of his sons. At Stamford, Jeffrey had a mill complex complete with dam, head and tail races, the mill itself with its heavy grinding stones, and enough land along the sides of the river for both repairs and business expansion. He later, settled within the bounds of present Town of Greenwich and in 1656 was one of the eleven Greenwich men who petitioned to be accepted under the New Haven jurisdiction, where he died May 31, 1666.

The name of Jeffrey's first wife and mother of his known children remains unknown. Much research has been done and speculation abounds, but the actual documentation, such as the page of the Stamford Town Records, which contains her death record, is worn away. What is legible is her death date of May 31, 1658. On the tombstone her name has weathered away leaving only A Mary ----ne@. There are some that think her maiden name was Browne, Thorne, or Bowne; a case can be made for each because of connections with those families and Jeffrey, but no proof exists. Several sources, to include Family Tree Maker, list Judy Burns and/or Ann Milton or Anne Howard - as best as I can determine, there is no documentation for these names. In this compilation, she remains unknown.

He married second, at Stamford, in May 1661, Susannah (Norman) (AFN:FPHQ-6H) Lockwood, widow of Sergeant Robert Lockwood [dau of Richard]. She was born 1612, in England and died December 23, 1661 at Greenwich. [Susannah=s maiden name has also been identified as St. John, Sension, Bulkeley or Lockmann.] Jeffrey's marriage contract with Susannah, dated May 28, 1661, pledges certain legacies to the children of Robert Lockwood-deceased, and mortgages his Greenwich lands and "housings". (Jim - a prenuptial agreement in 1661?)

Jeffrey, married 3d, in 1662 at Stamford, Judith (Feake) Palmer, widow of Lieutenant William Palmer, (not Henry as found in some sources to include Ye Historie of Ye Greenwich) afterwards the wife of John Bowers. Judith (Judah) was born circa 1621, London, England and died in 1667/8, Yarmouth MA. - she was the dau of James & Audrey (Crompton) Feake, of London. Judith was also niece of Robert Feake, credited as one of the founders of Greenwich. Soon after Jeffrey=s death, she married John Bowers (See Genealogies of Long Island Families)

Jeffrey's will found on the probate records at Fairfield, is dated January 6, 1664/5. He wills to the four boys he brought up ("four bois which I brought up"), meaning Judith's four youngest sons (birth dates = John-1650/1, James-1652/3, William-1654/5, and Joseph-1656/7) from her marriage to William Palmer, ten pounds sterling a piece, if they live with any of his children until they are eighteen years old, the money then to be put out for them until they are twenty years of age. His will names also his wife "Judah", meaning Judith, son James, son Jonathan Lockwood, and Mary Lockwood (presumably Susannah's children), son Peter's three children, and son Joseph's two. Judith, his widow, receipts for her widow's portion, March 6, 1667.

Tradition invests the immigration of this family to this country with the lines of romantic adventure. The ancestress, who was also high born, followed her lover out into this western world to share with him here the fortunes which English aristocracy would not allow. (Genealogical and Family History of Western New York by W.R. Cutter (Vol.III, page 1096) states "Tradition tells us that his first wife was of noble birth, marrying against the wishes of her family.") [Jim - there is no documentation to back this up.]

The name Ferris is from LEICESTERSHIRE, House of Feriers, Farers, Fereis, Ferrerr, Ferreis, Ferrers or Ferris, the first member of which (in England) was from Henry de Feriers (Ferrers) (see separate paper on Henry de Ferrers), son of Guelhelme (Guillaume) (William) de Feriers, Master of the Horse (Jim - thus the horse shoes on the coat of arms) (most sources say Master of the House, though) of the Duke of Normandy, to whom William the Conqueror gave large grants of land in the three shires of Stafford, Derby, and Leicester. It is said that Guelhelme de Feriers took an active part in the Battle of Hastings (1066), having invaded England with the Conqueror. From Guelhelme de Feriers and William de Ferers, Earl of Derby, descends the Ferrers of Groby, who bore for their paternal coat of arms gu seven mascles or, a canton erm, while their Westchester descendants carried gu a fluer de lis or a canton erm with a crescent for the difference, or multum in floribus arte, freely translated is "much in the flowery arts", indicating that the family was distinguished for its love of horticulture. There are a couple of variations of the Ferris Coat of Arms as shown. [Jim - several folks have tied Jeffrey into this group of people. I am not aware of any documentation for this very large leap!]

Born to Jeffrey Ferris and his first wife were:

(1)JOHN (2)PETER (3)JOSEPH (4)MARY *(5)JAMES

This sequence, by birth, is from Ye Historie of Ye Town of Greenwich. A Ferris Genealogy by Chaplain James S. Ferris shows a different birth sequence. I have elected to stay with the original sequence because of the amount of renumbering I would have to do. I do consider the work done by Chaplain Ferris to be valid and will annotate where there is a difference.

From Greenwich Old & New: Chapter - Story of One Pioneer.

In spite of the important part that Daniel Patrick played in the founding of Greenwich, it was men like Jeffrey Ferris and Angell Husted who actually made this settlement. They were the men who remained permanently, and raised large families, which continued to live here for generations, forming the background of the town. So, to use Jeffrey Ferris as an example we must go back a few years to the settlement of Watertown just outside of Boston.

Along with a great number of restless, energetic Englishmen who left their homes for various reasons, Jeffrey Ferris came to America in 1634. Born in Leicestershire, England, in 1610, he was twenty-four when he came to Watertown. Over six feet tall, with blue eyes and red hair, he was a typical middle class Englishman, God-fearing, respectable, industrious and as later events proved, a good businessman. He was enough of a Puritan to be eligible as a citizen of Watertown, for his name was registered as a freeman of Boston in 1635. At that time church membership was the essential requirement for citizenship. This entitled him to be called Goodman Ferris.

From a number of small clues, it may be assumed that Jeffrey Ferris was not a rigid Puritan. He may have come to America for freedom of worship, but undoubtedly there were other more practical reasons as well. Goodman Ferris wanted land of his own, but he also wanted the rights of a free landowner. There was plenty of land around Boston, but little freedom. Not to repeat the well known story of how the citizens of Newtown, Watertown, and Dorchester separated from Boston and migrated to Connecticut, enough of this history must be told to explain how and why Jeffrey Ferris finally came to Greenwich.

At this time Boston was controlled by a few rigid Puritans who had organized a theocratic and completely undemocratic form of government. The citizens of the three settlements around Boston were not allowed to govern themselves independently, nor were they even fairly represented in Boston although they were subject to taxation. The rules and regulations regarding personal conduct were unbelievably strict. It was not only irregular characters like John Underhill and Daniel Patrick who were punished for minor crimes. Many very respectable law abiding citizens were fined or put in the stocks for trivial offenses.

Men like Jeffrey Ferris who had broken home ties and sailed across the ocean to a wilderness for the sake of freedom were not likely to submit to such a situation. At the same time glowing statements were coming to Boston concerning the fertile meadows and rich valley land along the Connecticut River. A separation from Boston and migration to Connecticut was inevitable, and in the company of a number of families from Watertown, Jeffrey Ferris acquired four acres of land and built a house. Evidently he planned to stay and settle down but within four years he was moving again.

So far Jeffrey Ferris had made two moves toward freedom, but from the point of view of freedom

Wethersfield proved a disappointment. Worse than that, there was no peace because of several strong minded ministers who were all trying to rule the small settlement at once. There were infinite quarrels and disputes over religion, politics, and the distribution of land. Because of these unsatisfactory conditions at Wethersfield, Jeffrey came to Greenwich. Land, always land, was what he wanted more than anything, so this time, quite on his own, he negotiated a purchase with the Indians here.

July 18, 1640, is the commonly accepted date for the founding of Greenwich because the Indian deed was signed on that day. Although historians are literally quite accurate when they assert that the settlement was established after the purchase, there are, nevertheless, a number of reasons for assuming that a few pioneers came here before July, 1640.

As an addition to the purchase of Daniel Patrick and Robert Feaks, it is noted that "Keofram hath sould all his Right in ye above sd necks unto Jeffre Ferris." This notation suggests that Goodman Ferris was here transacting a deal with the Indian Chief Keofferam before the coming of Daniel Patrick and Robert Feaks. When signing his mark, Sachem Keofferam made the picture of a blockhouse with a projection or lookout box. In front and behind the house he drew lines which may have been an indication of plowed ground.

Indian signatures were really picture writing, and the marks usually depicted something significant in relation to the document, which was signed. Such being the case, it is quite likely that there actually was a block house on this land bought by Jeffrey, and of course this house was his home. If so, it must have been built before July 1640.

If we assume that Jeffrey was one of the first landowners, it is possible to go a step further and attribute the naming of Greenwich to this particular founder, who was born in LEICESTERSHIRE, England. About 1590 in England, there was an adventurer named Richard Ferris who served as messenger in ordinary at the court of Queen Elizabeth. At this time the Earl of Leicester was the Queen's favorite, so it is more than likely that this member of the Ferris family from LEICESTERSHIRE received an appointment through his influence. [Jim - recently, some Genealogical organizations have made the leap and proclaimed that Richard was the father of Jeffrey - this proclamation has been further spread as gospel by numerous individuals. Until I am aware of documentation to this fact, I will not make this jump. In this document, Jeffrey's father is still unknown.]

The favorite summer residence of Queen Elizabeth was at Greenwich where her yacht lay alongside the wharf in front of the palace. As a member of the court, Richard Ferris must have visited there frequently. In this way, Jeffrey Ferris, as a son or nephew (?), might have become very fond of the village of Greenwich and when he came to New England he followed the custom of other emigrants by naming the town after that place in England to which he was most attached.

Jeffrey Ferris was married three times. His second wife was Susannah Lockwood, widow of Robert Lockwood, so from the very beginning of Greenwich history these two families were united. It is said that 10,000 of their descendants can be traced and many of them still live in Greenwich today.

Angell Husted is another founder of Greenwich whose family still lives there. Robert Husted, his father, owned land in both Stamford and Greenwich and was a witness to the purchase of Patrick and Feaks. Angell Husted was a special witness to the purchase made by Jeffrey Ferris, and it is claimed by the Husted family that he was here as early as 1638.

It would be impossible to name all the families who came to Greenwich over the period of the next twenty or thirty years but it is interesting to notice that a majority of them came here by the way of Watertown and Wethersfield just as Goodman Ferris did. Some of these families settled for a time in Fairfield where Jeffrey Ferris also lived for a few years because, as a loyal Englishman, he resented the Dutch jurisdiction, which Daniel Patrick had forced upon Greenwich.

The Indians - Undoubtedly the dangerous situation due to the Indians was another reason why Jeffrey Ferris left Greenwich for several years. Almost at once the Indians became the most difficult problem with which the first settlers had to contend. There were numerous raids as well as individual attacks on helpless families.

The Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) have some different dates on Jeffrey above. They show he married 1st Susannah Lockwood, who died in 1660; and then married Mathais St. John who died in 1669. The DAR also state that Jeffrey was a representative of the General Court, 1667, an original proprietor; yet above, it states he died in 1666; so there is conflicting information, but I guess that is to be expected.

From The Winthrop Woman - extracted by Anna Selton not accurate fiction

When on the morning of the purchase Elizabeth explained this to Daniel, he laughed, saying ASo be it then! We=ll sign this on the confounded rock, if you an= your squaw=re so set on it. I=m not the rascal to gainsay two determined women. What do we say, men?@ He turned to the five other Englishmen who stood by his hut door and were to act as witnesses. These were Jeffrey Ferris, a lean taciturn farmer of thirty, with a crest of auburn hair near as red as Patrick=s. Ferris had decided to establish himself in Rippowam, or Stamford, five miles away since that tract had just been bought by the New Haven Colony, but Ferris had already wintered on land west of Totomack cove and wished also to retain this small portion of Greenwich.

..... Jeffrey Ferris said nothing, because he never spoke idly and was in a hurry to finish these negotiations and get back to his patch of corn, which was ready for picking.

PENNOYER AND LOUNSBURY NOTES

By WINIFRED LOVERING HOLMAN, S.B., F.A.S.G., of Lexington, Mass.

As genealogist for Harvard, insofar as research in connection with their scholarships based upon ancestral requirements is concerned, I had much of the Pennoyer and Lounsbury material at hand. The additional data were secured in 1949, for Mrs. John Mitchell Morrison, of Towanda, Pa., and Miami, Fla., and is presented here with her permission and with due acknowledgment of her generosity.

These brief notes must be considered but a basis for more exhaustive research as few original sources have been consulted.

PENNOYER

There were three Pennoyer brothers in England, in whom we are interested. It seems odd that no one, to my knowledge, has ever secured and published any information as to their parentage and ancestry. The College of Arms in London has a partial pedigree, to which I have added data, but it contains nothing at all about the antecedents. As we shall see later, there may have been a fourth brother.

In 1901, the late Henry F. Waters published, in two volumes, his "Genealogical Gleanings in England", and in volume I, pages 503-506, presents the wills of William and Samuel Pennoyer, brothers, and their two widows. We are particularly interested in the will of William, whose legacy founded the Pennoyer Aid at Harvard.

Samuel, a merchant of London, had married Rose Hobson, and drew his will, 29 June 1652, proved 12 May 1654, mentioning his brother, William, and the latter's wife, Martha. Rose married, secondly, as his second wife, Samuel Disbrow and died in Elsworth, Cambridgeshire, 10 Dec. 1690, aged seventy-five, while Disbrow died there, 4 March 1698, aged eighty-two.*

William had married Martha, daughter of John Josselyn, of Hide Hall, Sawbridgeworth, Herts., by his wife, Elizabeth Wiseman.† As citizen and clothmaker of London, William Pennoyer made his will, 25 May 1670, proved 13 Feb. 1670-71.

In this instrument, he left £800 "to be sent over to the Corporation for the Propagation of the Gospel in New England", to the intent and purpose that its value in goods and commodities of that country "may upon sale thereof be delivered to Robert Pennoyer of Stamford of New England for the equal use and benefit of himself and each of his children; further to the intent and purpose that what shall be made thereof above the said eight hundred pounds value in the commodities of that country shall be and remain to his sister Elianor Reading and her husband Thomas Reading and all their children equally and indifferently".

He owned land and tenements in co. Norfolk, out of which £10 per annum was given to the Corporation for Propagation of the Gospel in New England and £34 per annum with which "two Fellows and two scholars forever shall be educated, maintained and brought up in the college called Cambridge College in New England, of which I desire one of them, so often as occasion shall present, may be of the line or posterity of the said Robert Pennoyer, if they be capable of it, and the other of the colony now or late called Newhaven Colony, if conveniently may be".

Harvard sold this Norfolk property only recently. The third brother, Robert Pennoyer, is the founder of the American branch; brief notes concerning him follow.

ROBERT PENNOYER, brother of William (the testator of 1670 and benefactor of Harvard College), a turner by trade, born perhaps in 1614, was alive in January 1677, then of Mamaroneck, Westchester Co., N. Y., and resided in Gravesend, Long Island, N. Y., Stamford, Conn., and Rye and Mamaroneck. He married, first, about 1652, an unknown wife, who became the mother of his children, and who died by 6 March 1671; and, secondly, after 1666, and before 6 March 1671, ELIZABETH (—) SCOFIELD, widow of Richard Scofield of Stamford.

It has been thought that this Robert is identical with a Robert Pennaird, aged 21, who with a Thomas Pennaird, aged 10 (possibly a younger brother), came over on the Hopewell, of London, Thomas Babb, Master. She sailed about the middle of September and arrived in Boston, Mass., the latter part of November 1635. (Banks: "Planters of the Commonwealth", 1930.) He was certainly the Robert Pennoyer, of Gravesend, Long Island, in 164—, and again in 1645. (Record, 16:99, 102.) 23 Aug. 1656 we learn that the lands of Robert Pennoyer, et als., at Gravesend were surveyed, from the Calendar of Dutch Ms., 189. (Ibid., 65:242.) 1 Aug. 1670 his daughter, Elizabeth "Penrye", was married to Richard Lownesbury, from Court of Assizes, 2:572. (O'Callaghan: "New York Marriages", 1860, 239.) 24 Dec. 1670 John Richbell, of Mamaroneck, with his wife, Ann, sold to Robert "Penoire", homelots, numbers 2 and 3, there, see Liber 1677-1683 [in Albany?]. (Record, 58:250.)

6 March 1671, the inventory was made of the estate of Richard Scofield, late of Stamford, deceased, filed 16 March 1671, which mentions the widow, now the wife of Robert "Penoyer". (Mead: Ms. "Fairfield Probate", 1:22.) The next record appears in Boston 18 Oct. 1671:

"I Robert Penoyer Late of Stamford doe . . . Ordayne my . . . freind Jonathan Sellick to bee my . . . Attourney to demand & receive for mee my full Legacy Left mee by my Brother mr William Penoyer Late of London . . . as witnes my hand & seale in Rye this 18th of October 1671 . . . Robert Penoire". Wit: John Richman, Miles Okely, and the mark of Nicolas Webster; attested 19 Oct. 1672 by Richman and Webster; recd. 20 April 1672. (Suffolk Deeds, 6:280.)

Further deeds are of interest in proving the names of his children:

8 Jan. 1671-72, Robert "Penoyer", of Mamaroneck conveyed property, purchased of Richbell, to his dearly beloved children: William and Thomas Penoyer;

the cattle and household goods to be divided between said sons and daughter, Martha Penoyer; Robert was to have full management of all the property during his natural lifetime. Westchester Deeds, B:100. (Record, 58:351.) Another abstract of this deed gives the date as 18 Jan. 1671-72, calls the grantor "Penoyre", recites that he gave to children, William and Thomas, all rights to his estate, real and personal; to eldest son, William, two thirds of the land purchased of said Richbell, and for want of issue to son Thomas; daughter, Martha, also named. Westchester Deeds, B:100. (Ibid., 54:394.)

1 Jan. 1677, a statement that William Penoyer did bequeath to Walter Butler, of Greenwich, Conn., son of Evan Butler, of Cursonn, in the county of Hereford, the sum of four score pounds. Westchester Deeds, at Albany, 4:26. (Ibid., 58:349.)

Recorded for Mr. George Heathcott, 7 Jan. 1677. "Whereas William Penoyer, Esq., citizen and clothworker of London, did make his last will in writing bearing date the five & twentieth day of May . . . 1670"; and among other things ordered that £800 be laid out in merchandise fit for New England & sent over to the Corporation for the Propagation of the Gospel in New England; delivered to Robert Penoyer of Stratford [Stamford] for the benefit of himself & children & did appoint Richard Leton Esq., & Michael Davison, Esq., Executors; . . . the residue to Ellena Reading & her children. The sd Michael Davison has since died. Now there is no such corporation in New England to which sd goods may be consigned & sold and proceeds divided amongst respective persons; neither can security be taken for children. Robert Penoyer is removed to Mamaroneck in New York State and hath only 4 living children, viz., Elizabeth Pennoyer, aged 24, William Pennoyer, aged 22, Thomas Pennoyer, aged 17, and Martha Pennoyer, aged 11, under age, January 1677. Signed

Robert Pennoyer
Elizabeth Pennoyer, now Lounsbury
Wm. Will Penoyer"

Wit: William Dyre, George Kniffon, John Royse, William Hall, and Anthony Buckholm. Westchester Deeds, at Albany, 4:9. (Ibid., 58:349.)

29 Jan. 1677, Robert Penoyer, of Mamaroneck, Turner, William Penoyer, of the same place, son of the said Robert, with Richard Lounsbury, of Rye, Conn., and Elizabeth Lounsbury, his wife, oldest daughter of the said Robert, conveyed to Richard Leton, of London, England, and to George Heathcott, of Middlesex Co., England, mariner, by bond. Westchester Deeds, at Albany, 4:23. (Ibid., 58:349.)†

There is mention in a deed, dated 2 April 1694, of land formerly in the possession of Robert Pennoyer and now in the possession of his son (not named). Westchester Deeds, B: 177. (Ibid., 54:394.) It would seem therefore that Robert was surely dead by April 1694.

Children by first wife, born in Stamford:

- i. ELIZABETH, b. about 1652; m., RICHARD LOUNSBURY. See Lounsbury Notes.
- ii. WILLIAM, b. about 1654; m. MARY ——. In 1698, a William "Pencor" was of Mamaroneck, and, in New Rochelle, a Robert "Penoire"; (a footnote explains that Robert probably belonged to the Mamaroneck List); also another 1698 list, for New Rochelle, Mamaroneck, and Morisanna, gives a Robert "pencor", aged 17. 22 May 1702, William "Pencor", of Mamaroneck, freeholder, for love, gives to his son and heir, Robert "Penoire", one half his land there; 2 March 1703, William Penoire, of same, for love, deeds all his estate to his wife Mary, for her natural life; wit: Fred. and

LOUNSBURY

RICHARD¹ LOUNSBURY*, of Rye, Westchester Co., N. Y., in 1672, died by 8 Dec. 1694, testate. He married, by License, and as "Lownesbury", 1 Aug. 1670, ELIZABETH "PENRYE", who, aged twenty-four, 8 Jan. 1677, was living in 1694, daughter of Robert Pennoyer, and niece of a benefactor of Harvard, William Pennoyer.

Nothing is known of the antecedents of Richard Lounsbury, whose male descendants, by his wife, Elizabeth Pennoyer, are entitled to the Pennoyer Aid at Harvard.

Mead's Ms. "Fairfield Probate", mentions, page 18, that Philip Galpin, of Rye, conveyed property there to Simon Roberts, of Boston, Mass., 20 Feb. 1672, as witnessed by Joseph Horton and Richard Lounsbury. According to Baird's "Rye", (1871), pages 421-422, Richard was a proprietor there of Penungs Neck in 1672, and also held property in White Plains, Westchester Co., where he removed between 1673 and 1682, selling part of his Rye land. However, he kept his land in Rye at Budds Neck, which by his will of 2 Jan. 1690 [?], he left to his wife, Elizabeth, and to his elder sons.

His will, proved 7, or 8, Dec. 1694, mentioned wife, Elizabeth, and daughter, Mary; gave to son John, a bed, etc.; and to sons Thomas and Michael, all his rights at White Plains; to his son, Henry, his rights in "Racone Ridge", and Lane Wills Purchase; required his son Richard's £10 note, "when time is out according to bargain". The widow Elizabeth was administratrix. (Selleck-Jacobus: "Miner Ancestry", 1928.)

Westchester Deeds, C:320, deals with the estate of this Richard Lounsbury, and also refers to the Westchester Wills. Lounsbury had left his lands in White Plains to his sons, Thomas and Michael; the latter sold out his portion. The will, 1690-1694, recorded in the Deeds†, mentions daughter, Mary, but she was omitted from the Will. (Record, 49:300; also see 54:397).‡

Although son Henry Lounsbury's birth is recorded in Stamford, it is exceedingly doubtful if Richard ever resided there. No doubt Henry, himself, had it recorded in the Stamford Town Book.

*Some descendants spell the name as "Lounsberry".

†Westchester Deeds, B:188.

‡There was a William res. n. of Dr. Graham, who occupied his land many years. John and wife, Ann, of Rye, gave to brother-in-law, Israel Rogers and wife Mary, in 1703-04. Westchester Deeds C:320. (Appended to Record, 54:397, cited above.)

Children, probably all born in Rye.

- i. MARY,³ m. by 11 Aug. 1701 ISRAEL ROGERS.
- ii. JOHN, m. about 1701 ABIGAIL (THOMAS) PRESTON, b. 21 Nov. 1674, dau. of John and Lydia (Parker) Thomas and widow of Samuel Preston. Her two sons are known from the conveyance of Thomas property inherited from her. 11 Aug. 1701, John conveyed part of his homelot, in Rye, to his brother-in-law, Israel Rogers, and Mary, his wife. John was a wit. at Rye, 1706-1723. (Record 17:280; 54:395; Jacobus, "New Haven Families", 5:1107; 7:1790; Sharpe's "Bethany", 1908, 129; 132.)
- Children:
 1. Richard,³ of Kingstown, N. Y., in 1733.

- iii. THOMAS, held rights in White Plains, Westchester Co., from his father.
- iv. MICHAEL, b. about 1680; d. 20 Jan. 1730-31; Stamford, Conn., test.; m. there, 19 June 1707, SARAH LOCKWOOD, who d. there 7 June 1749, dau. of John Lockwood.

The will of Michael Lounsbury of Stamford, dated 18 Jan. 1730, proved 16 April 1731, names children: "Murmooth" (Mouth), Joshua, Nehemiah, Jonathan, Sarah, Jemima, and Abigail, brother Henry Lounsbury; wife Sarah; no executor cited; wit: Samuel Weed, Daniel Hait and Thomas June; inventory, by said Weed and Samuel Hait, 17 June, filed 24 June 1731; 1 Sept. 1747, distribution according to will. (Mead: Ms. "Stamford Probate", 1:23.) See Stamford V.R. (Barbour), 129; "Stamford Registration", 1874, 71; Selleck-Jacobus "Miner Ancestry", 1928, 63-64; Mead: Ms. "Stamford Probate", 1:19, 50; "Lockwood Genealogy", 1889, 35; Baird: "Rye", 1871, 421. I have further data.

- vi. RICHARD, m. ELIZABETH DU BOIS. A Richard, carman, of New York, d. intest., admin. granted his widow, Abigail, 28 Feb. 1715-16. ("New York Wills", 2:165, pub. in Coll. N. Y. Hist. Soc.) However, see Record, 17:280.

5. HENRY² LOUNSBURY (Richard¹), born probably in Rye, Westchester Co., N. Y., birth recorded in Stamford, Conn., 15 Aug. 1684, died in Stamford between 8 Oct. 1749 and 2 April 1751, intestate. He married there, about 1709, MERCY SCOFIELD, born there 30 Oct. 1690, died between 8 Oct. 1749 and 2 April 1751, daughter of John and Hannah (Mead) Scofield.*

By the terms of his father's will, which was proved in December 1694, Henry received land and first appears in the deeds of Stamford in 1706:

11 March 1705-06, Samuel Seeley, of Stamford, sold to Henry Lounsbury, of same, land there; wit: Samuel Hait and John Crissy; ack. 1708 and recd. 1717. (Stamford Deeds, B:287.)†

The records of the Stamford Church are extant only from 31 Dec. 1746. At this time the Lownsbury members included Abigail, Epinetus, Gideon, Hannah, wife of Joshua, Joshua, Mary, Nathan, and Rachel, wife of Jonathan Scofield. Gideon later became an Episcopalian and Joshua left town. Mercy, wife of Henry Lownsbury, was admitted a member 8 Oct. 1749, which would prove that both were then living. (Mead: Ms. "Stamford Church Recds".)

In view of the above deeds of gift, we are not surprised to learn that Henry died intestate, nor is there any record of an estate for his wife or widow. Evidently both were deceased when their heirs passed these conveyances:

23 April 1751, Nathaniel, Epinetus, and Gideon Lownsbury; Samuel Scofield and Hannah Scofield alias Lownsbury, his wife; Jonathan Scofield and Rachel Scofield, alias Lownsbury, his wife; Charles Buxton and Mercy Buxton, alias Lownsbury, his wife; Nathaniel Newman and Mary Newman, alias Lownsbury, his wife, all of Stamford, convey to Nathan Lownsbury, of same, land there; Hannah, Rachel, Mercy, and Mary sign by mark; wit: Charles Smith and John Holly; ack. 23 and 25 April 1751; recd. 25 April 1752. (Ibid., F: 226.)

Henry's first six children are recorded in the Stamford Town Records, as see The American Genealogist, 11:164, 224. His own birth also appears therein, ibid., 10:182.

Children, born in Stamford:

- i. HENRY, b. 17 Dec. 1709; aged 7, 17 Dec. 1716; prob. d. young.

MERCY³ LOUNSBURY (Henry,² *Richard*¹), born in Stamford, Conn., 12 March 1710-11, aged six on 12 March 1716-17, living there 23 April 1751. She married there, by a Justice of the Peace, 6 May 1742, CHARLES⁴ BUXTON, born there 29 Aug. 1714, living there, 5 July 1772, son of Clement Buxton III, by his wife, Elizabeth Ferry.*

Charles Buxton bought out the rights in his father's Stamford holdings, of his siblings, in 1750, and then sold land there, subject to his mother's life interest, to Daniel Lockwood, who had bought other land of Clement Buxton in 1741. In 1753, Charles' mother, Elizabeth Buxton, then of Bedford, N. Y., quit to Charles her rights in the Stamford property. His first deed, after his marriage, follows:

23 Nov. 1744, Anthony DeMill, of Stamford, sold to Charles Buxton, of same, land there on the west side of Mill River, next to that of Moses Buxton; wit: Jonathan Glason and Joseph Heusted; ack. same day; recd. 1744. (Stamford Deeds, D:472.)

Mercy, wife of Charles Buxton, is included in a list of the members of the First Church of Stamford, 31 Dec. 1746, and their five children were all baptised therein. (Mead: Ms. "Stamford Church Records", 6, 41, 42, 43.) The rest of Charles' conveyances, filed at Stamford, are noted below. He perhaps had others recorded elsewhere, — very possibly at White Plains, N. Y.

1 Nov. 1745, Charles Buxton, of Stamford, sold land on west side of Mill River there to Ebenezer Scofield; wit: Samuel Squier, Jr., and Jonathan Maltbie; ack. same; recd. 21 Jan. 1746-47. 5 Jan. 1745-46, Charles Buxton, of same, sold land there, next to Moses Buxton, to James Scofield; wit: Richard Scofield and Anthony Demill; ack. same; recd. 2 Nov. 1747. (Stamford Deeds, E:85,130.)

11 April 1746, Charles Buxton, of Stamford, sold land there at Rocky Neck to Benjamin Weed, Jr.; wit: mark of Martha Whiting and Ebenezer Dibble; ack. and recd. same. 19 July 1746, Samuel Pennoyer, of same, sold Charles Buxton, of same, 2 acres meadow there; wit: James Bell and Robert Arnold; ack. and recd. same. Charles had sold, 2 July 1746, 35 acres there to Edmund Lockwood of same; ack. and recd. 19 July 1746; the same day, 2 July, Lockwood conveyed the same property back to Buxton; ack. and recd. 19 July 1746; same wits, both deeds: Reuben Penoyer and Robert Arnold. (Ibid., E:49,50.)

same; recd. 24 Feb. 1746-47. 3 March 1746-47, Charles sold Epenetus Lounsbury of same; wit: Jonathan Maltbie and Ebenezer Dibble; ack. and recd. same. (Ibid., E:95, 101.)

10 Nov. 1747, Charles Buxton, of Stamford, sold to Samuel Hait 3d, of same, one 3d part of right to land called Quester [The Sequestered Land] which "was of my hond grandfather Buxton and one third of the right in Sequest land which was Samuel Handyes and one third right which was Francis Davis"; wit: Jonathan and Sarah Maltbie; ack. same; recd. 13 Nov. 1747. (Ibid., E:132.)

2 March 1747-48, Charles Buxton, of Stamford, sold land there on Upper Weed Ridge to Monmouth Lounsbury; wit: Nathaniel and Gideon Lounsbury; ack. same; recd. 21 March 1747-48. 24 April 1749, Charles Buxton, of same, sold land there to Nathaniel Lounsbury, of same; wit: Jonathan Maltbie and Jonathan Church [?]; ack. same; recd. 28 April 1749. (Ibid., E:157,228.)

The two deeds, drawn in 1751, in which Mercy, as wife of Charles Buxton, appears in connection with the settlement of the real estate of her father, Henry Lounsbury, are noted above. As a Charles Buxton, Jr., appears in the Stamford Church Records in 1767 and 1772, it may be assumed that our Charles was then living; also that this record applies to the last named:

3 May 1768, Charles Buxton gave a bond as the guardian of Clement Lloyd, son of David Lloyd, late of Bedford, Westchester Co., N. Y., decd., a minor. From Misc. Papers not copied. (Mead: Ms. "Stamford Probate", 328.)

In 1790, the only Buxtons listed in Connecticut were at Norwalk: Mary, a widow, also James, John, Peter, and Samuel; at Greenwich: Dorcas [Dorcas?].

We are indebted to William M. Clevenger, Esq., of Atlantic City, N. J., who informs us that in the original files Abigail's husband signed as Daniel. Mrs. H. B. Houghton of Bridgeport, Conn., has also been generous with Westcott data.

Lydia Penoyer* testified that her aunt Abigail Westcott said "her servant girl Caten branch was such a Lying gairl that not anyboddy Could beleieve one word what shee said"; and Abigail further showed good sense by asserting her disbelief that any of the accused women were witches.

WHEELER FAMILY (FAIRFIELD)

Wheeler, Thomas, "Sr."

Known as Thomas, Sr., came to Concord, whence he came (with the Jones contingent in Sept. 1644 as we suppose) to Fairfield. Here land was recorded to him, and adjacent land to Thomas, Jr., in Jan. 1649 [1649/50]. This Thomas, Jr., we take to be the brother named 1654 in his will, but whether actual brother or brother-in-law the evidence is inadequate to establish. Though rare, brothers sometimes were given identical names, but usually they were half-brothers, with different mothers. Ephraim Wheeler was certainly brother of Thomas, Sr.

Will 5 May 1654, proved 23 Aug. 1654; wife Ann; elder son Thomas, property in Concord; dau. Sarah wife of Thomas Sherwood and their son Thomas; dau. (not named) and four gr. children, Mary, James, Thomas, and John Bennett; son John, lands in Fairfield; brother Thomas Wheeler Lieutenant, Robert Lockwood, and Andrew Ward, all of Fairfield, overseers. Ephraim Wheeler was an appraiser.

* Wife of Thomas Penoyer, and presumably dau. of Moses and Abigail (Westcott) Knapp.

Will of Ann Wheeler, 21 Aug. 1659; elder son Thomas, his wife and children; children of dau. Hannah, mentioning Sarah and Hannah Bennett; gr. child Sarah Sherwood; Annis Sherwood, wife of my son-in-law; to Rebecca Turney, my best hat; to Ann Squire, a petticoat. Inv. 20 Oct. 1659. The illegible conclusion of the will may have named her son John.

The Wheeler Family in America, which we cannot follow implicitly with regard to this Wheeler family, states that Thomas m. at Cranefield, co. Bedford, Eng., 5 May 1613, Ann Halsey; and the baptisms of their children at Cranefield, given below, are from the same source.

Children:

Mary, bapt. 20 Oct. 1615, no further record.

Anna, bapt. 20 Feb. 1617; she was, we suppose, the dau. always called Hannah in Fairfield records, who m. (1) James Bennett, and (2) Joseph Middlebrook.

William, bapt. 16 Mar. 1618, no further record, and d. y.; for his brother Thomas was called "elder son" in will of both parents.

Thomas, bapt. 8 Apr. 1620; of Concord. [See the following article.] +John, bapt. 27 Feb. 1624.

Sarah, bapt. 10 Aug. 1628; m. Thomas Sherwood, Jr.

Wheeler, Thomas. Ens., Conn. Col. Troop, May 1653, having previously held title of Lt.

For all his activity and prominence, the identity of this man has been an enigma. Savage identifies him with Thomas, Sr., of Fairfield, which is certainly wrong, as the Lieutenant was living after the death of Thomas, Sr. Orcutt makes him son of Thomas, Sr., and then proceeds to identify him further with Thomas of Milford; and the Wheeler Family in America follows this solution.

Now the Thomas who was appointed Ensign in 1653 by Conn. Colony was distinctly called "Lt. Thomas of Fairfield." But the Milford Thomas was living there by 1640, and until 1657 continued to have his children bapt. there with great regularity at two-year intervals. As Milford was in New Haven Colony in 1653, it should be obvious that he could not be the man on whom Conn. Colony conferred this commission in its colonial troop which was raised for possible war service during the trouble with the Dutch.

The Milford Thomas located there before there were any Wheelers in Fairfield; never lived in Fairfield, nor, so far as we

PECK - REYNOLDS - ?SMITH - ?PENNOYER ANCESTRY PROBLEM

The following information was submitted by Russell L. Warner, GRS, (CSG#1447) in an effort to promote a solution to the genealogical problems brought out in his article. He will share his data with anyone interested in this line of descent and especially anyone who can do further research in the Stamford, Conn. area.

The search for the ancestry of Enos Peck who died 23 May 1835 in Camillus township, Onondaga County, New York, was easily ended for the Peck name when the book, Genealogical Account of the Descendants in the Male Line of William Peck, 1877, by Darius Peck, came to my attention. For those without access to the above reference, Cutter's, Central New York Genealogies, Vol. 1, pp 136-138 and 475/6 will suffice for the Enos Peck ancestry. However, the mother of Enos (Peter⁴, Samuel³, Jeremiah², William¹) was known only as "Sarah Peck" in both accounts.

In a more recent book with a long title, The History and Descendants of John and Sarah Reynolds, (1630-1923) of Watertown, Mass. and Wethersfield, Stamford and Greenwich, Conn., 1924, by Marion H. Reynolds A.B., was found Sarah Peck's maiden name. On page 47 she is called Sarah Reynolds, daughter of Ebenezer Reynolds (Jonathan², John¹), and his wife, Abigail "Smith" (daughter of Ebenezer Smith.) The only basis for the name "Smith" seems to be contained in a sentence following the name of Sarah Reynolds: viz, "In 1735 she (Sarah) was unmarried, and was left money by will of maternal grandfather, Ebenezer Smith, of Greenwich Conn."

An intensive search for an Ebenezer Smith with a daughter named Abigail who could have married 1704 (as estimated in the genealogy), Ebenezer Reynolds ended in failure but it was noted that others had searched earlier for the same family. One search was a query in the Boston Transcript, issue of 28 June 1934 and numbered (8749)-4. No answer was seen.

Next, it was decided to have the will of Ebenezer Smith of Greenwich, Conn. re-examined. This research was entrusted to Dr. Claude W. Barlow, Worcester, Mass. who made this following report:

"Will of Ebenezer Smith of Greenwich, Conn. Dated 1 Dec 1735: 'living under ye dayly expectation of death.' Confirmed at the end of the will on 3 Dec 1735; sworn by the witnesses 6 Jan 1735/6; proved 7 Jan 1735/6; witnessed by Ephraim Bostick, Lieut. David Reynolds and Gershom Lockwood Junr. 'Unto my well respected freind Sarah Reynolds Daughter to Ebenezer Reynolds of Greenwich, my horse, bridle, chest and six pounds in money; to my brethern and sister now living at Norwalk, viz: Robert Smith, John Smith, Sam'll Smith and Mary Gregory all the remainder of my estate."

We concluded that Ebenezer Smith was the fiance of Sarah Reynolds and not her grandfather, and that further search of the Smith name was not warranted. Sarah was about 24 years of age when Ebenezer died and she did not marry Peter Peck until nearly ten years later if the birth of their first child, Peter Peck Jr, in Jan 1746, is used to date the unrecorded marriage.

Since Lieut. David Reynolds served as one of the witnesses to the Ebenezer Smith will, the Reynolds genealogy was again consulted. David's family is listed on page 53-- and nothing was seen to otherwise connect him with Ebenezer Smith. But on the same page 53, in data included in the paragraph re Joshua Reynolds, David's brother, was this interesting sentence: 'Will of Thos Pennoyer, Stamford, dated 13 Nov 1724, mentions wife Lydia (Knapp) and daughter ABIGAIL REYNOLDS, born Stamford, Oct. 13, 1686, might suggest wife to fit in here." Even the first name of Joshua's wife was unknown to the compiler of the Reynold's book, so there was no basis in fact for this mention of an Abigail Reynolds in this particular family.

This Abigail Pennoyer was born 8mo-13-1686 in Stamford (1-162) daughter of Thomas and Lydia (Knapp) Pennoyer and she did marry a Reynolds if her father's will was copied correctly. That she was the wife of Ebenezer Reynolds might be proved with a re-reading of the Pennoyer will, and a reading of Stamford deeds to see if land was divided between the widow and her Reynolds daughter. This could give the name of her Reynolds husband.

WIFE

wf of Ebenezer3 (Jonathan2, John) Reynolds listed as Abigail Smith in Reynolds and Pennoyer Geny, is incorrect. This erroneous info. was based on the 3 Dec 1735 will of Ebenezer Smith of Greenwich Ct, who did NOT LIST ANY WIFE in his WILL. THE ONLY RELATIVES HE LISTED WERE HIS SIBLINGS. His first bequest was to well respected FREIND (sic) Sarah Reynolds, d/o Ebenezer Reynolds of Greenwich CT. The bequest was a horse, a bible, a chest, and 6 lbs money. (Perhaps he felt indebted to her for caring for him in his last illness, or he had made an agreement to reimburse her for caring for him. His will indicated that he knew he was dying. Ebenezer named his siblings, residing at Norwich, Robt, John, Sam, Mary, wf of John Gregory, to receive the rest of his estate, to be divided in equal portions. Robt Smith and John Gregory execs. with. by Ephraim Bostwick, David Reynolds, Gersham Lockwood Jr. Proved 6 Jan. 1735/6.

Who was the with. David Reynolds for Smith's will? David Reynolds, married 4 Nov 1720 Abigail Reynolds, (d/o Joseph Reynolds. This David would have been nephew-in-law of the deceased Ebenezer Reynolds. This David was s/o John Reynolds, the Cooper, and first cousin of the deceased Ebenezer Reynolds. However, this David Reynolds supposedly died bef 1745.

Another, - LT David Reynolds d. 1750, (husb. of Penelope Wright), was first cousin to the deceased Ebenezer Reynolds. Lt. David had a son David who was alive 1750.

These were the only known David Reynolds in the area 1735.

One Ephraim Bostwick b. ca 1706 of Stamford Ct, was s/o Zachariah; Ephraim m. Abigail Allyn or Allen.

One Gershom Lockwood, b. 1708 Greenwich CT was s/o Gershom b. Watertown MA, who d. Greenwich Ct. Jr's sister Ann m. Sam Ferris.

Ebenezer Reynolds made his will 20 Feb. 1748/9 and it was proved 2 May 1749. His WIFE Abigail and his DAUGHTER Sarah Reynolds, wife of Peter Peck were named in his will. Peter Peck, husband of Sarah Reynolds was born ca 1704, which estimates an approximate time of birth for Sarah Reynolds.

Abigail Reynolds of Greenwich CT, survived her husb. Ebenezer by no more than a yr. On 5 Oct. 1751, Abigail Reynold's land was laid out for her heirs, (not named in the deed). Her land bounded that of Ezra Mead, and was land that had been laid out in 1687 to OLD Moses Knapp and OLD Thomas Pennoyer, which was the 9th part of a third part of Knapp's land and and a 9th part of Penoyer's land. Stamford CT Deeds Bk E:465.

Clearly, it can be deduced that Abigail Reynolds, deceased by 5 oct. 1751, was d/o Thos. Pennoyer and grd/o Moses Knapp and probably the same Abigail, widow of Ebenezer Reynolds. Researched and summarized by Certified genealogist Clifford Stott 3/08 for my 2nd cousin Bob White.

Note that Thos. Pennoyer had 9 ch., but I haven't figured out how many survived him.

Ebenezer Reynolds is generally accepted to have been a posthumous s/o Jonathan2 Reynolds and born soon after 23 Jan 1673/4 when Jonathan died. Jonathan named his children in his will, - no Ebenezer, but Jonathan Jr. who was named in the will, made a deed of gift of land to his bro. Ebenezer in 1695, abt the time that Ebenezer became 21 yrs..

Abigail Pennoyer was born in 1686, which makes her abt 22 younger than her husband. This is an unusual age gap, but possible. The marriage date is based on the date of birth of her first child, which makes her abt 17 or 18 at marriage.

Ct Nutmegger, V. 7, part 2, p. 308/9, publ. ? yr, article by Cert. Gen. Russell Warner believed she was Pennoyer. In 2008, Certified genealogist Clifford Stott agreed and obtained the documents listed her for my 2nd cousin Bob. White.

Pennoyer Geny says Abigail, dau. of Thos. Pennoyer MAY have m. Joshua Reynolds, (s/o John2 who m. Judith Palmer). This was only a supposition by author. CT VR lists Joshua Reynolds marriage to Abigail REYNOLDS, not Abigail Pennoyer.

Abigail's birth, bk 1 p 162, Stamford Ct. d/o Thomas and Lydia (Knapp) Pennoyer. Her father named her as Abigail Reynolds in his will.

FHC Barbour Collection for Stamford Fairfield Co CT lists Abigail as b. 8th mo, 13 day, 1686. (not sure if 8th mo is Aug) in that time frame).

This indicates probable order of birth. Sister Abigail's birth not certain as 1713, but if true, then Sarah could have been born ca 1714/16. she and sister Deborah married Peck brothers and both were widowed early. Did these sisters while they were widows ever live near each other? Notice that Sarah had a bro named Enos and she prob. named a son after him. Sarah survived husband; to New Milford Litchfield Co CT after husb. died. Ref : the History and Descendants of John and Sarah Reynolds 1630-1923 of Watertown Mass and Wethersfield Ct and Greenwich Ct, publ 1924, by Marion H. Reynolds A.B., p. 47, says Sarah Reynolds married Peter Peck ; Sarah being d/o Ebenezer Reynolds (Jonathan2, Jophn1) and Abigail Smith, d/o Ebenezer Smith. (Smith is incorrect. There was no Abigail Smith). Confusion occurred because Eben'r Smith left his well respected FRIEND Sarah Reynolds, d/o Ebenezer Reynolds of Greenwich, a horse and some other items in his will of 1735. Will of Ebenezer Smith of Greenwich Ct, 1 Dec 1735, lists FREIND (sic) Sarah Reynolds d/o Ebenezer Reynolds of Greenwich, to get horse, bridle, chest and 6 lbs money. Smith also gives legacies to his Smith sibs. Rob't, John and Sam'l Smith, Mary Gregory, all of Norwich, all the remainder of his estate. Died 3 Dec. 1735. Will wtn by Ephraim Bostick, Lt David Reynolds and Gershom Lockwood Jr. Wtn. swore 6 Jan. 1735/36; proved 7 Jan. 1735/6. (Note that Eben'r Smith was NOT grf. of Sarah Reynolds. Eb Smith left no bequest to any ch or grch, only to sibs living in Norwalk, Robt Smith , John Smith, Saml Smith, Mary Gregory). Sarah Reynolds married Peter Peck abt 10 yrs later, abt 1745. Assume that Sarah in this will was at least 16 yrs, would make her b. by 1719 or earlier. However, Peter Peck was b. ca 1704, how true was his dob? How much younger than husb. Peter could she be? Their marr date not certain. see Ct Nutmegger vol 7, # 2, Sep 1974 article submitted by Russell Warner GRS (CSG Certified Genealogist #1447), who concluded that Sarah might have been fiancee of Eb Smith - (but perhaps she just took care of Smith in his last illness). CHILD 1 - Abigail PENNOYER wf of Ebenezer3 (Jonathan2, John) Reynolds listed as Abigail Smith in Reynolds and Pennoyer Geny, is incorrect. This erroneous info. was based on the 3 Dec 1735 will of Ebeezzer Smith of Greenwich Ct, who did NOT LIST ANY WIFE in his WILL. THE ONLY RELATIVES HE LISTED WERE HIS SIBLINGS. His first bequest was to well respected FREIND (sic) Sarah Reynolds, d/o Ebenezer Reynolds of Greenwich CT. The bequest was a horse, a bible, a chest, and 6 lbs money. (Perhaps he felt indebted to her for caring for him in his last illness, or he had made an agreement to reimburse her for caring for him. His will indicated that he knew he was was dying. Ebenezer named his siblings, residing at Norwich, Robt, John, Sam, Mary, wf of John Gregory, to receive the rest of his estate, to be divided in equal portions. Robt Smith and John Gregory execs. with. by Ephraim Bostwick, David Reynolds, Gersham Lockwood Jr. Proved 6 Jan. 1735/6.

Who was the with. David Reynolds for Smith's will? David Reynolds, married 4 Nov 1720 Abigail Reynolds, (d/o Joseph Reynolds. This David would have been nephew-in-law of the deceased Ebenezer Reynolds. This David was s/o John Reynolds, the Cooper, and first cousin of the deceased Ebenezer Reynolds. However, this David Reynolds supposedly died bef 1745.

Another, - LT David Reynolds d. 1750, (husb. of Penelope Wright), was first cousin to the deceased Ebenezer Reynolds. Lt. David had a son David who was alive 1750.

These were the only known David Reynolds in the area 1735.

One Ephraim Bostwick b. ca 1706 of Stamford Ct, was s/o Zachariah ; Ephraim m. Abigail Allyn or Allen.

One Gershom Lockwood, b. 1708 Greenwich CT was s/o Gershom b. Watertown MA, who d. Greenwich Ct. Jr's sister Ann m. Sam Ferris.

Ebenezer Reynolds made his will 20 Feb. 1748/9 and it was proved 2 May 1749. His WIFE Abigail and his DAUGHTER Sarah Reynolds, wife of Peter Peck were named in his will. Peter Peck, husband of Sarah reynolds was born ca 1704, which estimates an approximate time of birth for Sarah Reynolds.

Abigail Reynolds of Greenwich CT, survived her husb. Ebenezer by no more than a yr. On 5 Oct. 1751, Abigail Reynold's land was laid out for her heirs, (not named in the deed). Her land bounded that of Ezra Mead, and was land that had been laid out in 1687 to OLD Moses Knapp and OLD Thomas Pennoyer, which was the ?9th part of a third part of Knapp's land and and a ?9th part of Penoyer's land. He m. the widow of Richard Scofield, or Schofield, and d. at Stamford, 1680; both he and his brothers left long and remarkable wills, containing a variety of bequests, including gifts of money or property to London aldermen and drapers, as well as to a number of philanthropic and educational causes, and to the Corporation for Propagation of the Gospel in New England. COL. JESSE PENNOYER, of Dutchess County, New York, served in the forces of the American patriots during the American War of Independence; the records at Washington show an unusual number of re-enlistments in his regiment. He served in Arnold and Montgomery's expedition to Canada, and attracted by the country revisited it later, eventually settling there; he subsequently settled in Canada as a surveyor, and was the first to officially survey the Eastern townships of Quebec, a little prior to 1800; the memory of his activities is perpetuated by the surveyor stone near Old Richelieu Bridge, Noyan, Quebec, and his written records are among the most important sources of information as to the Eastern Townships preserved in the Ottawa archives. PERINE

WASHINGTON PERINE, of Baltimore, b. 14 Oct. 1870.

Mr. Perine, together with his brother, sisters, aunt, and cousin, being the nine heirs of George Corbin Washington (1789-1854), executed a deed in 1927 by which the site of the old graveyard of the Washington family at Wakefield, was transferred to the Nation. This followed a gift in 1883 by Mr. Perine's mother and her brother and sister to the United States Government of the site of the original house at Wakefield, built in 1718 by Augustine Washington (1694-1743) which was burnt down on 25 December 1780, while his grandson William Augustine Washington (1757-1810) was entertaining in the house.

Lineage.—WILLIAM PERINE, of a family of Huguenots, who settled at Staten Island, New York, at the end of the seventeenth century, moved to Baltimore Co., Maryland, where he bought land by deed dated 21 Oct. 1760 b. ca. 1710, and d. Mar. 1768 (will pr. 4 April, 1768), having had issue, by Jane, his wife, two sons and three daus. The elder son,

PETER PERINE, of Baltimore Co., joined the Society of Friends 26 June, 1765, b. 1735; m. 13 Nov. 1760, Hannah Amos, of Baltimore Co., and d. Jan. 1775, leaving issue,

1. Simon, b. 16 Oct. 1768; d. 8 Jan. 1796.

2. MAULDEN, of whom presently.

3. Peter, b. 26 May, 1773; d. 27 Jan. 1819.

1. Ann, b. 25 Oct. 1764; m. 2 Jan. 1794, Isaac Tyson.

2. Margaret, b. 25 Feb. 1767; d. unm. 8 Jan. 1843.

The second son,

MAULDEN PERINE, of Baltimore, b. 2 Sept. 1771; m. 22 Oct. 1793, Hephzibah (b. 15 Nov. 1769; m. 2ndly, 10 Nov. 1799, William Buchanan, and d. 4 Nov. 1832), dau. of David Brown, of Greenwich, Gloucester Co., New Jersey, and d. Nov. 1797, having had issue, with a dau. who d. in infancy, an only son, not accompany his father to America as he was at the Merchant Taylors' School 1637-8, but came later (see Plymouth Deeds 3:269).

86. ix. Elizabeth, bap. June 30, 1633, St. Peter's Cornhill, record calls her daughter of Henry feake, gent., at Mr. Wollaston's house; m. March 24, 1650, at Sandwich, John² Dillingham (Edward¹). The will of John Dillingham, dated Nov. 15, 1707 (Barnstable County Wills 3:223), mentions wife Elizabeth, son John, daughter Hannah Thorpe, daughter Rebecca Gray, and the two children of Sarah Jones. Sarah Dillingham married ca. 1678, as the first of two wives, Jeremiah Jones, on whom see Mrs. John E. Barclay (The American Genealogist 31:124).

48. James Feake, elder son of James Feake (no. 32) by wife Judith Thomas, was doubtless born in London, and the date is recorded as Feb. 13, 1598/9 in the record at the Merchant Taylors' School where James was a student in 1609/10. He is named first among the four children of his parents in the will of his maternal grandfather Robert Thomas in 1610. He married at the Church of St. Mary Mounthawe, London, on June 14, 1620, Awdrey Crompton, of whose origin nothing is known. The printed parish registers of London have been searched for other references to her in vain, but she was probably sister to a William Crompton who married at the same church about the same time. The baptism of Tobias Feake, son of James and Awdrey, is recorded at St. Mary Whitechapel, London, in August 1624, but the baptismal record of the daughter Judith has not been found. The registers of many London churches were burned in the great London fire, including that of the Church of St. Edmund the King in which we should expect to find many Feake entries. If there were other children, no trace of them has come to light. This James Feake was certainly dead by Dec. 5, 1639, and he probably died many years before that. No mention of him as living has been found after 1624. He is not named in the papers pertaining to the administration of his grandfather's estate in 1625, 1626, and 1634, though in the latter year his younger brother Robert did renounce his right to serve. Like his father and grandfather he was a goldsmith, but his apprentice papers have not been found, and he is not listed by Sir Ambrose Heal. No probate has been discovered.

That the James Feake under discussion was not the James Feake (no. 63) who was son of Robert Feake (no. 39) is made clear by the fact that, if so, the children of our James would not have inherited, as they did, property belonging formerly to James Feake (no. 32) and before that to William Feake (no. 13). That the husband of Awdrey Crompton was not James Feake (no. 32) is surely indicated by the fact that, though the latter had married Judith Thomas as early as 1593, his widow Judith Feake was still living in 1625, five years after the marriage of James Feake to Awdrey Crompton.

In 1639, however, the property which had been held in Lombard Street, London, for three generations, was to be sold to settle the estate, and since James' two children were then living in America, it was necessary that a power of attorney be obtained from them in order to sell. Thomas Lechford, the famous Boston notary, duly recorded on 5 10bris 1639 [Dec. 5, 1639] in his Notebook (p. 139 of the original-p.

228 of the printed version in Collections of the American Antiquarian Society, v. 7, also printed separately) the following: "Lieuten^t Robert Feke of Waterton in New England, gent., and Sergeant William Palmer of Yarmouth in New England & Judith his wife, and Tobyas Feake aged 17 sonne & Daughter of James Feke, late of London, goldsmith, deceased, makes [sic] a le[tte]^r of Attorney to Tobyas Dixon, citizen and mercer of London, to sell one tenement or house & Shopp in Lumbard Street, London, held of the Company of Goldsmiths in London, whereof he dyed poss[ess]^{ed}, late in the occupacon of one Brampton."

Though Tobias Feake of this power of attorney is called aged seventeen but had been baptized only fifteen years previously, the discrepancy is not serious. It is clear from Lechford's careful language that Judith Palmer and Tobias Feake were children of a goldsmith named James Feake, and also that Robert Feake of Watertown was not their brother, though obviously a relative, or he would not have been included in the power of attorney. He was, of course, their uncle, and he appears in this precious document because he was acting as guardian to his nephew, informally if not also officially.

It has many times been claimed that Robert Feake was indeed the brother of Tobias and Judith, an error arising from the fact that Robert had a known sister Judith, and the fact that the father of each of the three persons was named James Feake. While many circumstantial considerations point clearly to the uncle-nephew relationship, there is also on record specific testimony by Tobias Feake that Robert was his uncle (see below).

Children: 2

87. i. Judith,¹ b. in London, probably in 1621, omitted from all the pedigrees. She probably accompanied the Dixons to Germany and may also have crossed the Atlantic with her brother Tobias. She married, first, most probably at Watertown, Mass., and before Dec. 5, 1639, Sergeant (afterwards Lieutenant) William Palmer, of Plymouth, Yarmouth, and Newtown, Long Island, who died in the last-named place ca. 1661. His parents are as yet unknown; though he was at Plymouth in 1638 about to move to Yarmouth at its founding, he was not the William¹ Palmer of Duxbury, nailer, or either of the nailer's two sons, both named William. There is some reason to think that William may have come from either Swaffham or Great Yarmouth, co. Norfolk. William and Judith Palmer were the parents of four sons and one daughter: William, Ephraim, James, Joseph, and Judith, whose births are not recorded but whose names are certain. Judith Feake married, second, in 1662 or thereafter, as third and last wife, Jeffrey Ferris, of Greenwich, Conn., who died May 31, 1666, and, third, before May 6, 1667, John Bowers who married again, following Judith's death, the widow Hannah (Close) Knapp, and made his own will on March 16, 1693/4. Judith's death occurred, according to Spencer B. Mead, in 1667, but he cites no evidence and the year seems early. Connecticut Vital Records do not supply any of the missing dates. Several sketches of William Palmer are in print of which the only trustworthy one is by Donald Lines Jacobus and appears in Lillian L. M. Selleck's One Branch of the Miner Family (New Haven, 1928) pp.142 f. See also Spencer B. Mead, Historie of Ye Town of Greenwich (New York, 1911), pp.618-30, where, for the first time to our knowledge, William Palmer is called Henry and the

GENERAL COMMENTS:

Knapp Families

14 Jul 1997

Early genealogies and printed works contributed many myths, misconceptions and outright "atrocious genealogical blunders" as related to the early Knapp immigrant families. Many of these errors currently referred to in today's jargon as being "Genealogical Viruses," are still being quoted and tend to make one wonder just what is to be believed. Many of us beginning genealogical research at the amateur level, before we are fully aware of what is required to make an acceptable Family Research Project valid, start by copying anything and everything we can get our hands on that applies to what we hope is our family ancestors and history. This includes copying down bad information and broadcasting it further without knowledge that we are doing the same. Result: More compounded problems for those of the future and many incorrect lineages developed.

These examples abound in the Nicholas Knapp Genealogy (1953), by (Dr) A.A. Knapp. Some Dr Knapp alludes to and many have never been corrected except in a sporadic fashion. Some of the instances of these myths and errors are as follows:

1-Nicholas Knapp, was a brother, Cousin, Nephew, Uncle, etc, to William Knapp, Aron Knapp, and Roger Knapp. Not true!! Current research (1995), proves no relationship exists between Nicholas & William Knapp, and that they are of clearly two distinctly different surnames, i.e., Knapp vs Knopp. In so far as Aron and Roger Knapp are concerned, the only relationship that can be stated is they have the same surname as Nicholas, e.g., Knapp. No relationship has ever been proven among any of these early Knapp immigrants and it is at present presumed that they are all of independent Knapp lines, devoid of any connection to one another whatsoever.

2-The Nicholas Knapp Genealogy does not reflect sources for the information contained in the writing except to quote where known a few Wills and Land Records or a miscellaneous record that we of today may probably never see for verification purposes. Many persons are not aware that the composition of the Genealogy was printed "as is" based on information forwarded to Dr Knapp by various and sundry persons who were Knapps by birth or connected in some allied way, generally through marriages. Efforts were made to [attempt] to make sure as much information as possible in the Genealogy was verified, but obviously with a task as monumental as the one Dr Knapp undertook, much was printed "as is", further compounding any errors that the data may have contained without verification. None-the-less, without the works produced by Dr Knapp, it is quite doubtful that many Knapps of today and allied families would have a clue as to the background of the family name. The Nicholas Knapp Genealogy with all its known errors and faults is the most quoted source of information on the surname found in print and appears in amateur as well as professional genealogical writings. The adage to apply when using this genealogy is "Use but verify."

Any attempt on the author's part to quote a definite source for each entry in the genealogy would in itself encompass many more pages than the current genealogy has. The author clarifies this and states the information contained therein is known to contain error and some error of statement, but none-the-less it is to be used as a basis for one's further investigation of their family lines.

3-Claims exist that our ancestor Nicholas Knapp, was married first to, Elinor Lockwood, Elinor Disbrowe, and in some writings, Elinor Waterbury. None of these claims HAVE EVER been documented nor will they ever be as they are not within the scope of what the official records that remain extant state. In depth research of this problem as late as November 1995, has produced what should have been stated from the beginning, and that being "ANCESTRY REMAINS UNDISCOVERED". No record has ever been found that would give even a slight "hint" as to what her surname may have been. She could have just as well be labeled a Smith, Jones or any other surname and always without justification. Conscientious genealogists and descendants of this family should annotate their personal charts and research as "Elinor ?????, ancestry unknown or undiscovered."

4-English ancestries for Nicholas and his first wife, Elinor appear from time to time in writings of a non-professional nature, and are oft quoted in some researchers' charts as being authentic. Nothing is further from the truth. The earliest claim that any of us who lay claim to the surname KNAPP in any way, can only do so beginning with the extant records of 1630, at Watertown, Massachusetts.

5-No marriage date has ever been found for Nicholas and Elinor, however based on the birth of their first child, Jonathan, their estimated date of marriage was probably 1629/30, in England and is quoted as such in many current writings, though some seem to believe they married at Watertown, MA. Since the first 2 pages of the Watertown Books are forever lost, there is no way that an investigation can be made to ascertain the fact one way or the other. In these cases one must take an estimated view of when the action may have occurred, but bear in mind that the actual date may be anywhere from 3-5 years earlier, than the estimated date reflected. That is the best any of us can do in the absence of an official record.

6-There are two questionable entries that remain to be solved in the make-up of the family of Nicholas and Elinor. The first is the marriage of their daughter, Hannah, who is presently stated to have married Zerubabel Hoyt in 1673. No record has been found to document this claim, though it is found in abundance and being quoted in many charts. In 1995, it was simply found that Hannah was born 3-6-1643, Watertown, Middlesex Co, MA, and no further information known about her after her father's Will of 15 Apr 1670, at which time she was a single women. The second entry is the date and place of birth cited for their son, Moses Knapp. Currently he is reflected as the youngest son and the 8th child born to Nicholas and Elinor, and born probably at Wethersfield, Hartford Co, CT. Again no documentation appears that will support the conclusion. Considering the English tradition of willing or passing their lands, fathers generally willed their home lot and other belongings to the eldest son living. This being the case where Moses Knapp is concerned, it would appear that Moses was the eldest son and was probably born ca 1630 or before at Watertown, MA or possibly even in England. There are many dates ranging from 1630 to 1645 cited as birthdates for Moses, and the oft quoted is the spurious LDS-IGI, where it is stated he was born 5 Aug 1645. The point is stated only that there is still another avenue to explore as relates to these two children of Nicholas and Elinor.

7-Early writings reflect that Nicholas Knapp is a descendant of "Sir Roger de Knapp", supposedly Knighted by King Henry VIII at a Tournament in 1530. All such statements are fictional at best and are the product of an unscrupulous English genealogist, attempting to satisfy the ambitions of some American client. There are no official documents to be found to prove such claims, as there was NO tournament held at Suffolk or Essex Counties in England during the period so claimed. Further there are no records that reflect the name of Roger Knapp, in either of those counties at any time.

8-The Knapp Family Crest - The current Family Crest is an emblem that may be used by current day Knapp's if they so desire, but must do so with the knowledge that it bears no entitlement to heraldry, and may display it as they wish with this thought in mind. All grantees of this Crest are deceased with no known descendant living, who would be entitled to its use.

9-There DEFINITELY is no connection of any sort to the oft claimed ancestry of Nicholas Knapp and that being that John Knapp and Martha Blois were his parents. As previously stated no supporting evidence has ever been found to establish an ancestry of ANY VALIDITY for Nicholas or his wives!!!!

10-There are previous thoughts that Nicholas Knapp was probably the Nicholas Knapp of Wells-by-the-Sea, Co Norfolk, England and that he married one Susan Mitterson. While this connection would seem highly probable and does fall within the time-frame of our immigrant ancestor, it has been proven that this connection is invalid as the Nicholas Knapp of Wells-by-the-Sea, that married Susan Mitterson is accounted for and was living in Co Norfolk, England well past our immigrant's known residence in America!!

11-Probably the most current and reliable source of information relating to Nicholas and family are the condensed bibliographic sketches on families who arrived in America between 1620-1633, and is entitled "The Great Migration Begins: Immigrants to New England 1620-1633 (1995 - in 3 Volumes), by Robert Charles Anderson, F.A.S.G.. Articles relating to the ancestry of William KNOPP [not Knapp], also appear in these volumes and in earlier articles which establish William Knopp's ancestry, etc, etc., including that of his first wife, Judith Tue. These articles give sufficient extant source references to prove and disprove the many myths and statements found in early day writings and should be adhered to by conscientious Knapp Family Researchers.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

SOURCE: The Winthrop Fleet of 1630 (Reprint 1976-Genealogical Publishing Company), by Charles Edward Banks

Early research found that among the passengers that came to America in 1630, Nicholas Knapp and William Knopp, were in evidence. The immigrants came to America in 1630. The Admiral ["Arbella"-formerly the "Eagle"] of the Fleet left the waters of the Castle of Yarmouth "On Thursday, April 8, at six in the morning, weighing anchor and setting sail, followed by her three consorts in scattered formation" [The Winthrop Fleet of 1630 (Reprint 1976), by Charles E Banks, :37]

NOTE: Keep in mind this is in reference only to the "Arbella," as there were other ships underway when the "Arbella" set sail. The April 6 entry refers to the boarding of the "Arbella" by Captain Milbourne, of Yarmouth Castle, "a grave, comely gentleman, and of great age" [Ibid, :36]. Fortunately for the purposes of our list of immigrant passengers, there exists a list of seventy names of those who came with the Fleet; a rough list prepared by John Winthrop, and is found entered in a "flyleaf" disconnected from the main text of the original Winthrop Fleet Journal. It was from this list that ancestors Nicholas Knapp and William Knopp, with wives and children were identified. Although it does not depict the name of the ship on which these ancestors were passengers, we can be reasonably assured they were passengers aboard the "Arbella", the Winthrop Fleet Flagship. It is also recognized, that they could have been passengers on any of the other ships in the Fleet that are known to have carried passengers, as well. As stated in the source [Ibid, :53], QUOTE; "As there is no known list of emigrants who came with the Winthrop Fleet, so there is none for those who came in particular ships....". The Fleet consisted of eleven ships as follows:

+1-"Arbella" - Admiral

#2-Talbot - Vice Admiral

#3-Mayflower

+4-Whale

+5-Ambrose-Rear Admiral

+6-Jewel-Captain

#7-William & Francis

+8-Success

#9-Hopewell

#10-Trial

#11-Charles

+=Carried Passengers #=Carried Freight & Livestock

NOTE: While the ship "Mary & John" sailed concurrently with the Winthrop Fleet, and with the same destination, it had no defined connection with the Winthrop Fleet, contrary to some writings that make reference to that ship as being the twelfth in the Fleet.

Isaac Johnson, although not a participant, records that some of them "had their speech strangled from the depth of their inward dolor with heartbreaking sobs....adding many drops of salt liquor to the ebbing ocean." He could not refrain from adding that some of the idlers on the dock expressed the opinion that the participants in this emigration were "crack-braines." [Ibid, :36 - Footnote 3].

The Master of the "Arbella" who successfully led the great flotilla to its destination, was Captain Peter Milbourne, a resident of London, England. It is thought that Captain Milbourne came from the Parish of St Katherine-by-the-Tower, London, but beyond this little information about him or his family is known. We do not know whether he or his vessel ever returned to America, nor do we have any knowledge of his later career.

After nearly sixteen years residence at Watertown, Middlesex Co, Massachusetts, on 6 May 1646, Nicholas Knapp among others, sold his land and privileges and removed possibly to Wethersfield, Hartford Co, Connecticut. Whether he resided at that place is unknown, as his name has not been found in records extant there. Some believe he may have spent a couple of years there before removing to possibly Greenwich, Connecticut, and then to Stamford, where he remained until his death in April 1670. Some writings declare that Nicholas also resided for a time at Rye, Westchester Co, New York [then Connecticut], though like the records at Wethersfield, Connecticut, his name is not in evidence there. It is believed he may have owned some land there, but did not actually reside at that place.

INTRODUCTION

The surname KNAPP has been found in England since the 5th century, in various forms of spelling. It has been claimed that it is of Saxon origin, though proof for the thought is lacking. While it is common in all Teutonic countries, it is just as probable that it is of Anglican origin. It is also, possible that the name did not have a common origin for all families that bear it. There are many variations to be found, some families not adhering to any particular form, while others were quite persistent in doing so, even though the liberty in that matter was practiced more so then than now. The earliest known individual mention of the name is found in "Routuli Curioe Regis", 1139. It identifies as an individual "Petrus Knap - 1198". From that point on the name is found frequently in the English records. The most common form of spellings found in America were "Knapp" and "Knap", though other forms of spelling are found in early records as Nap, Napp, Knopp, Knape, et al. The most common form of the spelling, and predominately throughout our American history, is "Knap" and "Knapp", the latter spelling being used following the Revolutionary War and is the current accepted spelling today. In this writing the current spelling "Knapp" is used for clarity and continuity, rather than in all the variety of spellings of the name found during my research.

In the ancient districts of East Anglia, Mercia, and Northumbria, we later find that East Anglia was the land of the North Folk and South Folk, which is now known as Norfolk and Suffolk counties in England. Mercia or Middle Anglia became the central shires [counties] of England. Northumbria dominated the northern limits of the domain. These three regions were settled in the 6th century by the Angles. The Saxons settled Sussex and Wessex to the south and the Jutes held Kent in the southeast. All three tribes were of Germanic origin. While this still does not identify the origin of the various Knapp families it does have possible bearing on the traditional thought passed down through time that we of the name are of German stock. In England we know that there were no less than 6-8 family groups bearing the name; all living in different parts of England, and bearing no known relationship with one another. Of these groups it is believed that all were of independent origin.

As most of the early immigrants to America were dissenters from the Church of England, their births, marriages, etc., are not recorded there to any great degree, making it nearly impossible to trace many of them to their particular origin accurately. In general they were a religious people, though independent in thought, who took the Bible as their guide and rule in life, and migrated to escape persecution in England and to worship as they pleased in the "New World".

Prior to 1700, there were three immigrants bearing the surname Knapp, namely NICHOLAS, Aron, and Roger Knapp, followed later by Job Knapp, of Bristol, Massachusetts. As far as is known, none of these immigrant families bears any relationship with one another, though the contrary is found in many printed works of early origin. There remotely may be some relationship, however, to date, nothing has been forthcoming to prove the claim. There are early claims that one William Knapp, immigrant of 1630, was a brother to our Nicholas. Current research disproves this claim and it has been proven that the spelling of his surname is "KNOPP", not KNAPP", and bears no relationship that can be proven through research of extant records, to any other Knapp family, regardless of such claims.

In so far as our immigrant ancestor, Nicholas Knapp, is concerned, many unproven and suggested theories abound surrounding his ancestry, none of which have the slightest "hint" of proof recorded to establish such claims. All claims of a known ancestry for our Nicholas, and his first wife, Elinor, are considered to be "atrocious genealogical blunders," and should be regarded as such by those having this ancestry by surname or through an allied family. As far as is known, a proven ancestry for Nicholas or his first wife, Elinor, has never been found, nor has any record of either been found prior to their arrival in America in 1630. Admittedly, it remains quite possible that their origins were in County Suffolk, England, though proof of this statement is lacking.

As the ancestry of our early Knapp immigrant is highly questionable as found in many writings of today, I have not been able to determine an origin except England for our ancestors, nor to my knowledge has anyone else, with a definable source for making any such claims. Our ancestry begins in 1630, at Watertown, Middlesex Co, Massachusetts. The chance that we will ever discover the ancestry of either Nicholas or Elinor is nil, and if such should ever occur it no doubt will be quite by an accidental find, as the English records that remain extant do not bear the needed fruit to find an ancestry for either of them, and as such, that stands as the "state of the problem today!".

THE KNAPP KNIGHT

Many stories are found in print today that claim "Roger de Knapp" was knighted in 1530, by King Henry VIII, at a Tournament held in Co Suffolk, England, was the ancestor of our Knapp Family. This story in its many forms has been proven false and the story was the product of some fanciful mind. It has not the least foundation in fact, notwithstanding the number of times it is found in print. A search of the records and correspondence with the College of Heraldry officials in London, England, do not agree with any of these writings. The search proved that there was never a Roger de Knapp, knighted by King Henry VII, nor was there any Tournament held in Suffolk in 1530. In fact, they could find no record of a Knapp by the name of Roger living in Suffolk nor in Essex at any time. It is believed that the story first appeared in America and that a high probability exists that it was developed at the invention of some unscrupulous English genealogist, in an attempt to satisfy the ambitions of an American client!

KNAPP COAT OF ARMS

Some 6-8 Coats of Arms have been granted in England to persons bearing the name of Knapp, and are found recorded there. The Suffolk Coat of Arms was first granted to Henry Knapp, of Hintelsham, England and later to George Knapp of Tuddenham, and then to Robert Knapp of Needham, probably both descendants of the first mentioned Henry Knapp.

Needless to say, we of today still find those who emphatically lay claim to the "KNAPP KNIGHT" as a true accounting, yet the College of Heraldry cannot document the claim. A copy of the Crest or Coat of Arms appears in this writing and bears the information about the Coat of Arms. This Crest was prepared for the Knapp Family Association of America in 1940, by Winfield Scott Downs, the former managing Editor of the American Historical Company of New York. For more information about the Knapp Coat of Arms, consult BURKES "General Armory-Visitation of Suffolk, 1577."

This writing embodies the result of investigations and continued research which has been pursued for many years, as a diversion from other labors and by many who despite their modesty, reflected much honor upon the name we bear. I could have extended and elaborated on many items before electing to put this work into writing, and in all probability solved some of the problems that have and remain to perplex me, but I have chosen to present it substantially as I have been able to, based on the research I have made over the years to this point and the materials current at hand.. I have been painstaking in my research and cautious in my statements so that my findings may be relied upon, generally. Any doubts, so far as is known, are so indicated. And now let us begin....

F.H.K

ELINOR, CALLED "LOCKWOOD", "DISBROW", & "WATERBURY"

Elinor, first wife of Nicholas Knapp of Watertown, Middlesex Co, Massachusetts and Stamford, CT, has been called "Lockwood", "Disbrow" and at times, "Waterbury", in older genealogies. No known record supports such claims!

Extant records identify her as "Elinor" only, and ancestry unknown. Her origin and ancestry remain unknown, though no doubt her origin was England. Many early publications state she was born at Combs, Co Suffolk, England, though do so without benefit of supporting evidence. At best we can say "she was (of) England."

It is expected that the surname "Lockwood" was assumed as a result of the known relationship between the Knapps and the Lockwoods, at Watertown, Massachusetts. Thus, many believe she was a probable sister of Sergeant Robert and Edmund Lockwood. On 23 Oct 1943, a query appeared in the "Hartford Times", genealogical page, Query, A-2695, authored by Judge H. Stanley Finch, a Surrogate Judge, Stamford, Connecticut, who gave his opinion that Elinor, wife of Nicholas Knapp, was a daughter of Edmund Lockwood (1594-1635) of Combs, Co Suffolk, England, but did so without supporting evidence. While this would seem possible, proof remains lacking. Later research in 1978, and again in 1995, failed to identify that Elinor was of any identifiable surname in the early Colonial Records. At any rate, in today's jargon, the "virus" began to spread. Eventually after having been repeated enough, Pedigree Charts sprung forth claiming her as a daughter of Edmund Lockwood, yet a cited source for the entries remain lacking. Unless an extant document can be produced, to label Elinor with any surname, records should reflect her given name of Elinor, only. To do otherwise would only perpetuate the original "atrocious genealogical blunder"!

As a result of Mr. William Pelham and Mr. Edmund Lockwood paying the fine of Nicholas Knapp in 1630, the assertion was made that Edmund Lockwood was his brother-in-law. Nothing could be further from the truth. Research identifies Mr. William Pelham as the person responsible for Nicholas Knapp, who belonged to his company, and that Mr. Edmund Lockwood was his Deputy, thus the reasons for paying the fine of Nicholas Knapp. Again, the "virus" was perpetuated and became fact without attending proof.

As of this writing [1998], her surname remains unknown. For further discussion on the subject of Elinor, first wife of Nicholas Knapp, consult:

Children of Nicholas Knapp and Elinor are:

2 i. Jonathan Knapp23, born Abt. 08 November 1631 in Watertown, Middlesex Co, MA24; died Abt. 27 December 1631 in Watertown, Middlesex Co, MA25.

Notes for Jonathan Knapp:
JONATHAN KNAPP:

Birth and Death date are estimated as his actual birth and death date are not found in the records. Watertown Books of Town Proceedings - Births, Marriages, Death, states only "Jonathan knap the sonn of Nickholas and Elinor knap buried the 27 of the tenth aged 7 weekes" [27 - 10 - 1631 converted to Old Style Date of 27 Dec 1631]. He is probably buried in Arlington Street Burying Ground, Watertown, MA.

+ 3 ii. Timothy Knapp, Sr, born 14 December 1632 in Watertown, Middlesex Co, MA; died Bef. 1685 in Rye, Westchester Co, CT [now NY].

+ 4 iii. Joshua Knapp, Sr, born 05 January 1634/35 in Watertown, Middlesex Co, MA; died Bef. 27 October 1684 in Greenwich, CT.

+ 5 iv. Caleb Knapp, Sr, born 20 January 1635/36 in Watertown, Middlesex Co, MA; died Bef. 04 March 1674/75 in Stamford, CT.

+ 6 v. Sarah Knapp, born 05 January 1638/39 in Watertown, Middlesex Co, MA; died 1681 in Rye, Westchester Co, CT [now NY].

+ 7 vi. Ruth Knapp, born 06 January 1640/41 in Watertown, Middlesex Co, MA; died Aft. 1702 in Greenwich, CT.

8 vii. Hannah Knapp 26,27,28,29,30, born 06 March 1642/43 in Watertown, Middlesex Co, MA 31.

Notes for Hannah Knapp:

Hannah, in many circles, is claimed to have married Zerubabel Hoyt, son of Walter & Rhoda (Tinker)(Hobbs)(Taylor) Hoyt. The only record of such marriage is found in the Nicholas Knapp Genealogy (1953), :1. Beyond that there is no foundation for the claim. The Hoyt Genealogy reflects Zerubabel with an "Unknown" first wife, whose identification remains unknown. Edwin Hall in his extracts of the Norwalk Records (1847), reflects nothing relative to the first marriage of Zerubabel Hoyt and the Stamford Records that are extant do not present any future for her. Thus claims to a marriage and/or death as found in many early day publications must be considered in error.

Based on the findings found in 1995 research [The Great Migration Begins: Immigrants to New England 1620-1633, :1137], no further record is known to exist as pertains to Hannah Knapp's future. She is last identified in the 15 Apr 1670 Will of her father, Nicholas and then a single woman. To indicate anything otherwise as pertains to her or her future would be nothing more than pure speculation.

+ 9 viii. Moses Knapp, born Abt. 1645 in [prob] Watertown, Middlesex Co, MA; died Bef. 1726 in Stamford, CT.

+ 10 ix. Lydia Knapp, born 08 June 1647 in Stamford, CT; died 09 December 1716 in Stratfield-Fairfield, CT.

Generation No. 2

3. Timothy Knapp, Sr (Nicholas) 32,33,34 was born 14 December 1632 in Watertown, Middlesex Co, MA 35, and died Bef. 1685 in Rye, Westchester Co, CT [now NY]. He married Bethia Brundage 36,37,38 Abt. 1658 in [prob] Fairfield, CT 39, daughter of John Brundage and Rachel Hubbard.

Notes for Timothy Knapp, Sr:

Whether or not Timothy and Bethia (Brundage) Knapp had other children has not been discovered. Records reveal one son, Timothy, Jr, and then only by Land Record.

The probability of his marriage to Bethia Brundage at Fairfield, CT is more realistic, in that the Brundage Family removed to Fairfield, shortly after the death of John Brundage, Sr or by Aug 1642, as evidenced by the marriage of Bethia's mother, Rachel, to Anthony Wilson, ca 5 Aug 1642, at Fairfield, CT. In any event they were of record in Fairfield, by 1648, approximately ten years before Timothy and Bethia's estimated marriage date of ca 1658. [see NE Marriages before 1700, by Clarence A Torrey, :443]

More About Timothy Knapp, Sr:

Notes for Bethia Brundage:

There is some conflict as to whether Bethia married Timothy Knapp, Sr or Joseph Taylor, or both. Torrey, in "New England Marriages before 1700", :443, reflects a marriage to Timothy Knapp, ca 1658; on page 730, he reflects a marriage of Joseph Taylor & Bethia Brundage [note says see Timothy Knabb - typo should read Knapp], m. aft 1654, Rye?, Westchester Co, NY. Jacobus does not indicate a marriage to Timothy Knapp, but says Bethia married [possibly] Joseph Taylor, of Westchester Co, NY. In that we do not have a specific date of death for Timothy Knapp, and the possible marriage after 1654 of Bethia Brundage to Joseph Taylor, it is reasonably appropriate to assume that she married both and as such it is reflected in this writing.

Child of Timothy Knapp and Bethia Brundage is:

+ 11 i. Timothy Knapp, Jr, born Bef. 1680 in Greenwich, CT; died Aft. 1768 in Rye, Westchester Co, NY.

4. Joshua Knapp, Sr (Nicholas) 40,41 was born 05 January 1634/35 in Watertown, Middlesex Co, MA 42, and died Bef. 27 October 1684 in Greenwich, CT 43. He married Hannah Close 44,45 09 June 1657 in Stamford, CT 46,47,48,49,50, daughter of John Close and Elizabeth.

Notes for Sarah Knapp:

Sarah Knapp, daughter of Nicholas DID NOT marry first John Disbrow. The source for her marriage to Peter Disbrow is contained in the Stamford, CT-Town Records, where the marriage is recorded twice, e.g., m. 6 Apr 1657. [see TAG [transcript] 10:44; 112]. There is no record of a marriage to John Disbrow as early writings so state. Statements in the book "History of Stamford-Darien (1868), by (Rev) Elijah B Huntington, :158 and the Nicholas Knapp Genealogy (1953), by (Dr) A.A. Knapp, :1, are ABSOLUTELY INCORRECT! The "History of Stamford-Darien" by Rev Elijah B Huntington, :58, is also in error stating that Peter Disbrow, married Sarah Chapman, about 1650, at Stamford, CT

9. Moses Knapp (Nicholas)^{99,100} was born Abt. 1645 in [prob] Watertown, Middlesex Co, MA, and died Bef. 1726 in Stamford, CT. He married Abigail Westcott^{101,102} 01 October 1668 in Stamford, CT¹⁰³, daughter of Richard Westcott and Joanna.

Notes for Moses Knapp:

Early Genealogies claim that Moses and Abigail had three additional sons and a daughter, e.g., Israel, Jonas & Moses, and Mary. Current research indicates that Moses & Abigail had daughters only as shown in this report, based on a 14 Feb 1712/13 Deed [Stamford, CT - Deeds, Vol "B":185], in which Moses bonds his sons-in-law, Thomas Pennoyer, Nathaniel Cross and Samuel Husted "to maintain their father & mother-in-law for their lifetime". John Crissey was not considered in this Deed as his wife, Abigail, had died prior to this time and he had remarried. There are no records that would indicate a male in this family and is further proven by the fact that, had there been (a) male offspring living in 1712/13, by law, he would have established a "heir of right" to the estate of Moses & Abigail. There are no records extant that would prove otherwise. Simply put, Moses, no doubt, would have bonded (a) son in lieu of his sons-in-law, were he to have had such (a) son. (Samuel Husted, the remaining son-in-law, requested relief from the 1712/13 Deed in 1725/26, thus indicating that Moses and Abigail were both deceased at that time. That Moses lived to be 110 years old as stated in earlier writings on this family can be labeled nothing more than an "atrocious genealogical blunder" including the claim that he died at Peekskill, NY!!

Generation No. 3

11. Timothy Knapp, Jr (Timothy, Nicholas)117,118 was born Bef. 1680 in Greenwich, CT, and died Aft. 1768 in Rye, Westchester Co, NY. He married Unknown.

Notes for Timothy Knapp, Jr:

Many unexplainable differences in data exist in this family. The Nicholas Knapp Genealogy (1953) garbles the information to such a degree that it is almost entirely useless in attempting to align this family properly. It states that Timothy inherited his father's farm in 1689 and then cites a birth date of ca 1690??? What few records that remain extant make it impossible to fully determine many of the needed facts to put this family together in a proper format. His assigned son Gabriel, b. ca 1735, is questionable by birth date, and may well belong to one of the sons of Timothy??? A factual birth record for this Timothy, is not in evidence in any known record.

This writing will continue to follow the writing in the Nicholas Knapp Genealogy, for posterity only. The earliest confirmable record of this Timothy Knapp, is 1745, when he sells his farm, formerly inherited from his father, to sons Daniel and Amos. He is said to have been living on this farm in 1689, located at Barton's Neck, near Rye, Westchester Co, NY and was in possession of his home Lott at Mill Brook, NY which he is thought to have sold to his son, Moses, who then sold the property and removed to White Plains, NY.

It is stated that he married secondly, Alice Adee. No record has been found to prove this claim.

13. Joshua Knapp, Jr (Joshua, Nicholas)129 was born Abt. 1662 in Stamford, CT, and died Abt. 1750 in Greenwich, CT. He married (1) Elizabeth Reynolds 16 March 1686/87 in Greenwich, CT130, daughter of Jonathan Reynolds and Rebecca Husted. He married (2) Unknown [see NOTES for Joshua Knapp, Jr] Aft. 1710 in Fairfield Co, CT.

Notes for Joshua Knapp, Jr:

Research of his presumed second marriage does not bear any evidence that he married secondly, Abigail Butler. Greenwich Commonplace Books, indicates that Abigail Butler, daughter of Walter Butler, married Daniel Marshall. Daniel Marshall, died in 1727. Records do not reveal whether his widow, Abigail, remarried. Clarence Almon Torrey, in his book, "Marriages prior to 1700", indicates a marriage to an Abigail(?), but questions the entry. If Joshua married secondly to Abigail Butler, it would obviously have had to occur after 1727, unless there is another Abigail Butler that has not been identified in the records. No doubt he probably remarried, and quite possible to a lady named Abigail, whose maiden name is not indicated. Doubtful that Joshua would have remained a Widower for any great length of time, as he had several children, all ranging in age from a few months to the age of 12, at the death of Elizabeth Reynolds, in 1710. Even if he married a second time, he evidently had no children born of that marriage, as there is no record of any children beyond those reflected in this report. This report reflects a second marriage to "Unknown" in view of the absence of an official record to prove otherwise. At best, if he married a second time, his second wife should be reflected as "Unknown", pending proof to the contrary. For more information relating to Abigail Butler, daughter of Walter Butler, refer to "Early Records of Greenwich, CT" [formerly called "Commonplace Books"], :610 and the Will of Daniel Marshall, dated 10 Feb 1726/27, Fairfield Co, CT - Probate Records - Greenwich Probate District, VIII:78. A reference to the second marriage of Joshua Knapp, to Abigail (Butler) Marshall, is said to exist in the "Early Records of Greenwich, CT", :595. However, all attempts to gain a copy of this source has been fruitless, and if such exists, could clear up the problems stated here.

He is not found in "Stamford Registrations." Thus a specific birth or death can only be estimated.

John Knapp and his second wife, Martha, are buried near "Widow's Row", behind and West of New Summer Street [between Broad & Main], behind the "Old Trowbridge Estate". In 1911, Martha (Mead) Knapp's headstone was being used as a coal chute cover on the east side of the estate. John's headstone was uncovered by some construction workers, in 1890-1895, while repairing the local water drainage system. The stone of John Knapp reads "Here lies interred, the body of Captain John Knapp, who departed this life the 5th day of April 1749, aged 85 years." Whereabouts of these stones are unknown at this writing. His second wife, Martha was not a "Weed or Wead" daughter as is found in earlier writings, nor was she a widow at marriage as is also stated in some earlier writings.

◆ New Fairfield Congregational Church ◆

[4 Feb 99] Recently, Barbara Andersen sent me a note offering information she'd received and organized from records of the New Fairfield, Connecticut Congregational Church. Barbara said, "I have, on my computer, records from the New Fairfield Congregational church. They are general church records, naming many people that were doing things in the church: marriages, births, baptisms and deaths. They are not complete as the person that sent them to me said her aunt had copied only what related to their families, plus there were many pages missing from the church records. Even with all that, I have about a hundred pages of information, I have alphabetized all of it by activity. The dates covered are 1700s to late 1800's. I would be willing to accept E-mail queries if there is some place to put the information."

Following that initial offer, Barbara sent me the following attached to the file: "Please note: The spellings are copied as typed. Many appear to be incorrect in the earlier years, while later year's spellings seemed to be more correct. You will also find some surnames together although the spellings differ slightly. This is because the spellings seemed to change often. (Example: Beardslee & Beardsley)

Records are in alphabetical order (by man's name first, whether it's a, birth, death etc.). Marriages are in two lists (grooms & brides) to make finding them easier.

These records are not complete. The pages given to me were only pages that had the names on them that were being researched, plus there were pages missing from the original documents. These records were copied directly from the church records and are believed not have ever been published."

CA death Index John C. Davidson 082-01-1124. b. 18 Sep 1893 NY, d. 23 Dec 1974, Los Angeles CA.

This was son John "Clyde" Davidson.

Does John Howard have obits of Clyde's death?

What abt John Churchill Davidson obit?

WIFE - Edith Willetta COLLINS-1252 grandson John Howard Jr. lists her birth as March 31 1872, her death in Wash D.C. in 1956.

Birth Ledger City of Bklyn NY #176, April 1, 1869 or poss. April 1, 1867, (strikeover on yr), female child, parents William T. Collins and Nellie L. (Gaylord) Collins. child born 268 Bridge St.

Marriage certificate # 5073, Brooklyn< Kings County, N.Y. John C. Davidson and Edith W. Collins were married 16 Nov. 1892, by Howard S. Bliss, Ass't Pastor of Plymouth Church. Both res. 49 Cranberry St.

Edith's age on certif. was 20 yrs, her first marr. born B'klyn NY, Father William T. Collins, mother maiden name Nellie L. Gaylord on certificate. John was 30 yrs, his first marr. Occup. Shipping Clerk, b. Halifax Nova Scotia, father's name Learchus or Learchers Davidson, mother's maiden name Annie E. McIlreath or (Mc ?Greath or Mc ?Elreath or Mc ?Ileath).

Witnesses at marr. were Mrs. E.A. Clark (Edith's mother Nellie Louisa (Gaylord) (Collins) (Clark) and Charles P. Caldwell, her mother's future 3rd husb.).

Note that Nellie L. Gaylord's father was convicted in Albany NY for burglary at a post office and the family soon moved to B'flo NY, where her father soon died. By the time the widow Sarah/Sally (Weaver) Gaylord and children resided in B'klyn, some were known as Gaylord, perhaps because of notoriety. I did not find Sally Gaylord in Bklyn in 1860.

Note that Edith's father William T. Collins, born Manhattan or B'klyn N.Y. abt 1844/45, s/o William Collins b. 1798 Springfield MA, died 1866 in B'klyn, where he was struck while in his jewelry and watch repair shop and died a few days later. William T.'s mother was Jeannette Fredericka Louisa (Von Vultee) (Mayo) Collins. Jeanwette was named after her German father Frederick Louis Von Vultee.

If Edith was really 20 yrs old in 1892, her birth would be abt 1872, but her Dad, Wm T. Collins, in his Civil War pension lists her born earlier. Edith's sister Nellie Louise (Collins) (Baker) Fisher was 2 yrs older than Edith. Dad Wm T. Collins in his pension listed his marriage as 1865, his dau. Nellie as born 1866 and Edith as born 1868?

Edith later became blind from Retinitis Pigmentosa, as did her nephew and niece Homer E. Baker and Ruth Baker. Edith's religion was Christian Scientist. Edith's sister Nellie Collins was a member of Old First Reformed Church in B'klyn, (Dutch).

Try to find history of that church online.

1870 Fed'l census, Bklyn NY, Edith was listed as age 1, not born this yr. On census her name looks like Minnetta.

1878, June 1, a published divorce of parents Nellie Collins vs William Collins, lists 2 daughters, the younger dau., (which was Edith), as 8 yrs, for birth ca 1870. The older dau. (which was Nellie jr.), was 10 yrs, for birth ca 1868.

1880 Fed'l census, Bklyn, NY, listed as Edith W. Collins, 9 yrs. (Grandson John Howard says he thinks Edith's middle name was Willetta.

1900 census, Bklyn, NY, Edith Davidson living with her mother Nellie Caldwell and sister Nellie Baker with respective husbands and their children.

husband John Churchill Davidson's 1937 death, at age 75, was taken from Evergreen Cem. Recs, Whispering Grove Section, 7th Ave., B'klyn N.Y.

1905 census, not found.

1910 census, B'klyn, Kings Co. NY, 19 April, E.D. 565, Sup'r Dist 2, p. 87, stamped, Sheet 4A. Ward 22, Second St. John C. Davidson, 48 yrs, (b. ca 1862), married once, married 17 yrs, born Canada/English, father b. Canada/English, mother b. N.Y. Immigrated 1883, Naturalized, Salesman, Leather Establishment, rents house, wife Edith W. Davidson, 37 yrs, (b. ca 1873), bore 2 ch, 2 alive, son Clyde 16 yrs, dau. Irene, 14 yrs, both b. NY, f. b. Canada/English, mother b. NY.

Note that Clyde looks like Clyde and Irene's name looks like Hrene or Crene, and anc.com has it indexed wrong.

Irene's proper name was Maud "Irene" Davidson

1920 census

1930 census

1940 census

Edith's middle name was perhaps a contraction of William and Etta, perhaps a diminution of her father's name William, especially since her sister Nellie was named for her mother Nellie Louisa.

Willetta's Name could have been diminutive, or could there have been an Etta somewhere in the Collins or Gaylor family

Edith's name was not on deaths or anything in Mormon Pilot program

CHILD 1 - John "Clyde" DAVIDSON-1254

info from nephew John Howard. Clyde had no issue.

John C. Davidson, SS 082 01 1124, issued CA, b. 18 Sept 1893 N.Y., died 23 Dec. 1974, Los Angeles, CA, his mother's maiden name was not listed. f Found in CA death Index at anc.com

Note that Homer Baker was b. June 8, 1893 in B'fio, NY. Clyde and sister Irene Davidson were first cousins to Homer, their mothers being Nellie Louisa Collins and Edith W. Collins.

According to a letter to Jackie (Baker) Humphrey on 5 April 1975, from Clyde's sister, Maud "Irene" (Davidson) Howard, "her brother

Clyde died ten days before Xmas.

"Clyde had a heart attack on way home from Xmas shopping. He was 81 yrs old and still employed. His contract had just been renewed for another year, on his own terms for a four hour day, which was remarkable with so many younger space scientists looking for jobs".

Irene said that Clyde's wife Florence had a previous husb. and an adopted son, who did not have issue, either.

I cannot identify Clyde's wf Florence, who died before 1974, in SSDI or CA Death Index.

One Florence D. Davidson, 6 May 1898 NY-29 May 1961, Los Angeles. Her mother's maiden name was Eitel.

One Florence Rose Davidson, Feb 1907 IL-8 Nov. 1955, Los Angeles, mother maiden was Castelbaum.

One Flocie, b. 12 May 1893, d Apr 1966, Montebello Los Angeles Co CA, SS issued CA 566 12 2255.

Another Florence. 8 Mar 1898-Aug 1969, SS issued Indiana, died El Dorado Co CA. towns listed were Cameron Pk, Latribe and Shingle Springs.

1910 census Clyde Davidson was 16 yrs living with parents in B'klyn.

1920 census, Clyde in B'klyn with parents, age 26 yrs., single, LT in Aviation service, (post WW I.).

Also listed 1920 census, John C. Davidson, b. ca 1894 NY, Mitchell Field, Nassau NY

1930, April 4 census, B'klyn, Kings, NY, E.D. 833, or E.D. 30, Sheet 4A, p. 166, stamped, 142 Lefferts Ave.

142.71.71, widow I. G. Anderson, Head, owns home valued at 18K, 72 yrs, b. NY, both parents b. Germany, no occup.

(This was Isabella G. She may have died in Dec 1934. She was mother of Mrs. J. Clyde Davidson of 142 Lefferts Ave, Mrs. Benjamin J. Cooke and Mrs. Edwin A. Hughes and Harry Anderson). See B'klyn Eagle issue of Dec 15 1934).

1930 census continued, 142 lefferts Ave. Was this an apt house?

142.71.96. John Davidson, 37 yrs, b. B'klyn, N.Y., (ca 1893), father b. Halifax, Nova Scotia, mother b. N.Y., Electrical Engineer, served in W.W, married first at 28 yrs, ca 1921, wife Florence, 31 yrs, b. Brooklyn, (ca 1899), father b. B'klyn, mother b. N.Y., homemaker. Sister-in-law Lida Anderson, 37 (or 51) yrs, b. ca 1893 or 1881, Ire. x3, no occup. son Robert Anderson, 8 yrs, b. N.Y., father b. B'klyn, mother b. Ire., attending school.

The way this is listed, it would appear that Lida was mother of Robert, yet Irene said that Florence adopted a son when she was in a previous. marriage. if Robt was the adopted son, then Florence was Mrs. Anderson when she marr. John "Clyde" Davidson.

1940 census, Kings Co. NY, John Davidon, 46 yrs b. NY, ca 1894, head, married, Lefferts Ave., rented at $55 mo, also resided in B'klyn in 1935, house 4, Highest grade College., employed; worked 52 wks in 1939, Engineer, wife Florence, get more..

next listing, house 5, Robert F. Anderson, 18 yrs, b. ca i922, student, single, 4th yr High School, mother Lila Anderson, 47, b. 1893, Ireland, naturalized, 8th grade elementary, sister Lillian Johanson, married, 44 yrs, ca 1898, NY, 8th grade elementary, none working. Notes info from nephew John Howard. Clyde had no issue.

John C. Davidson, SS 082 01 1124, issued CA, b. 18 Sept 1893 N.Y., died 23 Dec. 1974, Los Angeles, CA, his mother's maiden name was not listed. f Found in CA death Index at anc.com

Note that Homer Baker was b. June 8, 1893 in B'flo, NY. Clyde and sister Irene Davidson were first cousins to Homer, their mothers being Nellie Louisa Collins and Edith W. Collins.

According to a letter to Jackie (Baker) Humphrey on 5 April 1975, from Clyde's sister, Maud "Irene" (Davidson) Howard, "her brother Clyde died ten days before Xmas.

"Clyde had a heart attack on way home from Xmas shopping. He was 81 yrs old and still employed. His contract had just been renewed for another year, on his own terms for a four hour day, which was remarkable with so many younger space scientists looking for jobs".

Irene said that Clyde's wife Florence had a previous husb. and an adopted son, who did not have issue, either.

I cannot identify Clyde's wf Florence, who died before 1974, in SSDI or CA Death Index.

One Florence D. Davidson, 6 May 1898 NY-29 May 1961, Los Angeles. Her mother's maiden name was Eitel.

One Florence Rose Davidson, Feb 1907 IL-8 Nov. 1955, Los Angeles, mother maiden was Castelbaum.

One Floecie, b. 12 May 1893, d Apr 1966, Montebello Los Angeles Co CA, SS issued CA 566 12 2255.

Another Florence. 8 Mar 1898-Aug 1969, SS issued Indiana, died El Dorado Co CA. towns listed were Cameron Pk, Latribe and Shingle Springs.

1910 census Clyde Davidson was 16 yrs living with parents in B'klyn.

1920 census, Clyde in B'klyn with parents, age 26 yrs., single, LT in Aviation service, (post WW I.).

Also listed 1920 census, John C. Davidson, b. ca 1894 NY, Mitchell Field, Nassau NY

1930, April 4 census, B'klyn, Kings, NY, E.D. 833, or E.D. 30, Sheet 4A, p. 166, stamped, 142 Lefferts Ave.

142.71.71, widow I. G. Anderson, Head, owns home valued at 18K, 72 yrs, b. NY, both parents b. Germany, no occup.

(This was Isabella G. She may have died in Dec 1934. She was mother of Mrs. J. Clyde Davidson of 142 Lefferts Ave, Mrs. Benjamin J. Cooke and Mrs. Edwin A. Hughes and Harry Anderson). See B'klyn Eagle issue of Dec 15 1934).

1930 census continued, 142 lefferts Ave. Was this an apt house?

142.71.96. John Davidson, 37 yrs, b. B'klyn, N.Y., (ca 1893), father b. Halifax, Nova Scotia, mother b. N.Y., Electrical Engineer, served in W.W, married first at 28 yrs, ca 1921, wife Florence, 31 yrs, b. Brooklyn, (ca 1899), father b. B'klyn, mother b. N.Y., homemaker. Sister-in-law Lida Anderson, 37 (or 51) yrs, b. ca 1893 or 1881, Ire. x3, no occup. son Robert Anderson, 8 yrs, b. N.Y., father b. B'klyn, mother b. Ire., attending school.

next listing 144.72.72.

The way this is listed, it would appear that Lida was mother of Robert, yet Irene said that Florence adopted a son when she was in a previous marriage. if Robt was the adopted son, then Florence was Mrs. Anderson when she marr. John "Clyde" Davidson.

1940 census, Kings Co. NY, John Davidon, 46 yrs b. NY, ca 1894, head, married, Lefferts Ave., rented at $55 mo, also resided in B'klyn in 1935, house 4, Highest grade College., employed; worked 52 wks in 1939, Engineer, wife Florence, get more..

Dear Jackie:

I arrived home several days ago to find your most welcome letter and manuscript. You did a masterful job, I really enjoyed reading it! Even with my disabilities, which are nothing compared to yours, I doubt if I would ever have been able to finish it.

My cousin James came for a weekend before I went to Virginia. We talked about our book and he said as he left he was going home and start writing. I have not heard from him since I got back. He was supposed to come back school starts and show me what he has written. We will try to correct some erros that have been handed down for more than a hundred years. We will leave to the next generation to correct ours!

I did not have much opportunity for research while in Virginia. I did go to the library a couple of times but could only stay a couple of hours. My daughter-in-law had started a new career in real estate; her hours were flexible but she had appointments to keep and I didn't want to interfere with her schedule. I babysat a great deal and I havn't rested up yet. I have 7-8 letter to answer so I started with yours first. As you can tell, I am still having trouble with this typewriter. I am about ready to give up on it. My eyesight gets slowly worse so I have about convinced myself to have the cataract surgery. I am fining it dificult to do the things I do.

I imagine Lucille and husband are having a wonderful time in Washington. I wish they had been there when I was, maybe we might have arranged a meeting.

Thanks again for the amnuscript. Take care of yourself.

Fondly, Thelma

Dear Mr. Knowles,

I sent my query in to Herald American several months ago. Since that time I have found much information in searching and one person that answered my query is doing paid research for me in the Syracuse Area. Thank you for taking the time to send the info. Most corroborates what I have gathered and there are bits of new info. Some of your references are new to me. It appears that I have in info that you do not have. I will send some group sheets. We are double cousins, 4th cousins on Peck side and 5th cousins on McCracken side. Now, I hope that I "make your Day".

I was born in 1925, in B'klyn, NY. I lived in Central NY, Northern NY and Western NY. I have been in Fl. for 3 yrs. I, too, am medically disabled. I am a widow (11 yrs), former nurse. In 1981 I had a brain tumor. Surgery left me in constant pain. I cannot hold my head up for more than 1/2 hr without support of a brace or collar. It's a long story. My son lives nearby. I turned to Genealogy a couple of years ago to keep from being lonely. I spend most of my time at it and I guess I am trying to track too many families because it is becoming overwhelming. I am in a sea of paperwork. I've been trying to do my husband's family, also.

The Peck family goes back to William Peck of New Haven, Ct. Elihu's father is Enos Sr. according to the Peck Gen'y and later generations keep the Enos first name so I am 95% certain it is correct. Who, then, is Enoch. It may be an error for Enos, which would fit nicely. Enos Jr. was also in Cato. As Enos Sr was 54 yrs of age in 1806, it was probably Enos, Jr. that cleared all the land unless he hired it done. Both Enos Sr & Enos Jr had brothers named Peter. Both of these Peters married. I have no record of an Enoch.

You list lot # on your group sheets. Are those cemetery lots or building lots? I have Martha Peck m. to Cornell, you have Patty. I have Wf 2 for Philo Peck - _____ Dewey. I have a 12th ch for Elihu named Eunice.

Ruana (Razny) Farnham is Furman on your records. I saw that name on an old copy of cemetery record from 1932. A newer copy shows Farnham. I don't know which is correct, but I am very frustrated in not finding her line. You must have had access to the NY State census which came mid decade, as you quote 1855 census. Where did you find that? I am very anxious to do some NYC research with State census, not federal. The only place I think it exists for the public is in NYC library, and I cannot go there.

I am interested in the Baker family of Camillus, and the Larkin or Larkin family. I have the Hinsdale Genealogy.

I understand that the Syracuse Lib. is great on Gen'y. Wish I could get there. I was in Buffalo in May for a medieval app't but felt it would be too expensive to go to Syr. and stay in hotel. The Maxwell library sounds intriguing. It was named after Mary Maxwell, a McCracken cousin who wrote Among The hills Of Camillus in 1952. She is deceased but the book has been reprinted. I have just purchased copies at $10 each. It has a whole page and 1/2 on McCracken.

July 11, 1990

Dear Jackie,

I hope this finds you quite well. I am trying to save you eyesight by using this old second hand typewriter. It should be a great improvement over my scrawlings.

On June 30, I met with a small disaster, which may put my genealogical gleanings on hold after a bit. There is enough to keep me busy for a while, but after about two months it may be slim pickins. In an effort to dodge the sprinkler in my yard, I leapt onto my right foot upon our wooden walkway, slipped and twisted my leg under me and broke my ankle. Naturally, and true to my style, it wasn't an ordinary fracture, but required a screw to be inserted to hold the works together. Now I shall be in a cast on my good foot for three months. Can't walk on it.

But to the point. I just received the best news. I finally sent to the National Archives for Abner Tuttle's 1812 pension application. He was in only 37 days and received no pension, poor baby, but he left me just what I needed. In his papers he stated that he was married to Sarah McCracken at Camillis, Onondaga Co., N.Y. on or about the first of June, 1817. So now it is confirmed. Roll the presses. I kissed the copy.

Mrs. Richardson wrote me another note, saying that she had heard from you. She also said that she is trying to get the information that was left out of "Among the Hills" as there is a lot more about the family. She is willing to share it with me. I'm so glad that I found the two of you.

Well that's about all the news on this end.

Love,
Barbara Petty
